GENERAL PREFACE

Christian Reader.

THE end of teaching is to cause others to learn, and to learn, is to know things to be what they are. Now of things to be known, words are notes or marks, leading the mind to the comprehension of the things. It cannot be then but a great hinderance to the understanding of things, when words which betoken and signific things are not understood, and a great furtherance when they be understood. Wherefore as it is necessary in Grammar Schools, that Children which learn French, Latine, or Greek, have their Dictionaries and Lexicons allowed them, to interpret such hard and strange words, by knowledg whereof things to be learned become more easie; and their tabors which have composed such Books, are much to be commended: So I have wondred, that of so many worthy, learned, and godly Divines, which are as willing for the love to the good of the Church, as able for their sufficiency of gifts, not one, no not one (that I know) have attempted to provide our Christian Scholar such a Christian Dictionary of words, as contain the secrets of our heavenly profession and Art. Many have framed and set forth Primers and A. B. Cs. for beginners: I mean Catechisms, to enter them into the knowledge of God: but not any ( as yet ) have set to their hands, to interpret in our Mother-tongue ( in Alphabet order ) the chief words of our Science; which being very hard and darksome, sound in the ears of our weak Scholars as Latine or Greek words, as indeed many of them are derived from these Languages: and this I have esteemed as no small let to hinder the profiting in knowledg of holy Scriptures among st the vulgar; because when in their reading or hearing Scriptures, they meet with fuch principal words as carry with them the marrow and pith of our holy Religion. they stick at them, as at an unknown language. Matthias Flaccius Illyricus ( whom I did not look upon, nor upon Enchiridion Marlorati, until I had wel-nigh done this work ) hath worthily performed this in Latin, by whose help it is easie for a Divine to do some such work in English: I, the unmeetest and unworthiest of all my Brethren, not one of a thousand, but the meanest of ten thousand, have attempted this enterprise, and performed a poor something, sufficient only, to give the more learned some occasion to do some more exact thing in this kind. Therefore for their better encouragement thus to do (besides the breach of the Ice unto them) I have briefly set down before them the great and manifold profits that would arise out of such a work, being substantially done. First of all, thy self being a Minister of the Word, it will bring thee this fruit, that thou shalt teach with more facility, having ready and at hand, the true and right definition of things. Second the distinguishing of words of divers acceptations. lying always by thee, will ease thee of some labour in searching, when thou art enforced by occasion of the Text, to interpret such words. Thirdly, the people committed to thy charge, being by means of such a Book well acquainted with the chief words which contain any Dostrine, thou shalt not need in the course of thy Teaching, to be always troubled with the opening of fuch words; but prefuming upon their knowledge, mayest the more insist and dwell in the pressing and urging the dostrine and practice of the things so well understood before. Now as touching the hearers, their growth and proceeding in Christianity will be greater and more speedy, by the help of such a Dictionary; which having given light unto them, to know the principal words of their Art, the matter of Doctrine contained in these words, and raised out of them, will be sooner perceived, and take better impression. Again, the right distinguishing of things, the one from the other, when the nature and due bounds of every word is declared, would prove some prefervative against errors and heresie, which commonly arise upon the ignorance of things, while they are shuffled confusedly together, one thing being taken for another; or something being taken to be that it is not. I could shew this in sundry particulars, one in stead of all: [Justification] this word not rightly understood, what errors hath it bred? whilst some take it to be the making of our selves just, by infusion of grace in the hearts of the elect. Others, to be nothing else but a making of our actions to become just and holy; whereas it is an absolution of a Sinner from his guiltiness, and pronouncing him righteous before God, when he believes in his Son Christ Jesus. Lastly, it will provoke Christians more willingly to read the Scriptures, when they have at hand a Dictionary, to declare and expound such words as they understand not. For, as men adventure to crack that Nut, whose kernel by cracking is to be obtained; so the Christian is much moved to read, when he hath as it were a (racker to get him the kernel: that is, a Dictionary to give him the sense of the words which he reads. To conclude, it may prevent scruples, which may arise in some consciences, through ignorance of words, and their true and fit meanings.

Now a few advertisements will be requisite to be added unto this my simple endeavour. First, my care was to put in no words but such as were material. and of some moment and use. Secondly, if either I have left out some material words, or not given all the fignifications of those whereof I have made choice, or given more than they have, or not fet down the significations in order, so precisely as should be; let these faults (if any such be) be pardoned by thee, till they be supplyed by some more sufficient: for whom (as I have said) I do herein but break the Ice. Yet hereof I would have them take knowledge, that such significations as I give, I find them in the Word, but if any word have other or more, it is more than I find. Thirdly, I would have none to think that my meaning were to give an exact definition of every thing ( let him be thought very happy and wife that can do this ) but some true and familiar explanation or description of words, to make things that be obscure to become somewhat plainer to the ignorant. Fourthly, these explanations which I do give, may differ in terms from such explanations, as ye shall find in other mens writings of the same words. But I verily trust, that you shall find for the most part, an agreement in substance of truth. Moreover, in citing Scriptures, I have sometimes noted such places wherein the word which I do interpret is only named; sometime the place where the interpretation is found with the word, and some places which only have the interpetation,

The General Preface.

and not the word. I cite few places, because a light given to a word in one place, will clear other places, where that word is used in the same sense which the advised Reader shall discern by the circumstance of the place. Besides, I have put some Ecclesiastical words, which be not found in Scripture, in so many Sacrament ] &c. Again, sometime ye shall find the word, and sometime the thing, and sometime both opened. Finally, my request is, that no Minister do by this Book hinder his own fearthing, it being intended to be a mean rather to whet his diligence to fearch more narrowly: nor any Hearer use it to contention, but to edification. not for matter of idle dispute, but for needful direction. And if I be longer in the explanation of some words, than the nature of a Dictionary will bear, or do open some words, which (to some) may seem needless: impute it either unto the weightiness of the things, which being dark and important, need opening, or unto the dulness of common capacities, which see little in Divine matters; or if ye will, to want of dexterity in my self, who have been but of late acquainted with this Trade. Thus intreating thee (Courteous Reader) to have consideration of my weakness, and of the newness and strangeness of the work, favourably to pardon wants, which in such a Forest of words and things, cannot but be many, I commend thee unto the merciful goodness and protection of the Almighy.

Thine to do thee good,

Tho. Wilson.

To the Christian Reader, studious of the Scriptures.

Hou art much bound to bless God for the great plenty and abundance of excellent Books, which by the hands of his painful and godly Servants he hath afforded thee, as helps and furtherances to bring thee to the found knowledge, and right understanding of his sacred Word. But among them all (in my judgment) there is none in our Native tongue, that doth more oblige thee to true thankfulness, than the Book thou now beholdest, in regard of the great necessity, and manifold use of the same; as also the exceeding rich profit and benefit, which by Gods bleffing (if thou make the right use of it) thou mayest reap thereby. For befide the multiplicity and great variety of wholesome matter. which thou shalt find scattered through the whole Work, here thou hast most of the dark words and phrases contained in the Scripture, in Alphabetical order, plainly, briefly (yet fully ) and foundly unfolded; and in most places, the corrupt gloffes of the Papilts upon them, compendiously discovered and confuted. Here thou mayest at one view see the divers Acceptations and Significations of Word, with the Figures and Tropes denoted, in which the Scripture useth them. By this Book thou shalt be made able to distinguish of Words, which in Scripture are ambiguous, to explain Words and Phrases obscure, and easily to understand such as be hard and unknown. By this Book, if thou be a Minister, thou shalt become Bonus Textuarius (for what is that but to be able to give the true meaning and genuine sense of the Scripture?) and Bonus Textuarius est Bonus Theologus. This Book will make thee a more profitable Teacher: for qui benè distinguit, benè docet. By this Book (whosoever thou be) thou shalt be fortified to shield thy self, and haply others too, from error; As also see when others do err, aud to draw them out of error, for error springs from ignorance, that is, from misunderstanding the Scripture, Matt. 22.29. By this thou shalt be made skilful to discern the voice of thy Shepheard Christ Jesus, from the voice of a stranger, John 10. 3, 5. In a word, by this Book in short space, and with no great labour, thou mayest plentifully abound in all heavenly wisdom and knowledge. So that, as one says of Cicero, Sciat se multum profecisse, cui Cicero unice placet; In like manner it may more truly be affirmed of this Book, who oever he be that delighteth much in it, shall thereby gain infinite benefit. The Author hath been pleased to entitle this Book, A Christian Distinuty; and so it is, sorit interprets words. But it may also be worthily called, The Key of the Treasures hid in holy Scriptures, The Enemy of Ignorance, The high and ready path to Knowledge, The Discloser of Gods holy Secrets, A Light for Ministers, whereat they may borrow light; A Lanthorn for the people to direct them in the light: And to be short, the way to make all the Lords people to prophefie, as Moses wished. Then Gentle Reader be not without it, let it be continually by thee; yet buy it not for novelty, because it is the first of this kind that ever saw the light, but for the unvaluable worth of it. Sit tibi charus, non quia rarus, sed amatus, quod amabilis; i. amari dignus. Seneca saith, nova, quamvis non magna, miramur: That we make much of new things, though they be not great. Lo, in this Book they both meet together, here is newness, and here is goodness. This work is new, and it is precious, how then should it not much inamour thee?

Omne tulit punctum, qui miscuit utile dulci.

An Epiftle to the Reader.

HE Holy Scriptures are the inditement and invention of the Holy Ghost, and therefore full of infinite wisdom and eloquence, even the wisdom and eloquence of God. They contain (as one saith) Cor & animam Dei, the Gregor. Mag-very Heart and (as it were) the Soul of God. They are the Saints coun-nus. fellers and comforters in the house of their pilgrimage. And therefore it is not only our duty to read them, but our great priviledge and unspeakable happiness that we have them to read. No man ever drank too much of this water of life, or fed too much of this bread of life. Better want the light of the Sun, than the light of the holy

But yet it cannot be denyed, but that there are many who, spider-like suck, the poyson of fin and error out of these sweet and precious slowers. There are many that are unlearned and unstable, who (as the Apostle saith) wrest the Scriptures unto their 2 Pet. 3. 16. own destruction. But this must not dissipade nor discourage us from reading and searching into them. The Bee must not refuse to suck sweetness out of a slower, because a Spider sucks poyson out of it. Non debet Ovis pellem suam deponere, quia Lupus ea se aliquando contegit: We must not cease from reading the Scriptures to our own Salvation, because some Men abuse them to their own Destruction. We read that the Devil brings Scripture against Christ, and yet for all that Christ brings Scripture against him. Christ did not resuse to use it, because the Devil abused it, but he con- Mat. 4.6 futes him with his own weapon. The reading of the Scriptures is not a cause of error, but rather the not reading of them, as Christ expressy saith, Mark 12. 24. Christ doth not say (as the Papist) Ye erre because you know the Scriptures; But, You erre not knowing the Scriptures. The light cannot cause darkness, but the absence of light. The rule doth not make the work go wrong, but the want of it. The armor doth not cause a wound, but the absence of it. Now the Scriptures are the Christian mans Rule, Light, and Spiritual Armour. The Law of God makes simple men wise, Psalm 19. 7. not wise men simple. It is a soul-murdering practice of the Papists, to deny the reading of the Scriptures to common people, because some sometimes abuse them. By this Argument they must also keep learned men from reading them, because many of them do sometimes wrest them to their own destruction. Most of the herestes that have been in the Church, have come in by learned men rather than by ignorant men. Things that are of necessary use, the ill using of them must not take away the right using of them, but quicken us to use them rightly. We must not forbear eating and drinking because some abuse their meat to gluttony, and drink to drunkenness; But we must labour to eat and drink with sobriety and temperance. We must not resuse to read the Scriptures (which are more necessary than our appointed Job 13. 120 food ) because some abuse them, but we must therefore labour to read them with an humble and self-denying heart, with Prayer to God that made them, that he would reveal to us the meaning of them, with a Gospel fear and trembling, lest we should wrack and torture them, and make them speak what they never meant; And also we must thankfully and diligently make use of all those helps which God hath afforded us for the right understanding of them.

Of which fort there are many in Latin, none that I know in English of this nature, but this ensuing Treatise. A Book of singular usefulness for all Ministers of the Gospel, Masters of Families, and private Christians. I may very well call it, A Key of the Bible, because it unlocks to us the rich Treasury of the Holy Scriptures: A Divine Dictionary, teaching us the language of the Holy Ghost in our own native tongue, and expounding to us the most obscure and difficult Phrases and Words of the Holy Scriptures. The former Book was so acceptable unto the Church of Christ, that it was five times Printed. But this will be far more useful and beneficial, because it doth not only contain what was in the former Editions, but adds, (to make it a Complete Christian Dictionary)

An

I. The several acceptations and significations of above four thousand words and phrases.

II. All the proper names of the Scripture, with their interpretation.

III. Several words and phrases more fully explained.

IV. Divers Readings. V. The nature of the Birds, Beafts, Fistes, Precious stones, Trees, Herbs.

Seeds, &c. mentioned in the Holy Scriptures.

The perfecting of this Workcoft (no doubt) the Reverend Minister, the Enlarger and Completer thereof, much time and pains. It is very well worthy the publick view. Let me heartily commend it (Christian Reader) to thy diligent perusal; and the rather. because thereby thou shalt come to know the meaning of those Books which will make thee wife unto Salvation.

Your Servant in the work of the Ministry.

To the Reader.

Arguments commending Gods Word. Zanch. de Sac What Arguments might not be alledged in commendation hereof?

Is Antiquity of force? It was for the substance thereof, from the beginning of the world, first 1. Antiquity. inspired and revealed to Adam, and many other Fathers, and then unto Moses the first Pen-man thereof, who wrote what was before Lyespov. Whatfoever Orpheus, Homer, Solon, Pythagoras, Scrip. Quaft. 4. Plato, and other Grecians, Philosophers, Poets, Historians, have left in record concerning God and divine things, they took all out of the Books of Mofes, yet not without adding and interlacing their own inventions.

2. Authority. 2 Pet. 1. 21. Pfalm 19.7. Ifa. 30. 2. Luke 11. 49.

Is Authority? It's not only in respect of it self αξίοπις @, deferving all credit and respect, but for Idem Quest. 3. that God is the immediate Author, Seónveus . All Scripture (faith the Apostle Paul) is given by inspiration of God; for the prophesie came not in old time (or at any time) by the will of man, (saith the Apossile Peter) but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the boly Ghost. Hence it is termed bit Law, his mouth, his wisdom. If the Heathen Cretians, Romans, Lacedemonians, accepted, received, obeyed the Laws proposed unto them, as injoyned by Jupiter, the Nymph Ægeria, Apollo, as was Valer lib. 16.3. preended; If Pythagoras his Scholars did to highly respect and admire him that his of 16.5 coo, he Plut in Lyung. The find it, was unto them as a Law; And if the followers of Aristotle, Galen, Paracelsus, &c. Ersim adag. Teadily yield unto their Opinions, Dictates, Conclusions, Determinations; in what esteem should the holy Scriptures be with Christians? Again, Thus faith the Lord, This is the Word of the Lord; Thus and thus is it written by Mofes, David, Solomon, the Prophets, Evangelifts, Apostles, there must be no contradiction.

Tohn 5.39.

Is Necessity? Unless thy Law had been my delights (faith David) I should then have perished in mine affliction. Where there is no Vision (is there any other now?) the people perift, faith Solomon. To the Law, and to the Testimony, saith Isaiah. Search the Scriptures, saith our Saviour. It was needful forme (faith the Apossle Jude) to write unto you, and exhort you, that ye should earnestly contend for the Faith, which was once delivered to the Saints. The Book of the Lam (faith the Lord unto foshua) shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mailt observe to do according to all that is written therein. That was a fad time, wherein for a long feafon Ifrael 2 Chron 15-3. was without the true God, and without a teaching Prieft, and without Law. Oh what a famine, the Amos 8, 11. famine of the Word is!

4. Perfection. Palm 19- 7-Rev. 22. 18. Frov. 30.6.

Is Perfection? The Law of the Lord is perfect, from which, as there is nothing to be taken away, we thereunto is nothing to be added. Herein there is no error, falshood, imperfection, contradiction. Herein nothing that needs to be repealed, because of some inconvenience, unnecessariness; or added, by reason of any defect. It teacheth not some things only, but all things necessary to be known of God, or our felves, for faith or obedience unto falvation. Is any delighted with Hiftory, Poetry, Prophefies, Parables? Any with Arithmetick, Mufick, Logick, Rhetorick? Any with Attronomy, Aftrology, Chronology, Geography? Any with Natural or Moral Philosophy? with matters of Peace or War, &c. Here is matter for each of them, even the greatest Scholars, how excellently foever qualified for learning, may here find enough (haply in one word, or short sentence) wherein to exercise themselves, and the utmost that is in them.

. Purity.

Is Purity? As the Scripture requireth that neither filthiness, nor fooligh talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient, should be once named amongst us; so there is neither word nor phrase therein which justly can offend any chast ear. Let these few instances be as so many witnesses. And Adam knew 17.11.8.45.4. his Wife. Te shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin. Thou wentest up to thy Fathers bed, then Pial. 50.1. Little defiledst thou it. Saul went in to cover his feet. After be had gone in to Bathsheba. Let the Husband 1 Cor. 7.3. render unto the Wife due benevolence, and likewise also the Wife unto the Husband.

6.Infallibility.

Heb. 10. 23.

Is Certainty, Infallibility, Faithfulness, Truth? Such are the holy Scriptures, such the Word of the Lord, most certain, infallible, faithful, true. The judgments of the Lord are true, saith the Plal. 119.160: Pfalmist. And, Thy Word is true from the beginning. Thy Word is Truth, faith our Saviour. The John 17-17. Word of truth, faith the Apossle: The Scripture must be fulfilled. God is not a man that he should 2 Tim. 2. 15. Vora of truth, fatth the Apolite: The Scripture matt be stathed. Cota is not a man that he froken, Mark 14.49. lie, neither the Son of man, that he should repent: hath he faid, and shall be not do it? or hath he spoken, Numb. 23.19, and shall not be make it good? Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away, Mat. 24. 35. faith our Saviour. As all the promifes of God are in Christ Jesus, yea, and in him, Amen, so are also his threatnings. As he is faithful that premised, so is he also having threatned. Both have been, are daily, and shall be accomplished, according to the Scriptures.

Is Perspicuity? The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightning the eyes, saith David. And in Plat. 19-7, 8. the foregoing verse, The testimony of the Lord is fure, making wife the simple. And, Thy Word is Pfal. 119.108, a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. And, The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth understanding unto the simple. Accordingly Solomon, The commandment is a lamp, and the Law is light, and retroofs of instruction are the way of life. Accordingly the Apostle Peter, we have a more fure word of Prophesie, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark

Not the greatest Swearer, Drunkard, Adulterer; not the oldest Oppressor, Extortioner, Persecutor; not the siercest Lion, proudest Peacock, subtless Fox; not the most Covetous, Licentious, Rebellious, Injurious, Malicious, Envious, Ambitious, Superstitious, Idolatrous, &c. whose bard hearts this Hammar cannot foften, whose corruptions this Az cannot pare away. Not the most dejected, whom it cannot raise up; the most sorrowful. whom it cannot comfort; the most doubtful whom it cannot confirm; the most weary and laden with fin, whom it cannot ease by sending them to Christ.

Is Utility? This containeth the form of found words. Is profitable for Doctrine, for Reproof, for 9. Utility. By it we are delivered from the bondage of fin. If ye continue in my word John 8. 313 (faith our Saviour) ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. This maketh happy. Plain Bleffed is the mun that meditateth in the Law of the Lord day and night. This is a word of illumination. & and night. A word of reconciliation. A word of life. The instrument begetting faith; for faith cometh by 2 Cor. 5. 19. Phill 2. 16. bearing, and bearing by the Word of God. A word of Salvation; for the Gospel of Christ is the power of Rom. 10. 17 God unto salvation, to every one that believeth. Receive with meeknes's (saith the Apostle James ) the Room. 1. 16. 17 ingraffed Word, which is able to fave your fouls. This containeth in it (faith one) floren delibatum, Jam. 1.22. the flower and very quintessence of foul-saving wisdom; that we may say of it as the Philosopher formetime spake concerning the knowledge of the soul of man; A small and dim knowledge of it, is ment to the to be valued far above a greater measure of clearer infight in any other science. For the inspired Scripture Reader, preis the infallible rule of faith, the unmovable ground of hope, the perfect guide of life, the fouls fixed to Nine store-house of provision, the spiritual Arsenal of munition, the sacred suel of devotion, the divine man's Conc. Subject of contemplation, the everlasting spring of celestial consolation. All that is there taught is Quicquid ibi Truth; All that's there commanded is Goodness; All that's there promised, is Happiness. This is to docetur, est vethe blind, a light; to them that wander, a guide; to them that are in distress, a comfort; to them ritas; aliquid that doubt, a counsellor; to the unlearned, a Teacher. This is the only seed whereby we are be-precipitar, gotten, the only balm whereby we are refreshed. As the Sun to the World, so is the Word to quid promittithe Church, the light of our lives, and life of our fauls. But for this, we could not but continue in tur, falletter. our unregenerate condition, live mider the power of darkness, be dead in trespasses of fins, live mithout See Eph. 2. 1, Christ, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenant of promise, baving no hope, and without God in the world. This is bread to feed us, drink to quench our thirst, fire to purge us, oyl to soften us, a staffe to uphold us, a treasure to enrich us, a lanthorn to direct us, a guide to conduct us, a weapon to defend us, salt to season us, flaggons of wine and apples to comfort us, a key to direct us to Chrift, and a rule according to which we are to walk, the treasury of all happiness; meat for men, milk for babes. By it there is no error in judgement, which may not be confuted; no corruption in life, which may not be redreffed; whereby as all found Doctrine may be proved, and good Duties warranted, all of us are directed in the performance of the same.

Finally the All-feeing, ever watchful, and most gracious Providence of God, in the preservation and continuance of the boly Scriptures, in their original integrity and purity, notwithstanding all opposition to the contrary, is no small ground for their commendation. It's well known that the Old Testament was first (for the most part) written in Hebrew, as the New Testament in Greek: And that the Jens on the one part, and not a few of the most learned Grecians on the other, were bitter enemies both unto Christians and Christianity; continuing and preserving yet hath it not been found, that either phrase, word, letter, or so much as one point, hath been by them deprayed, corrupted. Even yet we have the same Authentick Avabick terms; in Eva cerScriptures, as they were at first inspired by the Holy Ghost. By their without Tradition; but Tradition can stand without Scripture. Answerable unto their Doctrines are mangling the their Practifes, nor is their enmity less conspicuous by these than by those. They mangle the Scriptures. Scriptures (Satan-like) in their quoting them, by leaving our some words which make against Mat. 4.6.comp. them. Thus Cardinal Hoses, and Bilhop Canus, in way of proving that we may believe in Saints, Greefer, Defend alledge the words of Paul to Philemon (Phil. 4.5.) Gratias ago Deo meo audiens fidem, quam habes in Bellar. fol. 181. Domino nostro, & in omnes Sanctos: I give thanks to my God, hearing of the Faith which thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and in all Saints; leaving out the word charitatem, love, or charity. Thus Cardinal Bellarmine, to prove that inherent righteousness is the formal cause of our justification, alledgeth these as the word of St. Paul, Tit. 3. 5. Cum apparuit benignitas, & bumanitas Salvatoris nostri Dei, non ex operibus qua fecimus nos, sed secundum suam misericordiam salvos nos fecit, &c. When the bountifulness and love of God our Saviour appeared, not by the works which we had done, but according to his mercy he faved us, &c. Yet the Apostle faith not barely, not by the works which we had done, but not by the works lof righteoufness which we had done. So that the Cardinal unrighteoufly leaves out the word righteoufness. They mingle them by adding some words of their them. own, which are not in the Text. Thus Bernaltus a Priest of Constance, writing in defence of Mr. cook his Gregory the Seventh his prohibition of Priests Marriage, affirms that St. Peter commanded even the Yet more work Laity (I Pet-3.7.) ut parcant uxoribus suis, they should forbear companying with their Wifes, lest for a Mals-Priest, p. 36. their prayers should be interrupted: whereas in St. Peter there are no such words, as ut parcant Full's Answer uxoribus, they should forbear companying with their Wives. Thus Bishop Gardiner to prove the to Martin's nxoribus, they include to the words of Plalm 11.5. Escam se dedit timentibus eum, He gave Preface in the Carnal Presence, alledgeth these as the words of Plalm 11.5. Escam se dedit timentibus eum, He gave Preface in the himself for meat to them that seared him; adding of himself se, himself to the Text. They both Desence of himself search and the search of the result of the search of the sea mangle and mingle, taking away forme word or words in the Text, and placing forme of their own Numb. 4. 1. in the room. Thus Cardinal Hofius to prove Satisfaction, alledgeth theleas the words of St. Paul, 4. By both Rom. 6. Exhibeamus membra nostra servire justitia, in satisfactione, Let us exhibit our members to mangling and from 6. Explorer man memora not respect to the family supported by the family support of the fame point, alledgeth these as mingling. ferve justice unto satisfaction. And Dr. Harding for proof of the same point, alledgeth these as Mr. Cook in his the words of St. Paul, 2 Cor. 7. 1. Let us cleanse our selves from all filthiness of the flesh and Spirit, fore-mentiomaking perfect our Satisfaction in the fear of God. Both of them putting the word Satisfaction in place ned Book, p. of the word fanctification, used by the Apostle. Thus Bellarmine in way of proving Purgatory out 34, 35. of Ifa. 4.4. changeth the words abluerit, laverit, and ardoris, which are in the Vulgar Latine, into 1bid. p. 37. purgabit, emendabit, and combustionis, those not suiting so well with fire (which the Papists maintain purgabit, emendabit, and combustions, those not initing to well with fire (which the raphts maintain to be found in Purgatory) as these do. That those errors and herefies have been by the Orthodox and learned throughout all ages de-Bell. 6. 11. tected, discovered, and the light of the truth (which their wicked authors and broachers have every way endeavoured to obscure and extinguish) recovered, is no small demonstration of Gods love and care of his people, nor can we express too much thankfulness for the same.

Whence those and the like strange Doctrines, Errors, Heresies, Blasphemies (which have been (and yet are) held, upheld, vented, taught, believed, entertained) have had, have their original, is questionable. Finally, if we are not unthankful to God for the measure of knowledg which he hath already bestowed upon us, and do not pray unto God for the continuance and increase thereof in the understanding of the Scriptures, it is no wonder that the Scriptures both feem and are indeed obscure unto us.

is now in this Edition more fully and largely, by a fixfold Addition, viz.

1. Of above four thousand Words, with their several Acceptations, all wanting in the former Editions: For the Words, I extracted them for the most part out of Newman's Concordance, and what I found not therein, out of the Bible it felf, as Altashith, Maschil, Neginoth, Nebiloth, &c. And for the Acceptations, they are taken out of Aynfworth, the Annotations on the Bible, Bernard's The-Saurus Biblicus, Dr. Hammond's Annotations on the New Testament, Leigh's Critica Sacro, Ravanellus his Bibliotheca Sacra, and divers others; of whom I conceived that I might as well make use, as they have of former Writers, especially Ravanellus of Wigandus, and Flaccius Illyricus, Illuricus, and Mr. Bernard of this Work of Mr. Wilson's, as (if need were) might be instanced in

2. Of many more Acceptations of the same Words which are handled by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bagwell in the former Impressions; for which I also am indebted to the forementioned Authors.

3. Of a great number of bard and difficult Phrases, cleared, and plainly expounded to the capacity and understanding of the meanest Reader: As also Additions unto the Phrases formerly printed, for their further explanation.

4. Of the proper Names of Men, Women, Cities, Countries, Rivers, &c. mentioned lin the holy Scriptures, with their several Interpretations (where also if more were of one Name, all are mentioned) for which I am beholding unto Robert F. Herry his first Alphabet of directions to common places, Buxtorsius his Hebrew Lexicon, Pasor his Etyma Nominum Propriorum, Alstedius his Paratitla Theologica. Chytreus bis Onomasticon Theologicum, with some others.

5. Of the Natures and properties of Such Beasts, Fowls, Fishes, Trees, Plants, Fruits, Herbs, Seeds, Stones. &cc. as are mentioned in the Scriptures; extracted out of Bercorius his Reductorium Morale, Wolf. Franzius his Historria Animalium, &c. Geminanus de Similit. Hieronymus Lauretus his Sylva Allegoriarum, Levinus Lemnius de Plantis Sacris, Moufetus his Theatrum Insectorum, Symsoni Hieroglyphica Animalium Terrestrium, Volatilium, Natatilium, &c. Topsell his History of Four-footed Bealts, with divers others.

6. Of the divers Readings set down in the Margents of the Bibles of the last Translation, every of which I compared with the Text it felf, and finding the same to be of great use, and very helpful for the attaining of the true fense and meaning of the Text, I have hereupon inserted the same. Besides, now and then some words are by other words in other Texts expressed, for the better unfolding of the meaning thereof, as some for the same purpose, backt by significant phrases.

Let not any think that hereby any wrong is or can be done to our worthy Author, any detrihereby done ment or prejudice to this his Work; for whatfoever here is well done will be afcribed unto him as either to the who first laid the foundation; and the Work it self, how useful soever before, will now by such as shall make use of it, be found much more useful. Nor is there any thing of the Authors in the former Impressions, in this willingly either depraved or omitted. Nor let any take exception, that a great number of words are here set down which seem need-Why all Scri-

4. What are plain unto some, are obscure unto others, till explained.

5. Some have been puzled to find out what some such Words meant, what a Nave, a Spoke, a Tenon, a Rudder-band, a Main-sail, &c. whereof the meanest Carpenter, or Mariner can easily give information. If some have been thus puzled, may not others also?

Nor let any be discouraged from making use of this Distionary, if upon the perusal of some of some phrases particular Words, he receive not full satisfaction; for as the Interpretation of such Phrases as are not fet down in particular, may be eafily understood by the Interpretation of the Words whereof they coussift; so the Expositions of many Words are included in the Phrases expounded.

Nor let any complain of the multiplicity and variety of Interpretations which may be found of some words therein, as if one were enough, and so many did but weary and puzle the Reader: For, 1. If those Interpretations be consonant unto the truth, agreeable to the Scriptures, Store is no fore.

2. All Readers are not of one mind, oue approves of this Interpretation, another of that, another of a third.

3. Hereby God's wisdom appears in the various dispensation of his gifts.

2. Many Words are included in others, as be, she, they, them, their, &cc. 3. The meaning of many Words is apparent by the words prefixed or annexed unto them, or both.

Many Words in the Bible are supplyed, not being in the Original, which are therefore printed in a different character.

5. Many Words are alike in fignification, and that being fet down in any one of them, it may suffice to refer the others thereunto; if any thing be set down more than once, it's more than needs, more than was intended.

3. Is knowledge, or the means of knowledge to be confined only unto the learned? Is there no regard to be had unto the simple? Solomon was of another mind in publishing his Proverbs, his was, To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion. Accordingly he Prov. 1. 4. bringeth in Wildom; thus arying unto the fimple, O ye simple understand wildom. And again, Prov. 8. 5. Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither, &c. 4. Though even the Learned may be much helped hereby (if they please) both they who being well stricken in years, find a decay in their memories, and a disability to study, as they who are but Beginners, and have made no great progress in the study of Divinity; yet this was and is principally intended for the benefit of the unlearned (whether Masters of Families, Private Christians, or others) which may be unto them not only a Dictionary for the understanding of every Scripture-word, but a Concordance, a Commentary, a whole Library. As herein the Notions, Expolitions, Interpretations of many learned and worthy Authors are in few words laid open unto the view of all, so hereby there is a remedy provided, as well for such (as want money to buy those Authors (if they could understand them) as for such ( who though they had them, and could understand them, yet ) have little or no time to make use of them; yea, as by this erroneous Judgments may be reformed, so (through Gods bleffing upon the serious and diligent perusal hereof ) errors in judgment may be prevented.

I make no question but that not a few of the surviving brood of the (long since dead Momus, The most ela-Zoilus, will carp, kick, spurn at this Work, condemn, contemn, disgrace, and sleight it, casting of the most thereon what aspersions they can (as they have done on the more elaborate Works of others, learned have excelling in Piety, and most eminent for Learning) but I shall not be much either troubled or been slighted

It's held, that facile est inventis addere, but such as shall undertake the like Work, will find it

And though the Turk be a fore Destroyer, yet in as much as he dissembleth not, but openly blasphemeth Christ, the Pope is a more perilous enemy, as not being perceived, but lurking under coverings. Comper. The Pope hath a name in Hebrew, Abaddon from Numb. 24 The Roman Shall afflict Affur and Eber : and he tendeth to destruction. The whole bent of the Pope is to destruction; his whole policy, and his Mass, his Idols, and his rules of faith. In Greek Apollyon, that is, Destrey, because all his policy tendeth to eternal destruction. Broughton. Abaddon in the Hebrew tongue is a substantive, and is rendred Apollyon, wasting, destroying, where Till is understood. g. d. the spirit of destroying, that is, the destroyer. Pasor. Lexic. Either a. Albba] Father. Thus Chrift expounds it, Mar. 14. 36. and Paul, Rom. 8. 15. To cry Abba, Father: the doubling of the word Faul, Rollis 15. 10 try Appa, Fairer the doubling of the word forming to the Syriach [Abba] the Gr. word  $\pi a | h_0$  ferving to teach, that God is not God of the same Jews only, but of the Gentiles also, and will be called upon in all languages requifring of his people a strong confidence in his fatherly goodness through Christ.

The repetition of the same word (in sense) serveth to stir and express the vehemency which is in servent prayer, Gal. 4.6. Pial. 22.1. My God, my God, Mat. 25.11. Lord, Lord open, &c. See Dan. 9. 19. Also it sheweth the great constancy and assurance of the faithful, that he is their Father indeed.

Hebrew and Syriash words, as Abba, Sabbath, Hosanna, Halle · lujah, &c. and fundry more, are retained, as familiarly known to the Christians, whose faith is derived from the Jews, so the words also. Also note, that these strange words were not used of superstition, as though more holiness were in the words; as Romanists may seem for that end to commend the use of a ' strange tongue in their Service.

This word is only thrice mentioned in the New Testament. and in each place the word Father is added by way of explanation. God fo ftyled by chrift, Mat. 14.36. So by the Faithful, Rom. 8. 15. Gal. 4.6. It's usually the first word that Children speak, and which their Fathers willingly hear. In the Habrew fignifieth Father, IR from TIR, to will, acquisite.

Abba A word implying much tenderness and affection, whereunto Father is joyned, not only to explain it, but also the better to express the eager, earnest, and vehement affection and defire of the faithful in their calling upon God. Annot. on Rom. 8. 15.

Abomination of defolation That which all good men detest and hold accursed, by reason of the shameful and foul filthinels of ir, deferving and bringing defolation. And this is meant (as fome do think) of the Idols which the Romans not long after Christ his ascension, set up in the Temple at Jerusalem, whereupon followed desolation, that is, the laying waste, and downfal of the Temple, City, and Nation of the Jews. This is the Abomination of defolation forespoken by Dan. 9. 27. & 12. 11. and after spoken by Mat. 24. 15. But Mr. Junius (not without great 'appearance of reason) interpreteth [Abomination] of the Army of the Romans, which consistent of abominable men, to wit, Infidels, who brought desolation upon Temple, City and People. A desolation to be executed by abominable men. (See Luk. 21. 20. which expounds Matthew and Mark.)

- "Abam | Either the first man so called, being great parent, root and head of all mankind, deriving into them as his branches 'and members, fin and death, Rom. 5. 12, 13, &c. a body with "life, sense, motion, subject to natural operations and affections, 'I Cor. 15. 45. Or elfe, Christ Jesus, the root, head, and begin-'ning of ail the elect and believers, unto whom he conveyeth in this life, his righteousness by imputation, and his Spirit or Grace by infusion; and in the life to come, perfect glory both to soul and body, which by his quickning spirit he causeth to be spiritual and most glorious, free from all natural infirmities, affections and actions, and filled with immortality and blifs, Rom. 5.14, 15, 6c. 1 Cor. 15. 16, 47.

As in the first Adam mankind was made, so in the latter, Adam ' it was reftored: the Elect come from Christ by regeneration, as as all men from Adam by generation.

The former Adam is called the first Adam, and Christ the last " Adam, because the former was a type of the latter, in the forenamed respects, Rom. 5. 14. so he was formed of clay, touching 'his body, before Christ as concerning the slesh, was born of the · Virgin. Hence is is, that the natural man being before the spi-'titual man, therefore the Saints have first natural bodies in this · life, and afterwards at the refurrection they shall have spiritual ' bodies, full of glory, and whoily ruled and moved by the Spirit, not by the Soul as now they be. For Nature in all things pro-'ceedeth from the less perfect unto the more perfect; but the natural body is more unperfect than is the spiritual, therefore the 'natural body well fitteth this present life, and the spiritual will beseem the future perfection in a life which is heavenly, I Cor.

Air : Heaven, Job 28.21. marg.

· As it fignifieth,

'1. That Element wherein we breath, called the Air, which fpreading it felf over the earth and water, doth compass them in on every fide:

So doth it. '2. The dominion and power of Satan, the (Prince that rules in the Air) upon the which, and namely upon that part of it which is the Kingdom of Antichrift, Almighty God towards the end of the world will pour out a most grievous vengeance, and also an universal wrath, which shall most fearfully strike the whole body of Antichrift, so as he shall not have so much as the air for him to breath in, otherwise then as a creature armed asgainst him for his destruction. Rev. 16.17. And the seventh Angel · poured out his vial into the air.

Into the Air, where Satans throne is, Eph. 2.2. who upheld the Beast and salse prophet all this while, and used his utmost endevour to uphoid them in the last great battel. Annot. The changeable estate of things. Napier. The air is that Element whereby the life of all things, either vegetative, sensitive, or rational is conserved. It is the most absolutely necessary of all the four, or fuch whereof we are least able to endure the want ( take away for a short space the breathing in the Air, and the creature perisheth) yea, therest of the Elements serve not without it (Fire burns not without Air, the Water putrifies and rots without Air, the Earth buds not without Air) fo that here a total and univerfal end of all living creatures is fignified unto us. Comper-The Lord will fend forth fuch a bright and clear knowledg of his Chrift, and Church, and Saints, and holy things, which will prevail so far as to dispel all the mists of darkness in all the world-

On the Air: that is, on the power of the air; or, on Satan. Mede. Hereby Turner the Separatist in his Epistle prefixed unto his Catechifin, understandeth Airy humane learning.

Rev. 9.2. And the Sun and the Air were darkened: As by the Sun, Christ is to be understood; so by the Air, the Church. There is a light that giveth light unto others, as the Sun; and there is a light that receiveth light, a passive light, as the Air. As the air is illuminated by the Sun, fo is the Church by Christ. Comper. Or by the Air we may understand the holy Scriptures, or the Ministery of the Church, as whereby the hearts of the faithful are enlightned. Pareus.

3411 fair The absolute and perfect spiritual beauty of Christ his mystical body the Church, by imputation of his perfect holi-'ness, covering all deformities, and by fanctification of the Spirit, renewing the Church, and every member in all parts of foul and body, though imperfectly, Cant. 4. 7. Thou art all fair, my love.

All fair: A type of the new Church, to which also these things are fpoken. Mercer.

Our holiness now imperfect and mingled with so much corruption shall be made persect, that no spot or wern shall be left in us. S. H. Finch. observes on Solomons Song.

Thou art exceeding beautiful, O my Church, in all the parts of thee, for all thy fins are done away, and thine iniquity is covered. [1]1//.

Christ here advanceth his own work of Justification and Sandification, as a perfect compleat archievement. Regeneration is an entire work of the whole man, and renders him all fair.

Hereby let the godly firiving with their own weakness sustain themselves, for although in this life we are disfigured through manifold evils, and as yet carry about us much uncleanness, yet Christ loveth us, and pronounceth us all fair. Stripel

Whatfoever is in thee is beautiful and lovely in my fight. That this is true of the Church triumphant, is most certain, but how can it be faid of the Church militant, wherein there are bad as well as good, and the good not without their faults and failings? It's not spoken according to that we are of our selves, or according to that which is found in us of our felves, but according to the estimation of his mercy, and that which he worketh in us and for us, according to his good pleasure, having washen us throughly from our fins by his own bloud, whose righteousness is also imputed unto us. Titleman.

From hence, as it feemeth, St. Paul draweth his speech, Eph. 5 24, 25, 26, 27. Such a glorious myfical body is meet to be joyned with fo glorious a head, and if there were any deformity remaining, how could it be united unto him? Giffar 1.

Α

By nature we lie in our bloud, Ezek. 16. 1, 2. There must be a beauty put upon us; we are fair with the beauty we have out of Christs wardrobe. The Church shines in the beams of Christs righteouineis, the is not born thus fair, but new born firer. It is hid fometimes from the Church it felf, who fees only her deformity, and not her beauty; her death, but not her life, is hid, Col. 3.4. Here is a mystery of Religion. The Church is never more fair, than when she judgeth her self to be most deformed. Dr. Sibs on Cant. 5. 9. pag. 301.
This is spoken of the Christian Church which immediately

fprung up after the Resurrection of Christ, and from that time is propagated till this very day. Brightman.

In these words we have a description of the estate of the Church (oon after Chrifts Ascension, gathered and built up by the Ministery of the Apostles, which they call the Apostolick or Primitive Church. The fairness of the Church was acknowledged before, but never till now the perfect fairness. All compleat fairness or beauty standeth in these three things.

1. In the integrity of all the parts and members of the body 2. In the fymmetry or fit proportion of all the members one to

3. In the good complexion or colour of them all. All these are found in this Church in comely proportion.

1. Their Doctrine was free from all error, fo far as it was di spensed by the Apostles, Prophets and Evangelists of that time; and was compleat, even the whole counsel of God, and was dispensed in powerful simplicity.

2. Their worship, wherein the purity of Gods Ordinances without mixture of humane inventions, order, decency, edification of all, aimed at in all the duties administred, frequency and fervency in prayer and fasting.

3. Their Christian Communion, wherein unity one with another, love and large-heartedness one towards another, especially to their Ministers.

4. Their Discipline, where you may see the Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors, and Teachers, teaching, exhorting, ruling, preaching, writing, privately conferring, being good examples; the Deacons providing for the poor; both chosen by the Church, Excommunications dispensed, Synods imposing no other but necessary things either in themselves, or for the present use of the Church. Mr. Cotton on Cant. 4. 7. pag. 114, 115, 116, 117.

All manner of pleasure | To wit, fruits, Cant. 7. 13. al manner of pretious things, or dainties; all manner of delightful graces, all forts and degrees of them, none being wanting, who therefore out of the abundance of her own store could supply the Countrey with all fit helps to her further gathering and cftablishing. All things: I Cor. 12.7. The word mirra, though it be an universal, is not to be taken in the utmost extent, but according to the use of the like phrases in all languages, wherein the universal fign affixt, either to persons, or times, or places, or things, fignifie only a greater number, but not all without exception. So when Pfal. 14. 4. it is faid of the children of men, they are all out of the way, all become abominable; it is manifest that it is not spoken of all men without exception, for verse 8. there is mention of Gods people, and verse 9. of the righteous. So for things. Joh. 14. 6. not absolutely all, but all that were useful to their office, are to be understood. So I Cor. 10. 23. All things are lawful to me, i.e. Many of those things which are unexpedient, or all indifferent things. So Phil. 4. 13. I can do all things, is determined to the things there spoken of, to want, and to abound, &c. and so here the covering, and believing, and boping, and enduring all things, is the concealing and burying in forgetfulness many confiderable injuries, and evils of other men, believing, and boping, and enduring very many things, which they that have not this divine grace of charity will never do. God Almighty, Rom 9. 19. Who hathrefiled his will?

'The Papirts reason soolidly from Gods Almightiness, to prove the real presence of Christs body in the Supper, whereas they should rather prove it his revealed will to have it so, which they can never do. We may affure our selves that God is able to do, and doth whatfoever he is willing to do, but not on the contrary, that he will do whatfoever he can do.

Note further, that if God could do things against his nature, or things contradictory, or against his Word, it would bewray impotency and weakness, not omnipotency and almightiness.

Anathema Maranatha is one accurfed for ever and a day, or eternal execration, 1 Cor. 16.21. If any love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha. Anathema belongs to all obstinate 'scandalous offenders. Anathema Maranatha belongs only to blasphemers of the holy Ghost. Gal. 1.9. Let him be Anathema, accured. Rom. 9. 2. I could wish to be Anathema for my kinfmen, &c.

'Note, that Anathema by use of Scripture, is either that which by separation from profane use, and dedication to God, is become holy and dreadful: or contrariwife, that which is rejected from God, as accurfed and detefted.

'2. A thing separate from common use, and given unto God to ferve for holy uses, as being consecrate thereunto. Luk. 21. 5-6 And with consecrate things, the word is Anathena in the Original and fignifies Donaria, or gifts hanged upon the pillars of the Tem-ple for ornament of the place, and to the honour of God. Rev. 7. 2. I fam another Angel come up from the East. So is another Angel taken; ch. 8. 3. & 10.1. But others do understand that other Angel, ch.7.1. of Constantine the Great, who came out of the East-parts, and succeeded Dioclesian in the Empire. Howbeit, sithence it is Christ alone, who hath the feal to fet upon all the elect; therefore the former fignification is to be received, in mine opinion.

'2. A created spirit, throughly furnished with power, and with light of glory (as the enfign of power) deputed and appointed to this service of ruinating Babylon. Rev. 18.6. I (aw another Angel. This is to be noted through this book, that the Angels, both holy and unclean fpirits, according to the nature of the work to be done, are the administrers and executioners of Gods decree and counsel, both for fafety of his true flock, and for the overthrow of the false Antichristian Church and Turkish conventicles affembled againft Christ.

Rev. 19. 17. And I law an Angel stand in the "Sun. Yet some Divines interpret this of some particular man, which should be a member of some particular Church, brightly flining above other Churches, in purity of heavenly doctrine, and light of the holy truth. By comparison with Rev. 12. 1. this rare Man should rise out of the Western Church, to call Christians of the West into battel, or rather to take the spoil of the Beaft and the false Prophet, being subdued in war. The former exposition is of Interpreters more commonly received, eyet both may fland together, for Chrift the author and giver of the victory over the Antichriftian Army, and his infirument whofoever are not contrary.

"Angels are described, Isa.6.1. with faces and feer, and wings to cover them, and to fly with, to fignifie their reverence to God before whom they minister, in consideration of his great Majesty, and their own weakness compared with him, Job. 4-18. & 15. 15. And also their readiness to execute Gods Com-6 mandments.

'Angels defire to look into them] The greedy defire of Angels to know the myftery of Christ, as it is in the Gospel re-. vealed. I Pet. 1.12. Which things the very Angels defire to look into. This is an allusion to the Propitiatory or Mercy-lid upon the Ark, whereupon two Angels, Cherubins did abide with their faces one toward another, and their eyes bent down to the Arkward, to fignifie and figure, that in Christ (whereof the Ark was a type) all the treasures of knowledge and wisdom should be hid, to be manifested in the Gospel; the very Angels coveting once and more to pry into fuch fecrets. Such manifold and admirable wildom doth the Goipel contain.

Because of the Aingels That Women ought to use a decent habit upon their head in the publick meeting of the Church, in respect and for reverence sake towards the Ministers of the Word, and of God speaking by them; (as by his Messenegers) who be very often called Angels, both with addition of God, or Jehovah, as Hag. 1.13. Mal. 2. 1, 27. Eccl. 5:5. Lev. 27. (where it is given to the High-Prieft) and absolutely without e fuch addition, as Rev. 2: 3. I Cor-* 11.12. Therefore a woman ought to have power on her head because of the Angels. Such as understand this of bad spirits, do therein not well, without any good reason. With some more reason it may be taken of good Angels, who are prefent with, and prefident over (as Countreys, fo) Churches, beholding and liking the good order therein, disliking all unseemliness and disorder : by the confideration whereof, it is likely Paul would perswade Women to comely and reverent behaviour, left they offended the Angels, but chiefly to shew fear to God, speaking in his Ambassadors: and to Christ, who is elsewhere waited upon by his Angels.

" Hour Angels | Four unclean Spirits, or Devils of hell, as appears by this, that the Plagues which these four Angels must execute, are spiritual, tending to the destruction of souls, such as Devils do execute, Rev. 7. 1. Anointed ones, Zach. 4.14. Son of oyl, marg.

How God anointed Fesius, Act. 10.28. The custom of anointing. notes the folemn entertainment of any one; and the anointing, or pouring byl on the heads of the guelts, is the highest expression of acknowledging and testifying the greatest joy (and so called the oyl of gladness, Psal. 45.8.) that is to be found among them. From hence it came to denote the preserving one before another, and fo became the ceremony of conferrating to any special office, and fo was ordinarily used in the installing men to offices of any eminency: Whence the word cometh to be used metaphorically, for any that is preferred before or fet over others. Thus Abraham, and the Patriarchs, that must not be toucht, in the Psalmist are called God's ano. "ted, i. e. persons by God preserred and advanced before others, taken into his special care, and so signally testified by God's dealings towards them. And so the anointed of the Lord, are those whom God hath set over other men.

Agreeable to this is it that that eminent person prophesied of by Moses, whom God should send, and whom they were to hear, is generally known by the name of T'UD, the anointed, the Mesfias, or chrift, because he was thus preferred by God ( Pfal. 45. & Heb. 1.9.) above his fellows, men and Angels themselves, Isa. 61.1. & Luk.4.18. i. e. the Lord hath preferred me before others, and fet me apart, to this office, as he hath no other man. So Act. 14.27. Thy Son Fefus whom thou haft anointed, i. e. marked out to be that beloved Son of thine, which was done at the Spirits coming down upon him; which must therefore be resolved to be the meaning of anointing him in that place: and fo'tis evident in this place, How God hath anointed him with the holy Spirit, and with power; i. e. whom God by these two means (the descent of the Spirit upon him, and the power of miracles, as by priviledges and marks of prilation) preferred and dignified be-vond all others that ever were in the World, and demonstrated him to be that promised Messias. Dr. Ham. Annot. d.

Anointing | 1. The act of confecrating by Oyl, or anointed Lev. 7.35.
2. The holy Ghoft, I Joh. 2.27.

3. The work of him in us, vers.20.

Anointing him with oyl, James 5. 14. That anointing with oyl was a ceremony fometimes used by Christ and his Apostles, in working their miraculous cures, healing diseases, and casting our of devils, appears, Mar. 6.13. whereunto Prayer was added, as the more effectual and substantial performance. It was ordinary (while those extraordinary gifts remained in the Church) for diseases to be cured, and health reftored to the fick, without the use of any other means. It was indifferently either used or not used by them, and many cures were wrought both without it, and the imposition of hands. See Act. 3.7. & 9. 34, 40. & 14.10. & 16. 18. & 19. 12. & 20.10. From whence it appears,

1. To what end this unction was used, precisely to that of miraculous healing, or recovering the fick to health; and that not through any virtue or efficacy in the oyl, but directly the contrary, as touching the eyes, laying on the hands, and faying the word, were used, none of which have any natural force in them, nor were used on other design, than to demonstrate the miraculousness of the work, which was wrought without any contribution of means.

2. That this usage as a bare ceremony, was not instituted by Chriff, or any way commanded to be continued by the Aposiles of their Successors in the Church, even while the gifts of Healing did continue among them, but was by the Apostles themselves very frequently omitted in their working of cures.

3. For that use of inition or inoling, as a viand to those that depart out of the world, there being nothing said of it here (but on the contrary the whole use of it, in order to the recovering of the fick) there is no colour of ground for afferting it, nor obligation to the use of it to be met with in the New Testament, and therefore it is strange how it should come to be esteemed a Sacra-

4. That even in order to the recovering of the fick, it is not now a ceremony of any propriety, or fitness for use, the gift of miraculous healing being not now pretended to in the Church. Dr. Ham. Annor, f.

It succeeded the politick power of the Emperors, being now to be found refident in the corporation of the Pope and his false Prophets, and forgers of false Doctrine. This dominion and power Ecclefiastical though it be the same with the former Politick power of Emperours, in nature and conflictation both being bloudy and beaftly, yet it is called another beaft, because this power had another Original and beginning. For the former Beaft with seven heads came out of the sea: this other beaft came up out of the earth; that is, his authority was increased and raised up even above Lay-men, not exempting the Emperour himself, which became underling and Vaffal to the Pope, having before great authority over the Clergy alone. This happened in the time of Gregory the fecond. Hence it is, that the Monarchy and Dominion of the Pope, was both the seventh head of the former Eeast, described in the beginning of the 13 chap. and also a Beast of himself, even in respect of the double power, which this second Beast did challenge; that is the highest power Civil over all Emperors and Kings: also, the highest power Spiritual over the Faith, over the consciences and souls of men. Rev. 13.11. And I beheld another Beaft coming up out of the earth, &c. It is usual in Scripture, by Beast, to understand Kingdoms and Dominions ruled in a beaftly fashion. Or else, the former is the French or Germane Emperor, ruling over many Kings; and this is the Pope or falle prophet, chapa 9.20. One the Political Beaft, the other the Ecclefiastical. Annot.

Where the holy Ghost saith there is one Beast, and another Beaft, it is too much for man to fay, that both these beafts are one and the same. What Satan cannot do by one instrument, he assayeth to do by another, such is his restless malice. comper.

It is admirable counsel, Heb. 12.25. Not to neglett him that Beabeth, not to shift him off by any frivolous or idle excuses, for to the Greek word there win magail none imports. The Spirit of God is gracious and patient, but yet just and sensible of affronts, and therefore not to be grieved. If we be deaf to his voice, his ear will be heavy to our prayer; either to punish our former disobedience, or else to illustrate more his own grace, which like other Tewels become most esteemed, when most difficult to obrain. There were two forts of Apoftles.

1. Holy, Eph.3, who were all of equal authority, 2 Cor. 11.

In their election by Christ, Act. 1.2. In their names, all Apoftles, Mat. 10.1,2. In their miffion, Mat. 28.19. In Christ giving the same Spirit, Joh. 20.22. and the same gifts of the Spirit, Act. 2-3,4. In the same power of binding, loofing, Joh. 20.23, In Paul's judgment who being an Apostle, did equal himself with those, which were accounted chiefest, 2 Cor. 11.5. whose office was to preach the Word, Mar. 3. 14. plant Churches, 1 Cor. 3. 6. ordain elders, Act. 14.23.

2. False Apostles, 2 Cor. 11.12. Rev. 22.

Heb.3.1. Confider the Apolle, that is, ponder with all your heart and mind, the dignity and excellency of Chrift, (whom God hath fent as his Ambailador, to make known his will unto you) that fo he may adhere unto him, and obey him. Annot.

Commandment of the Aposties | The Doctrine of Repentance and remificant fins, committed to the Apolles of Christ to teach the Church, which in chap.2.21. is called a Commandment delivered, viz. a written tradition, 2 Pet. 3. 2. The Commandment of us the Apolles.

Luk.6.13. Whom also he named Apostles. This title which is here Luk.0-13. Whom also rename appries. In some which is the by Chriff faid to be given to the twelve, is a name of power and dignity, and authority in the Church being now feeled on Chriff (as hath been foretold, Isa.9.6.) whom his Father had sent, Joh. 20.21. Isa.61. It to be the Teacher and Lord of his Church. or Disciples, Joh. 13.1 and as the High-priest of our profession; to the Apolte, Heb. 3. 1. the great Pattor of his fheep, Heb. 13. 20. and the only Bishop of our fouls, 1 Pet. 2. 25. What was thus conferred on him, was also personally exercised by him upon earth, whiles he remained here. He preached the Gospel. inflituted Rites to continue in his Church for ever, called Difciples, gave them Commands, used their Ministry, defigned some to certain Offices; sent out Seventy as Heralds before his face, gave them power to cure Difeases, and so committed to them tome, though but a temporary Office or Mission, which ceased at their return to him, Luk. 10. 1, 9, 17. On others he re-folved to inftate a larger, and more durable power, to send them as his Father had fent him, to make them his Successors on earth, endued with that power by Commission from him, which he here executed, Joh. 20. 21. Solemily, and with Committion, in that notion of fending, wherein the Procurator or Procondition of the Committion of the Committee of the Committion of the Committee of the Commi in that notion of fending, wherein the Frocurator of Frocur-ful is fent to his Province, or wherein Mofes is fent to the Ifia-elites in Egypt, or wherein Kings and Judges, and Saviours are every where in the Old Testament said to be sent, when they are by God advanced to any government.

Thus, as the Father jent the Son, Joh. 5.24. & 17.18. fo the Son ent the Apostles, Joh. 20. 21. and what the Father gave to the Son, Joh. 5.22. Mat. 10. 6. Iia. 22. 22. Rev. 3. 7. Mat. 19. 28. & 21. 42. the Son in effect gave to the Apostles, Mat. 19. 28. Luk. 22.30. 2 Cor. 10.6. Joh. 20.23. Mat. 16.19. Eph. 2.20. Dr. Ham.

Among the Apollies, Rom. 16. 7. Apollle fignifies primarily that Office whereunto the twelve were fet apart by Christ immediately; and fo that of St. Paul and Barnabas fent immediately by the appointment of holy Ghoft, Act. 13.2. Secondarily, it belongs to fome others, who after that received the like commission from the tweive, or from St. Paul. Thus is James the Bishop of Jerusalem, often called an Apostle. Appli fozum | A Town of Italy diffant from Rome a days journey, where was a great market, Act. 28.15.

[Apple] Put for the fruit of the Apple tree, Cant. 7. 8. That which is made like an Apple, Prov. 25.11. Holy words and promises of Chrift, Cant. 2.5. The Apple tree here is taken for Chrift, Cant. 2. 3. and is commended for shadow, Ibid. for sweet fruit, Ibid. for delightfor fmell, Cant. 7. 8. and for the more variety of fruit, then any other trees bearing fruit: All to fet out Christ. Apple of the epe Taken,

1. Properly, being named in Heb. I'W'N, that is, a little man, for that fuch an image appeareth therein, (others interpret it black, or blackness) and is denoted by IVII, that is, the daughter of the eye, for that it is as a daughter water the eye, and the black in the midst thereof, is the principal thing therein.

2. Improperly, and that,

1. Synecdo: hically, for the whole eye, Lam. 2. 18. where the apple of the eye is said not to cease, when we weep always.

2. Metaphorically, for that which is most dear and precious. 2. Metaphorically, for that which is most dear and precious, Deut. 32. 1c. Pfal. 17. 8. Zech. 2. 8. (in which places the Metaphor is doubled, for that the apple of the eye is afcribed unto God) and fo, To keep a person or thing as the apple of the eye, is, Most carefully to preserve as most dear and precious. And, To touch the apple of ones eye, is, To be injurious unto him and harm him very much, which he cannot but take to heart. Ravanel.

Apple tree Cannot but take to make the excel-lency of Christ by the similitude of an Apple tree.

1. It's a tree of a low or middle stature, not tall as the cedars of Lebanon, or Oaks of Bahan, which may put us in mind of his hu-

2. As the Apple tree hath more variety of fruits, then any other tree that groweth, (it is not eaflet to reckon up the many fruits of Apples of different rafte) So Christ excelleth in variety of graces, which he bestoweth on his Church.

3. As it exceedeth the barren trees of the wild defert, which are either void of fruit, or that they bear, is sowre and unwholesome: So much, and infinitely more doth Christ surpass, transcend all others. God hath anointed him with the Cyl of gladnes above his fellows, Pial. 45. 7. He is full of grace and truth, John 1. 14. of whose fulness have all we received, and grace for grace, veri.

4. As the shadow is comfortable unto the weary traveller, so is Christ unto the weary foul. Not a shadow as Egypt, Isa. 30.2. as Habbon, Jer. 48.45. which mock and delude those that seek for shelter under them. But a shadow as good Princes are, Lam. 4.20. Nay, better then they, a broad, indefective, continual shadow, under which if we put our felves by faith, (which is a kind of dark fhadow too) and hope (for fitting is the poffure of attendance, as well as ease) we shall be secured from the slames of divine difpleasure, from the curses of the Law, and from all afflictions and judgments. Annot.

5. Both its leaves, buds, bloffoms, fruits, have an excellent and fweet fmell; oh how odoriferous is Christ! He is wholly delectable, his Conception, Incarnation, Nativity, Life, Death, Burial, Refurrection, Ascension, Mediation, his Word, Ordinances, &c. all finell sweetly. What is said of his Word, may be said of all the rest, How sweet are thy words unto my taste! yea sweeter than boney

6. Both its leaves and fruit are medicinable. And is not Christ that tree of life, yielding fruit, whose leaves are for the healing of the Nations, Rev. 22. 1. Mr. Cotton faith it implyeth an inferiour

Magifrate, as Geddlah, pag. 55,56.

Under the Apple tree Cant. 8.5. Christ, or the Church of the Jews, by his power raised up his Church by the means of some inferiour Magistrate, resembled here by an Apple tree. Cotton.

Faith as it hath wings to flie up to heaven to the very seat of glory, and there to apprehend Christ fitting at the right hand of his Father; so in his humility here it beholdeth that excellency which the world is not able to conceive. Finch.

The Apple tree of old time was dedicated to love. So that in this we may confider the love in which Christ resteth toward his Church: for were it not for that unchangeable love, which he beareth towards her, how should she find him, or where should the find him? Giffard.

The tree of life and grace, whose shadow and fruit had been delightful and sweet unto her, and to which tree Christ himself was likened, chap. 2. 3. So she by faith taking hold on the Covenant of Grace and promises of life in Christ, called on his Name in her forrows, and stirred him up for help and comfort. Aynfw.

The words may be applyed to Christ, whose grace alone, did and doth raise up his Church depressed and fallen under the Apple tree, that is, either lying in a poor unpitied estate, Ezek. 16.5. almost desolate and ready to perish, as Elijah under the Juniper tree, I King. 19.4. or else lying under the tree of offence after eating of the forbidden fruit, (which many will have after the old tradition to be an Apple tree) and not able to raise her self, until assisted by him, who bare her fins in his own body on the tree, I Pet. 2. 24.

Apples | Comfort me with Apples, Cant. 2. 5. or firew me with them, or fpread me, make me a couch, boulffer me up with the Apples, to keep me from finking, and to refresh my spirits, which languish: for Apples are fragiant and revive by their odour, especially those which grow on that tree, vers. 2. whereby is meant the comfortable doctrines and fruits of Christ, mentioned vers. 3. which the Chalder explaineth, the interpretation of the holy words, which are sweet like the Apples of the Garden of Eden. Anniw.

The fmell of thy note like Apples. ] Cant. 7.8. The Church and they that live in it shall smell a fragant favour of the good conversation of the people; the smell (not which the nose yieldeth, but) which is yielded to the noic, (to thy favory differn-ing) shall be sweet and comfortable as that of Apples. Cotton.

Men do usually breath at the nose; then this is to declare that the Church shall breath out nothing but sweetness. All that approach near unto her shall smell the savour of her sweet breath.

Apples have a sweet smell, whereby languishing spirits are much refreshed, which is also much available for the procuring of love.

Annies Defired, or infed | The fruits defired and hifted after, by a Syneedoche of the part for the whole. When it is faid here these are departed, it signifieth either that their desired and longed for harvest of all ripe and delicate fruits was perished, so as they had not their wonted ability; or else their wonted ted luft after such fruits (about which they spare no cost to pro-'cure them) was now extinct and quenched, which caufeth the friends of Rome to mourn. Rev. 18.14. And the Apples which thy · foul Lufteth after, are departed from thez.

The words are in our last Translation, the fruits that thy soul lusteth after. Gr. the autumn, or autumn fruit of the defire of thy foul, that is, defired fruit, as in fire of a flame, that is, flaming fire, 2 Theff. 1.8. This verse should be in a Parenthesis, as if those merchants should like mourners speak to perishing Babylon. Or it may be the speech of the Angel, the revealer, or John the publisher objecting gluttony to Babylon. These autumn froits were most dainty and pleasant to the taste, and goodly to the eyes, like the fruits of Paradile, Gen. 2.6. Of fuch Rome hath flore. Acros.

pens of the learned, but the consciences of the unlearned and weak : for my part, howfoever, I cannot fee it to be prohibited either exprefly or by analogy, and it seemeth to be warranted by that example of Zeloghehads Daughters marrying the Uncles fons by Gods appointment, Num. 36. 11. Also fundry learned men judge it lawful, and godly persons have done it as a thing lawful; yet it were expedient to keep further off, and to laurch our ship into a channel where there is sea-room enough; for it is vicinum malo.

"Army with Banners | The Spoule or Church of Christ here upon earth, which being well conflituted, is ftrong and terrible to the host of Hell; even as an Army that is strong and marcheth with Banners and Enfigns, is very terrible to the adversaries. Cant.6.3. Thou art orantiful my Love, terrible as an Army with Banners.

The life of a Christian is a warfare upon earth, for the enabling of him to fight the Lords battels, God infuseth into his heart an Heroical and noble courage, for though he fall, yet he rifeth up again; though he be overtaken, yet he getteth out and recovereth his ffrength, which maketh Satan to fear the faith of a Christian, because he knoweth it is built upon that rock which the gates of Hell cannot prevail against. Two Armies: Cant. 6.13. or, Mahanaim. marg. The awful Majesty and grace of the Church, which is like that of a well disciplined Army, or else the happy union and reconciliation of the two Churches (Jew and Gentile) which like two Armies joyned together, do with mutual consent and thankfulness sing to God praises and thanks of victory, going forth in the dances of them that make merry, as is promifed, Jer. 31.4. and more particularly, Rev. 5.9. 7.10. & 19.6. Others refer this fimilitude either to the spiritual lustings, and conflicts of the flesh and spirit, which are like Jacob and Elau, or (as the Text) like two Armies fighting in the Church; or elie to those many persecutions and afflictions to which she is exposed, which make her unfit to be looked upon or defired.

Ye shall see in me nothing else, but a certain terrible and wonderful Majesty, as may be seen in Armies set in battel array; or, as two Armies come to meet their King in companies, that they may receive him honourably, and he may march in the midst of them. Let them who defire to be joyned to the Church, know that there is therein as it were a perpetual strife against most powerful enemies, against whom she orderly goeth on, as a company of fingers or dancers, that she may be more terrible unto them.

Hereby is fignified both the deliverance of the Shulamites our of her miferies, and the joy of men and angels for her victory, Luk. 15. 10. Pfâl. 348. Aynfw.

The Shulamite shall vindicate her self by arms from the power of her enemies whom she now serveth. Some interpreters do largely construe these words, of all good and lawful degrees, distinction of orders, dignities, and authorities in this World, whether Occonomical, Political, or Ecclefisftical: all which shall cease at the last resurrection, and be wholly abolished; There shall be no more any difference of Husband and Wife, Mafter and Servant, Father and Children. King and Subjects; Doctors, Pastors shall no more bear such office as now they do in the Church: the like is to be faid of all Officers and Governors, of all Honors and Powers, which ferve only for the preservation of this life, and therefore be temporary. Yea, it may reach unto the principality of the good Angels and their office, fo far forth as they be our Ministers to look unto private perfons, or whole States; yea the powers of heaven, to wit, Sun, and Moon, and Stars, and other celestial creatures at the end of the world shall lose their functions which now they have, as to chase away darkness, to cherish and comfort inferior bodies, to expel cold, &c. Howbeit (though all this be true, and the place by this general exposition may comprehend all lawful powers and authorities ordained of God ) the fitteft interpretation is to understand it more strictly of all rule, authority and power which is contrary to Christ; namely of Tyrants, Perfecutors, Hereticks, wicked enemics, yea of Sin, Satan, Death: All which now wrestle and rise up in arms ( as it were) against the Kingdom and glory of Christ, at whose coming (their fubstances still remaining) yet their power and au-thority shall be quite taken away, as they shall never be able any more to assail and hurt the people of Christ: and thus to expound it, I am induced by comparing the verf. 24. with verf. 25, 26. where Paul limiteth these authorities and powers to the enemies of Christ, naming death as the last; either for that at the fall of Adam death came in the last of all, Satan tempting, Man consenting, fin acted going before, and death following after as a flipend of fin: or else it is said to be last, because of his continuance and durance in respect of the rest of the external enemies of Christ, who by raising up the bodies of the Saints from bodily death, did so overcome death in the last

The Lord is faid then to flir up or awake, when he delivereth his Church out of troubles, Pfal. 78.65,66. and the Church then firreth up the Lord, when it earnestly prayeth for such deliverance, Pfal.44. 24, 25. The Chaldee Paraph. and other Hebrews understand it so here, but apply it to the deliverance of Irael out of Egypt, which might not be until the time appointed of God. And if we take it in this fense, the daughters of Janualien are charged to suffer affication, for and with Christ, in faith and patience unto the coming of the Lord, Jam. 5.7. & I Pet. 5.6,7. and not to provoke him by murmuring or otherwise, through fear or unbelief; a figure whereof may be seen in Christ sceping in the storm, and the Disciples awaking him, Mar. 4. 37. 40. But it may be applyed unto the flirring and provoking of Christ by fin, for which he often departed from his people, and chaftned their transgressions, Exod.22. 20, 21. Now is the Axe laid to the root of the trees, &c. Some expound this, not of spiritual judgments threatned in his Word against unrepentant sinners; but of the power of the Romans, which were the inftruments of God, to deftroy utterly the unfaithful and wicked generation of the Jews with a worldly destruction. Babylon: The City of Rome, and the Roman power, exercised there by the Pope and his Clergy. For Rome the Western mystical Babylon, was to the Christians in respect of tyranny and cruel persecution, what the Eastern Babylon was unto the Jems; being 'also like to that Babylon in Assyria, for Idolatry, superstition, and worship of Devils; as it must at last be like it for searful events, in a grievous ruine and downfal; and for likeness sake, Popish Rome bears the name of Babylon. Rev. 14. 8. Babylon that great city is fallen; also ch. 17. 5. 19. 18. Where it is plain in him that will understand, that by Babylon is meant Rome; this being the only City in the world, which in St. John's time was seated on feven hills, and which reigned over the Kings of the Earth, and by a strong hand, or cunning enticements, compelled Kings and Nations to admit her Idolatries and herefies, which is to commit fornication with her, as it is faid in chap. 17. vers. 2.

This Babylon is not that real Babylon of Chaldee, but Rome.

1. It is called mystical or figurative Babylan.

2. Old Babylon was destroyed long before St. John wrote this; but this Babylon even when St. John wrote, reigned over the Kingaoms of the Earth

3. This is faid to be fet upon feven bills, and therefore it is Rome, which is by the Poets termed Seven-billed. (The feven hills being thus named, Palatinus, Celius, Tarpeius, (or Capitolinus) Aventinus, Quirinalis, Viminalis, and Esquilinns.)

Love was his banner over me.

His Banner : Or bis Standard, a Flag or Ensign spread abroad; . a warlike fign, as in chap. 6.4, 10. the Church is faid to be terrible as an army with Banners. And the Banner lifted up, is a fign of fighting with joy and victory, as in Plal. 20.6. We will shout joyfully in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up the banner. Hereby may be understood either the wine-cellar, the place where Wine is kept; or rather the Banquetting house where Wine is drunk : for cellars are called the Treasuries or Store-houses of Wine, in 1 Chron.27.27. Wine, besides that it slaketh thirst, cheareth also the heart of man, Pla. 104-15. causeth him to forget his sorrow and misery, Prov. 31.6,7. comforteth the fick, by cherishing and augmenting the vital spirits. By this the Church fignifieth increase of grace from Christ, as the fruit of the Vine excelleth the fruit of the Apple-tree, and is more comfortable unto the heart. 4. Because there was a baptizing into Christ to come, which form used, and a baptizing into Christ already come, which the Apollies used after Christs Ascention.

5. Because the Apostle alluding to the manifold baptisms, or washings in the law, calleth the Christian Sacrament bastism too, which last is preferred before the others by Mr. Janes.

Baptisms, or baptizings : the plural number for the fingular, (as Sacrifices for Sacrifice, ch. 8. 22,23.) because in those times many baptisms were administred at once, there being fer days appointed for it. Annot.

The people were to be taught to put difference berwixt autward baptism by the Minister, which an hypocrite may have. and the inward baptism by the Spirit, which Christ bestowerh upon his own cleck; Also in the nature of this Sacrament, and the lignification thereof, yea and of the baptim of suffering affliction for the Gospel, whereunto the outward Sacrament of baptism obligeth. "To Eaptize ] To dip into water, or to plunge one into the water.

2. To plunge into affiictions or dangers (as it were into deep waters. Mat. 20.22. Can ye be baptized with the baptism wherewith "I am baptized? that is, Can ye suffer afflictions."

'3. To sprinkle or wash ones body Sacramentally. Thus the Minister baptizeth. Mat. 3. 11. I baptize you with water, that is, outward Sacramental washing.

4. To wash the Conscience spiritually, purging it from the guilt and corruption of fin, by Justification and Sanctification. that it neither reign nor be imputed. Thus Christ baptized. Mat. 2. 11. Christ fail baptize you mith the holy Ghoft, and with fire. This is inward spiritual washing.

'Christ is said to baptize with the holy Ghost generally, because Baptism is made effectual by his holy Spirit : but more especially these two wayes, both by the extraordinary egifts of his Spirit, which he miraculoully in a vifible manner opcured down upon his Disciples on the day of Pentecost, Act. 12. 2, 3, 4. and upon others, as Act. 10. on Cornelius, and Act. 19. Also by effectual regeneration of the Spirit in the ordienary Ministry of the Church, whereby the Father and the Son, by the Spirit, which proceedeth from them both, doth work effectually to the falvation of the elect.

'The Minister baptizeth by sprinkling with water, God baptizeth by bestowing the gifts of his Spirit. The baptism of · John and Christ were all one for Ceremony, Action, Subflance, and Effect : difference was in the persons; Christ being man and God, who could from hinfelf give the thing betokened in Baptifin; so could not John to whom did appertain the administration of the outward fign.

Where the Word is truly preached, and Baptism purely administred, we may be sure there is a Church; there is also 'Christ, remission of fins, the holy Ghost, and eternal life; 'and none of all these be where the purity of the Word and Sacraments be not; for Christ and his things are no where to be fought or found, but, where he doth manifest himself in his Word and Sacraments. To fay there is no Church where these be received, is to say, it is not day where the Sun shineth, or no man where the body is quickned with a foul. For Baptism is a Symbole and pledge of Christ and his benefits, remifion of fins, regeneration, and erernal life, Mar

Baptize | The word, though it be derived from Edwiw, tingo, to dip, or plunge into the water, and fignifieth primarily such a kind of washing as is used in Bucks, where linnen is plunged and dipt; yet it is taken more largely, for any kind of washing, rinsing, or cleansing, even where there is no dipping at all, as Matth. 3.11. & 20. 22. Mar. 7. & 10. 38. Luk. 3. 16. Act. 1. 5. & 11. 16. 1 Cor. 10.2. Dr. Featly against Anabap.

"To be baptized in the cloud, and in the fea | Their communion with Chrift, fealed to the Ijraelites, by that extraordinary Sacrament of being under the Cloud, and paffing through the Sea, as the same grace is sealed to Christians ' by baptism, 1 Cor. 10. 1,2, &c. See Exod. 12. 21, 22. Numb. 9.10.20.21.22.

"Ho be baptized for dead | Not, for the Dead, or over the graves of the dead, but as dead even to destroy and mortifie fin, which is the true end of Baptifin, and necessarily proveth the hope of the refurrection; for it were loft labour to crucifie fin, if no refurrection. 1 Cor. 15. 29. Which are baptized for dead.

There is another fignification, as if washing or ablution of dead bodies were there meant : (as Theodoret, Beza, ) it is certain that baptizing is put generally for washing, Mark 7.

4. And that mortual ablution was common to Jews out of charity and hope of refurrection, and Gentiles out of superfittion, yea, and that it was already received of Christians, Act. 9. 37. Now if no refurrection, this ceremony and labour had been in vain. The opinion of Baptism over the graves of Martyrs : also that it is understood of such as were baptized at the point of death; or, in flead of the dead; or upon profession of the Article of the resurrection of the dead, be not to be liked of; leis for mortal fins, or prayer for the dead. Luther, Epiphan. Ambrose, Aquinas, Stapleton.

Or thus .: Baptical for the dead, 1 Cor. 15, 29, that is, afflicted, perfecuted (as the Apostle speaketh of himself) every hour flanding in jeopardy, or. as it were daily dying for the hope of the refurrection of the dead; without which hope all fufferings were in vain.

Or thus : Why are they then baptized for the dead? I Cor. 15. 29. Why have they in their baptism made profession of their belief of it, (Scavers. 14. 17.) it being certain that the dead, or the refurrection of the dead, expressed here for brevity under that word the dead, is one of the Articles, and that a prime and special one, to the belief of which they were baptized, and to which baptism (being the putting in, and taking out of the water) doth refer, as a fignificant embleme, first of christs, then of our resurrection from the grave? And therefore to what end did these men in their baptism, profess their belief of this Article, if they believe it not? To be a baptized Christian, and not to believe the resurrection, is a strange ridiculous thing, an hypocriso which they will never be able to answer to God or men, and that which actually deprives them of all benefits of baptism; and yet such are they, if they make doubt of this. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Or thus : If there be no resurrection of the dead, what Shall they do ! that is, What shall become of them? In what misera-ble condition are they who are haptized, viz. with their own bloud? and not only suffer grievous torments, but even death it self, for the dead, that is, for the cause or quarrel of the dead, or instead of the dead; for whose sake they chose rather to suffer death, then they would detect them to the Heathen, or betray them into the hands of their bloudy perfecutors; or who willingly undergo the baptism of bload, for the faith of them that are now dead; and in special, for maintaining this very Article of the resurrection of the dead; for which, as St. Paul, Act. 22. 6. fo many hundreds of Christians more were called in question, put to tortures, and persecuted even to death. Annot.

"To be baptized into the death of Chaiff ] To receive baptism as a testimony of mortification, and as an instrument of the holy Ghoft, for the extinguishing, and the killing of fin by the death of Chrift, Rom. 6. 3. Have been baptized

** To be baptized with the holy Ghost ] To receive the gifts of the holy Ghost, which sometime were in a visible manner bestowed in the primitive Church, before or af-' ter baptism, Ad. 1. 5. Ad. 10.44. & 19. 5.

Tobe baptized unto John's baptism, Act. 19. 3. that is, unto John's doctrine, which was to believe in Christ Jesus unto salvation, whereof John's Baptism was a seal.

Ministers placed over their Brethren, should in spiritual, gifts, be taller than the people by the shoulders (as one alludeth to Sauls talness.) They should herein also resemble the Cedar not to admit of any worm, (worm of conscience) for that was it that confurned Balaam, Judas, Demas, specially the covetousness, whose nature is to bore through, 1 Tim. 6. 10. But fast they must stand in the saith, and being strong sustain the infirmities of others; yea (Cedar-like) their Ministry is of nature to kill the quick, and to quicken the dead, that is, by the power of the Law to mortifie the proud Pharise, who in his conceit liveth and is righteous, but with the doctrine of faith (or Gospel) to quicken the poor Publican that feeth and confesseth himself to be dead in fins and trespas-Ses. 'A Bear | The Kingdom of Persia, called a Bear, for the barbarous and savage cruelty exercised in it; whence it is said to be like filver, as being of less esteem than the Babyloni'h Monarchy. which is likened to Gold, Dan.2.32. This Kingdom is faid to raise it felf, Dan.7.5. because out of ambition and restless desire to rule over others, it united to it felf, first the Kingdom of the Medes, and then of the Babylonians, forraging into the three coasts of the habitable world, as Dan. 8.4. which are termed three ribs in Dan. 7.5. Like to a Bear.

It's very strong, yet hath a very weak head. In the Winter time, fleepeth much, and groweth fat. The female is very libidinous, and greatly loveth its young ones, being then most fierce, especially, if any should take them from her, Prov. 17. 12. Hos. 13. 8. 2 Sam.17.8. It loveth lurking places; is wonderfully delighted with honey, being skilful for the getting thereof to climb the highest trees. Is revengeful, yet being delighted with mu-fick, doth often let go his prey. It's subtle, so entring into its den, that its footsteps are not discerned. It drinkerh not water as the Dog doth, nor after the manner as other creatures do, but doth greedily bite it when hunted: By its breath and vomit it often saveth it self from the Dogs and Hunters. It preyeth not usually on any thing that's dead. So that if a man can hold his breath, as if he were dead, it will not harm him. Or else, as some will have it, the Lyon resembleth the noble courage of Angelical spirits; a Calf, their strength; an Ox being the strongest of beasts, as a Lyon is most couragious; a Man representeth their wisdom and great understanding, wherein Man excelleth all inferiour creatures; and an Eagle which foareth aloft, fignifieth their knowledge of high and great fecrets. Howbeit, fome there be, which think these four beasts to be all such servants of God, as have employed their labour faithfully in delivering unto the Church the truth of doctrine, and in administring other holy things. The first fignification is most commonly embefore and behind; the fifth beaft was like a Lvon. They doerr, which apply these four Beafts to the four Evangelists.

Dur Bedis green] The Procreation of children unto God, in Christ, in that spiritual birth, by the immortal seed of the Word. For the Church is fo a Virgin, as the is the Mother of all Gods children, Cant. 1.16. Our bed is green.

The house of God was the Temple, the bed in the house were the Ordinances of God wherein God was wont familiarly to embrace his Spouse and she him. These in Josiahs time flourished in greatest purity, so that there was no Passover like unto his. It is an allusion to the Spring-time, when the Worship of God began to flourish again, after a winter time of mire and dirty pollutions.

From this our mutual delight and heavenly conjunction, there ariseth a plentiful and flourishing encrease of thy faithful ones in all places, and through all times. Hall.

The place of spiritual conception, wherein by bed (the place of conception) affirmed to be green, is intended the Churches fruitfulness by converting with the spirit of Jesus, by whose overshadowing a spiritual seed is begotten, alluding herein to a green flourishing tree, which either hath fruit upon it, or at least ministreth hope of fruit in due season; because such greenness is a testimony of a vegetative spirit of life within it, Psal. 1. 3.

The Church being won by Christ, and all things as she thought being ready for the folemnizing of their marriage, she now sues unto him for this spiritual conjunction that she might be made fruitful by him. Hereby the Church fignifieth that by her Communion with Christ (whether by the similitude of bed or board) the became flourishing and fruitful; as it is faid of them that are planted in the Lords house, Pfal. 92.13,14. which is agreeable unto the nature of the Gospel, where it is received by faith, Col. 1.6, 10.

Bed: Which is Solomons, Cant. 3.7. Christs bed here seemeth to mean the hearts of the elect, (as in chap.1.13. the Spouse said, he should lodge between her breasts) in whose hearts Christ dwelleth by faith. Eph. 3. 17. and there taketh his repose and rest. And this habitation or lodging was figured by the Tabernacle and Temple of Solomon, 1 Cor.6.19. Therefore the Chaldre paraphrast, (who saw not Christ but in shadows) applyed this bed to the Temple which Solomon built. Aynfw.

Or, more excellent than Solomons. Here is a rare allufion and comparison, wherein (as some think) the future glory of heaven, which we are exhorted to behold, and contemplate by faith, or rather the present beauty and spiritual riches of the Church, and every member thereof is resembled to the wealth and splendor of Solomons bed. Here is the use which we should make of being private: and this is an holy spending of our time, when we imploy it in stirring up our fouls to be affured of the mercies of God in Christ: not (as the world for the most part doth) in studying how to wreak our malice, or to compass other wicked defires, neither yet in idle and fruitless pastimes. That this was the Heathen Jupiter, is not improbable, the title of μι/αι μυώδη, ἀπομῦς, ἐπομυμαῖς, μίμοςς, & μυοδήκος, being befrowed on him by the Heathens; i. e. he that caught, or drove away flies. See Plin. Nat. Hist. c.28. lib. 10. This is here called Prince of Devils, i.e. one that hath power over them (as 'twas it seems believed) able to throw them out of those that were possess with them (whole legions together) like swarms of flies, which with their Prince or Chieftain fly about in the upper or middle Region of the air. This gives the reason of this speech here, why they conceived Christ to cast our Devils by Bieleghub, because Bieleghub they thought to have that power, and therefore to have the name of Ruler or Prince of Devils; and Christ visibly casting them out, they thought he operated by his power.  This phrase or kind of speech when it is referred either to Gods ordinances or creatures, doth include time, and doth point out the very point of time when fuch things did begin, as Mat. 19. 8. Joh. 8.7. But when it is applyed to God, or any Person in the Deity, then it doth exclude all moments of time, and lead our thoughts back unto eternity, beyond the world, and all space of time, as Joh. 1.1. His standing behind our wall, if it be referred to Christ himself, may be understood of his incarnation, when he dwelt in our flesh of clay ( as it is called in Job 4. 19.) and in our flesh, appeared, preached, suffered, &c. to draw us after him into the Kingdom of his Father, Joh. 1. 14. If it be referred to the wall which God hath made for his Church, it may mean his holy Ordinances (which in the time of the law, were a middle mall of partition, Ephch 2. 14:) behind which Christ standeth, speaketh, and sheweth himself, though more obscurely. But we may best apply it to our own ( wall, meaning of the heart, (as the Prophet speaketh of the walls of his beart, Jer. 4. 19. Which the Greek there translateth the of his neart, jet. 4. 19. Bel | a contract of Behel, which cometh of Bahal | A Lord. It was not only the particular Idol of the Babylonians, but a geof neral name to the Idols in the East, agreeing to all the Idols of the Gentiles, as some write, Jer. 19. 5. 1 King, 13. 25. It figinfieth, old, ancient, or nothing.

Bela Destroyang. A City, called also Belba, 1 Chron. 4. 29. Gen. 14. 2. Also, the Son of E.bar, Gen. 35. 33. The Son of Einjamin, Gen. 45. 21. The Son of Aza. 2 Chr. 5. 8.

Belaites of B.la, Numb. 26. 38.

Totali, Pal 59.7. They beled not with their mouth, utter, or well out, as from a fountain, or bubble, as Prov. 15. 2, 28.

This fimilitude is explained, Jer.6.7. As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice. Aynsm.

Speak often of murthering me. Annot.

Belial wicked, Deut. 13.13. Judg. 19.22. Men of Belial, or wicked men. The word in the Hibrer noteth extreme treme wickedness, and most mischievous wicked men, 1 Sam.1.

It is also applyed to special fins and finners, Prov. 19. 28. One without a yoke, or who is not profitable to any, or without the most high.

'2. The Devil, that wicked one. 2 Cor. 6. 15. Christ with Belial. With Satan, faith the Syriack.

"To beliebe | To know the Scriptures to be true, barely and speculatively, Jam. 2. 19. The Devils believe and tremble, Exod.

4. 31. Thus the Devils believe.

'Also it fignifies to know a thing experimentally, Joh. 17. 21. 23.

2. To affent willingly, and with some kind of joy to the truth of the Scripture, when we read or hear it, because it comes of the Scripture, when we read or hear it, became it comes from God, and brings glad tidings, Act. 8. 13. He believed and did cleave into Philip. Act. 28. 27. Mat. 13. 20. They received the work with joy. Thus Hypocrites believe, 3. To put confidence in the Doctrine which we know and af-fent unto our felves, Mark 16. 16. He that believeth shall be faved. Joh. 3. 18. He that believeth in the Son shall never be con-demned. Thus the regenerate believe. Gal. 2. 20. Christ loved me and gave bimfelf for me. Papifts deny application of the Do-ctrine to be any part of belief in God.

'Inholy Scripture, true belief or faith is put two ways:

'First, Absolutely, as it is occupied about the Word of God in general: or in particular (excepting the Word of promite, touching forgiveness of fins for the merit of Christ:) and being confidered as it is absolute, so there are three things belonging unto it,

'1. Knowledg.

'2. Affent.

'2. Alient.
'3. Perfwafion, and certainty, as appeareth by Rom. 14.
'where that which is called believing, in verf. 2. One believeth, &c.
'is in ver. 14. of the same chap, expounded by these two 'words of (knowledg and persuasion) I know and am persuaded.
'Therefore in the language of the Apossile, such do truly believe,
'as unto knowledg of the thing believed, do joyn assent with periwation.

Secondly, true belief, or faith is put and used with relation to the promise of Salvation by Christ, as in the Epistle to the Romans, Chap. 3. 4. & 5. and often elsewhere; and then it is by Divines called Justifying faith, which beside the three former, hath a fourth thing belonging unto it, and that is confidence (prepoithesis) Ephes. 3. 12. Hereof it is plain, that corrupt and falle is that definition of Bellarm. lib. 1. cap. 5. de Julif. defining Faith to be an affent only to the Word written, (and to the Word unwritten, Traditions of the Church) unto Apocryphal word, as well as to Canonical, denying knowledge and full affurance to appertain to Faith; so as with Papists, he is a Believer which only affenteth to the doctrine of the Church though he be ignorant of it, whence ariseth their implicit faith.

'To believe, fignifieth either to begin to believe, Rom. 13. 11. or, to grow in belief, Joh. 2. 11. Here the encrease, not the beginnings of faith is meant; and in the former place the beginnings of faith be compared with the increasings, so in Joh. 11.15. That 'ye may believe, (i. e.) that your faith may be strengthned and increased; for they were Believers already.

It's also put for, to Credit, Prov. 14.15. Trust, Prov. 26.25. Be perswaded thorowly, Psal. 27. 13. Rely upon, 2 Tim. 1. 12. Put confidence in, 2 Chr. 20. 20. Expect with patience, Ifa. 28.16. Receive for truth, Ifa.53.1. Rest and relie upon Christ for life, and falvation, Joh. 3.15, 15, 36.

Belief of the truth, 2 Thess. 2. 13. Faith which layeth hold, not upon lies, but upon the truth of God, which is the Gospel. Annot.

Believe: To obey, Rom. 11.30,31. marg.

Do not believe, Rom. 15:31. are disobedient. marg.
'To believe: To know and be perswaded, that God is, and that he is our God, and will reward freely fuch as feek him, Heb. 11. 6. Muft believe.

That believed not, Heb. 11. 31. That were disobedient.

Are we the better, I Cor. 9. 8. or have we the more. marg. Better than wine, Cant. 1. 2. and Cant. 4. 10. How much better is thy love than Wine? Or, good more than Wine. The word good is of large use, for profitable, pleasing, sweet, comfortable, joyful, &c. Wine is one of the most comfortable creatures, rejoycing the heart of man, Pfal. 104. 15. and wine maketh the life (or living) torful, Eccles. 10. 19. It causeth to forget affliction, poverty and 10734, ECCEL 10. 19. It camern to torget anniction, poverty and milery, Prov. 31.6, 7. It was also used in the legal facrifices, and fervice of God, Num. 15. 5. Hol. 9. 4. But the graces of Christ and comforts of his Spirit (wherewith the Saints are to be filled, Eph. 5. 18.) do far excel all worldly pleasure, and do cause such as do drink of them to forget their bitterness, poverty, forrows, which by the terrors of the Law, and guilt of conscience for fin did before afflict them, Rom. 7. 10, 15. 18. 24, 25. And the service of God now in spirit and truth, Joh. 4. 23, 24. and confolation which aboundeth by Chrift, 2 Cor. 1. 5. is much more comfortable then were all the Ordinances of divine service in the worldly Sanctuary, which could not make him that did the fervice perfect, as pertaining to the conscience, Heb. 9. 1. 9. & 10. 1, 2, 3, 4. Aynfw.

As here the Church preferreth Christs love above wine so chap. 4. 10. he doth the like of her love towards him; fignifying how pleasant and acceptable the fruit of his graces are in his Church, so that the Lord her husband delighteth in her, and rejoyceth over her. Idem.

Thy loves are better than wine, exceed all pleasures: Whatfoever is most reviving or restorative so that they despise and neglect all afflictions, as men full of wine feel no hurt for the present, and are more ready to rejoyce and fing, then to be dejected. Annot.

We shall be no losers by our kindness to Christ; if any honour him, he will honour them more. Annot. on Cant. 4. 10.

If we highly efteem of his love, no less, much more doth he of ours. The favour of God in giving wildom, and thereby peace to a mans felf, and others depending on him is more worth than wine, that is, than whatfoever makes the heart of man glad. Cotton.

The love of Christ should be preferred before all worldly things, and above all the pleasures, and delight of this present wine drunk immoderately, taken in excess, is both finful and harmful, but who can ever be enough drunk with; more than enough drink of the loves of Christ? Wine daily drunk of, without any supply, will not hold out, as at the marriage, Joh. 2. 3. but the love of Christ is as a fountain of living 4.31. Annot.

2. Because God hath promised to pour out a greater measure of his Spirit under the new, than he did under the Old Covenant, Ha. 44. 3. Joh. 2. 28. Act. 2. 16. Gal. 3. 2. Annot.

Heb. 9. 23. Better Sacrifices than thefe. Then those of the Old-Testament; not insubstance, but in manner of exhibiting; Christ was then slain only in types and figures; in the New-Teframent there is a real and personal offering up of Christ himself.

Heb. 11. 35. That they might obtain a better Resurrection. It is usual in Scripture sometimes to put a comparative, for a positive, or a superlative, that is, a good, or the best Resurrection; if we take it compartively, it is meant of a better Resurrection than the persecutors offered them: they were at their enemies disposal, and as dead men; but if they would have turned from the faith. they should have been restored to life; therefore it is elegantly called a refurrection, because they were as dead men being in their power; yet they hoped to obtain a better Resurrection, viz. from an afflicted death to an eternal life. Bird A fowl (Gen. 1. 20.) that hath a wing, Prov. 1. 17.

Hereof there are divers kinds mentioned in the Scriptures; as of clean, Deut. 14. 11. unclean, Ibid. 12, &c. ravenous, Ezek.39. 4. unclean and hateful, Rev. 18. 2.

'BirDs finging] Pleafant and delightful times, such as be to the body, the spring-time after Winter, when Birds make melody, chirp, and fing sweetly; and to the foul, the times follow effectual vocation to Christ, when the bitter and sharp winter of an unregenerate state being over, the foul is all replenished with comfortable graces and motions of the holy Spirit. Cant. 2. 12. The time of the finging of birds is come. Peace and joy in the holy Ghoff.

These Birds] fignisie the Saints, who feeling the comforts of Gods Word and Spirit do fing his praife, and with Pfa'ms and Hymns and spiritual songs, do fing and make melody in their heart to the Lord, Eph. 5. 19. Ia. 24. 14. 16.

This is expounded of the voice of Gods Ministers, whole mufick is sweeter than that of the Nightingale, Ezek. 33. 32. and makes their tongues in the dispensation of the Gospel like the tongues of angels, with whom they are appointed colleagues and partakers in that office. And it may be applyed to every particular Christian who should be wife to know the times of finging. In winter the birds chirp not, nor fing fo melodioully as in the Spring and Summer. They should be our Schoolmafters, and teach dull blockish men to be fensible of Gods ways, to know his judgments, as the Stork, and Crane, and Swallow do their times, Jer. 8. 7. and to warble his praises, when he enlighteneth and giveth joy, Ifa. 24.14,15,16. for there is a time of finging.

В

The finging of Birds ] is to be confidered according the birds be, good or bad, for the finging of such birds as Jubn mentioneth in Rev. 8. 22. they be a cage of unclean and hateful Fowls, whose song is meerly a black-santus, consisting of meer discords: a noise fitter for hell than for heaven; as be all the jarring Ordinances of Antichrift. For the finging here mentioned it is introduced in the good part, and therefore intimates unto us the fong of Christs people opposed to the sormer of Anti-christ: especially here be intended the Ministers of the Gospel founding out before the refidue, the praises of our God. Behold here also a difference between the Law and the Gospel. The Law was given with terrible founds; but the Gospel in form of delectable finging; the first dashing nature to the ground; the second watering the secret seed of Election, doth cause it to bud and to ascend unto heaven, rejoycing, Psal. 149. 1. The first song was an Elegie or sad dump; this second an Eulogie, an hymn, a Psalm of gladness. If there be any Burden in this new song, Christ himself bears it, The notes of delight are put in our mouths. O let us pray for the wings of contemplation, whereby we may afcend finging with the mounting Larks of the morning. Clapham.

Black By the fall of Solomon, by the folly of Rehoboam, by Prophaneness, Schism, Apostasie, the rebellion of ten Tribes. Cotton.

The word black, in the fixth verse differing from this, seemeth to diminish the fignification. It may be rendered blackish, or somewhat black (in Greek made black; the old Latine version ranslateth it brown) as in Lev. 13. 19. a word in the like form meaneth somewhat reddish. By these she would teach not to judg of her estate by her skin, by the outward appearance; where asflictions and infirmities only are to be seen. Ayasw.

There have been always some, of which there are now many which neglecting the care of themselves, pry into the faults and failings of others. They that accuse, condemn themselves, are norto be censured, condemned of others. Oftentimes exceptions are taken at the Saints, who either deserve not at all, or not fo much to be excepted against. They commonly are readiest to find fault with others, who are most guilty themfelves.

• Black as a Raben] The spiritual inward beauty of Christ, shadowed and represented by blackness of hair, which in some · Countries was accounted a comely beautiful thing in a young eman, Cant, 5. 11. His locks curled and black as a Raven.

In Rev. 1. 14. Christ appeared as an Ancient, with his hairs white as wool; here he is described as a goodly young man, with curled locks, black as a Raven. That white colour shewed him to be the Ancient of days, Dan. 7.9. full of gravity, wildom, Juffice, ftrength in nature, so here they seem to denote strength and vigour spiritual, as also the hidden mystery of his counsels, thoughts, and purpoles unsearchable. According to the variety of times, causes, and administrations, so things are spoken diversly of God and of Chrift, as in I Tim. 6. 16. He dwelleth in the light which none can approach unto; in 2 Chr. 6. 1. He dwelleth in the thick darkness. His administration of mercy by the preaching of the Gospel is signified by a white Horse, his judgments by a black Horfe, Rev. 6.2, 5. And if we refer this here to Christs administration, it may denote both his counsels unsearchable of any, and in special his judgments decreed for his enemics. Aynsw.

Curled black hair (faith Mr. Cotton) is a fign of heat and courage, and wit in him that it groweth upon; Such was the Emperor himself (Frederick the second) and such were the common Christians of that age, that did depend upon their Emperor; they fluck close to him: learned men with wit, more than former ages had yielded, and fouldiers with courage maintained his person and cause. Cotton.

That fulness of grace which is communicated to his humane na-ture is wonderously beautiful, and so fets it forth as the black curled locks do a fresh and well favoured countenance, Hall.

His hair, first black as a Raven, then coloured and crisped; so far as he is in the very least ornaments of nature, more than the fons of men. Finch.

Black hozse Famine, dearth, which is full of forrow, therefore resembled by a black colour, which is a sad and dole-· ful colour, and well agreeth unto persons samished, whose bodies lacking juyce and blood, are discoloured, and become blackifh, Lam. 4. 7. Rev. 6. 5. Loe, a black borfe.

This notes the effate of the Church now black and in an afflicted condition by Hereticks, which had mingled the truth of pure white doctrine with black darkness of herefies and errors. Leighs Annot.

The colour black neither in its own nature, nor in the old Prophets use, is reftrained only to famine, but serveth as well to express sadness, mourning, and terrour. Let therefore the matter of this Seal be, not famine or dearth of victuals, but the administration and severity of justice through the Roman Empire, more notable and glorious then in any past or following times. For as touching the figure, the colour of the horse doth agree to the severity of justice. That the weights are a symbole of justice is ordinary; and at this day no man is ignorant, that inflice is painted with a pair of hallances. Now it is wonderful to fee, how the event favoureth the interpretation, while Severus, and Alexander ruled, being the most renowned riders of the black Horse, both which were makers of just laws, and careful to put them in execution. Mede.

Blemisi, Spoken of an hurt , Lev. 24. 19, 20. by which comerh a blemish, a lameness, blindness, Deut. 15. 21. A spot Numb. 19. 2. Ill-savouredness, Deut. 17. 1. Blot, Prov. 9. 7. are blemithes.

" To bless To give thanks, or to praise God in a solemn manner, Mat 26. 26. And when he had bleffed, that is, when he had given thanks, as it is in Luk. 22. 19. 1 Cor. 11. 24. And in all places where the Saints are faid to blefs God, there it is meant of their thankfgiving, and speaking well of

'We bless God when we praise him; God blesseth us, either when he fendeth good things unto us, or removeth evil things from us, or turneth all to our good : we bless one another by our mutual prayers, Ephef. 1. 3. Rom. 12. 14.

'The Papifts by bleffing understand not a solemn bleffing, by giving thanks to God, to the confecrating or preparing the creatures to an holy action; but an operative bleffing of the bread, making it to be the body of Christ substantially and corporally. See the Annot. on Mat. 26. 26.

'This word (bless or blessing) when it is spoken of God toward men, it fignifies a plentiful beflowing of good things, earthly or heavenly, Gen. 24. 35. Deut. 28. 2, 3, 4. Psal. 31. 9. Ephes. 1. 3. Gal. 3. 8. But when it is spoken of men towards God, it betokeneth praise or thanksgiving by word or deed, Deut. 8. 10. Pial. 103. 1, 2. Luk. 1. 64. & 2. 28. And when it is spoken of men towards men, it signifieth fometime falvation, as Gen. 47. 7. 1 Sam. 13. 10. Sometime a gift or benevolence, as 1 Sam. 25. 27. 2 Cor. 9. 5. 2 King. 5. 15. Sometime a pronouncing (by way of prayer or prophefie) of good things in the name of God, as Gen. 14. 19, 20. Numb. 6. 23. In this fignification the less is bleffed of the greater, Heb. 7. 7. Heb. 11. 21. And note further, that the folemn bleffing in Numb. 6. 23, 24, &a did figure that bleffing of Christ, and laying on of hands, whereof we read, Luk. 24. 50.

Gen. 12. 2. Gen. 22. 17. Heb. 6. 14. Where the promise of eternal life is meant, Pfal. 54. 1. Gen. 24. 60.

2. To wish and pray for good things to others, Gen. 48. 20. Jacob bleffed the sons of Joseph. Such was the Priests bleffing the Jacoustification jours of Joseph. Such was the First Straining the people in the Law, and parents bleffing their children, even their good prayers to God for their welfare: In Ministers with shewing forth Gods promises, Numb. 6. 22. Bleffing put for saliving, Gen. 37. 7. Num. 6. 23. 32. 24. for praying and for thankf'giving, Mat. 26. 26. Luk. 22. 19.
'3. To increase that which is little, and to make it much,
'as when God is said to have blessed the widow of Sarepta, her oyl and meal in her cruse, 2 King. 17. 16. And when Christ bleffed the five loaves and two fishes in the Gospel, this bleffing was operative indeed, and wrought a fensible multiplication of the Loaves and Fishes; so was not there a sensible mutation of the Bread and Wine into the body and bloud of Christ, by that bleffing, Mat. 26.

'4. To give good things unto us, and to do us good in profpering our affairs and labours, Pfal. 67. 1. God be merciful unto us, and bless us: and ver. 6. Prov. 10. 22. The blessing of the Lord maketh rich. Thus the word bless is taken in good

5. To flatter and please ones self, and to boast of his doings to others, Pfal. 10. 2. The covetous bleffeth himself. Here it is taken in evil part.

6. The contrary; namely, curfing: an Euphemismos, when on the contrary; namely, curing, an Emplementon, when fundering things are spoken in seemly words; Job 1.5. Lest my Sons have blessed God, (so it is in the Original) that is, blass phemed. I King. 21. 10. He hash bless God and the King (so it is in the Original) for he hath blasphemed. Here also it is taken in ill part.

'This is usual in other tongues, as in Greek, Euonyma and Eumenides, good names for worse, as Furies, &c. old Latines for Nothing would say well; Italians call loathsome diseases Gods

'7. To falute or wish health unto, Gen. 47. 7. I Sam. 13. 10. & 25. 19. In all which places the Original hath

8. To endow and furnish one with an heroical and valiant fpirit; also with extraordinary bodily strength, Judg. 13. 24. The child (Samfon) grew, and the Lord bleffed him.

1. To make him bleffed, happy, prosperous and fortunate,

2. To encrease, multiply, or make fruitful, Gen. 9. 1.

3. To reward or honour, Gen. 12. 3. 4. To prosper our affairs and labours, Pfal. 67. 1.

5. To endue and furnish one with an heroical and valiant fpirit, Judg. 13. 24. 6. To bestow the gifts and graces of his Spirit, Eph. 1. 3. So unto that folemn time of his worthip, namely, the Seventh day, noting his fanctifying and ordaining the fame to an holy use, Gen. 2. 3. So with relation unto the creatures, pointing out his care and providence for their prefervation, Gen. 1. 22. & 8. 17.

Secondly, to Chrift, as it respecteth God, noting,

1. His giving thanks, or praising God after a special manner,

Mar. 6. 41.

Puar. 0. 41. 2. His calling upon God his Father for his mercies on the behalf of others, Mar. 10. 16. As it respecteth man; his ef-fectual and powerful working on men for their conversion,

Act. 3. 26. Thirdly, To Man, with relation first unto God, fignifying,

1. To praise or give him thanks, 2 Cor. 1. v. 3.

2. To curfe, 1 King. 21. 10, 13. Secondly, to himfelf, fignifying,

To flatter and please ones self, and to boast of his doings to others, Pal. 10. 3. Deut. 29. 19. Also in good part, when he holdeth himself happy in the God of truth, Ia. 65. 16.

To others, fignifying,

1. To wish and pray for good things to others, Gen.

2. To falute, Gen. 47. 7.
3. By way of prayer or prophetic to pronounce good things in the name of the Lord, Numb. 6. 23, 24.

4. To consecrate, or prepare, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

5. To congratulate or praise, Gen. 14. 19. Fourthly, to other Creatures, noting that thankfulness which they are to render unto God in their feveral kinds, Pfal. 102.

To blefs abundantly To heap benefits upon one; or plentifully and effectually to give good things, Heb. 6. 14. I · will ahundantly bless thee.

2. To wish and pray (as a Priest of the high God) for good things to be given others, Heb. 7.6. And blessed bim who had the promises.

'Biefs and curse not Well wishing and speaking, Rom.
12. 14. Bless and turse not. The repetition of this precept, by the contrary, shews that this duty cannot be done without difficulty; namely, to an enemy which shall curse us: and also that it ought to be done with constancy, not once or twice, or "by fits, but always as occasion is offered.

"Mo blefs the Cup of Bleen Thankigiving to God for the gift of his Son, with a request to blefs the creatures to such tend as God ordained them.

Mo blefs the februth pap To fanctific and ordain it to an tholy ufe, even for divine worthip, by meditation of his works and words, and by other godly exercises; also by ceasing from fervile and finful works, Gen. 2. 3. God bleffed the seventh day and ballowed it. The sacred rest of a seventh day, both in Old and New Testament, is of divine institution, Act. 1. 2. & 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 2. Rev. 1. 10. Elfe there were not ten but nine Commandements, if it were but a bare policy, or humane conflitution, or Ecclefiaflical tradition, as Rhemiss say.

'Blood | Cruel flaughter and death, which should happen by the plague of war upon the Antichristian Armies or Souldiers which fight for the Pope, as a just and meet recompence of that cruel flaughtering and shedding the blood of Gods chil-dren. Rev. 16. 4. The Rivers and fountains of water became blood. These Rivers and Fountains some expound of the Jefuites; whence other Papifts draw instructions (as the Sea is nourished by fountains and rivers: ) the turning of these into blood, is the putting of those to death, which were chief blood, is the putting of those to death, which were chief Masters in Popery; which was done in this our Kingdom and Dominion, 1581, when an act was made to make their coming into the Realm (to diffwade Subjects from their Allegiance) to he Treafon.

Blood: Not only in regard that their waters themselves are blood, the doctrine and worship which they do hold forth to the people are corrupt as their Sea is, (like the plagues in Egypt, when their waters and rivers were turned into blood) but chiefly in regard of the punishment which they inflict on them for so doing, which is a bloody death. Leigh. Annot.

From this Phyal the flate of the Beast was to come to that pass. that the Ministers and defenders thereof, now changing course, should be compelled to undergo the same slaughter wherewith they had been accustomed to flay the Saints and Prophets of God, while their Government flourished, as it is plainly fet forth, verf. 5.

*By whom we have redemption through his blood. And often in the Epistle to the Romans and the Hebrews, and throughout Paul's Epistles, is the bloud of Christ (one part of his sufferings) put Synecdochically for the whole fufferings visible and invisible. 'Therefore it is abfurd to flick to the Letter, concluding from thence that Christs outward visible sufferings were sufficient. ' For from the Letter of Scripture, it will follow, that if this blood-'shedding was enough, therefore his flesh might be spared, and fall the pains felt therein; also his foul, with the heaviness and forrow thereof, whereof there was as great need as of the reft. 'For Christ suffered nothing in vain, and our soul having sinned, eyea, and that principally, it was therefore to be redeemed with ono less than our bodies, even by the proper soul-offerings of Christ, else the accessary had been more hardly handled than the principal.

Because the bloody sacrifice of the Jews figured Christ his death; hence so much mention of blood in the New Testa-6 ment.

*2. The bloud of Christ, by which God the Father had agreed and promised to save us; and for which we promise ever to serve him, Heb. 10.29. as Heb. 8.10. & 10.16.

'Blood of a dead man The cruel wars which God would 'send upon the Popish Kingdoms, which should be as a Sea of bloud, wherein men should dye by the sword, as the fishes dyed in Egypt, when the waters were turned into bloud. Rev. 16. 2. The Sea became as the bloud of a dead man.

The Sea in the Antichristian world is the whole compass of the Papal Society, wherewith not only feveral Christians, but whole Nations, peoples, Kingdoms, Provinces, Diocesses, otherwife among themselves disjoyned and severed, are gathered together in one: Or thus, The Antichristian Sea is the compass of the Popes jurisdiction or Dominion compassing and involving (as the Sea doth the Land) men and Nations worshipping Christ. The second Vial being poured out upon this Sea, presently it became as the bloud of a dead body, or cold congealed bloud. Such as the bloud is wont to be of those that are dead and flain, or of amember cut off, while it is deftitute of the influence of spirit and heat, all commerce with the fountain of life being diffolved. The sense is. The Pontifical Sea was destroyed, as it were, with death, beheading, or flaughter. This was fulfilled, when by the labour of Luther and other famous Reformers of the Church of that Age, God wonderfully bleffing their undertakings, not now fome fingle persons only of the common people of Christendom, but even whole Provinces, Diocesses, Kingdoms, Nations, and Cities, renounced communion with those of the Beast, and there being made a great dismembring of the Dominion, which was so large in time past, they departed from the body of the Beast. By which event, the Sea of the Popes Dominion became dead for a great part of it like the blood of a dead body; in which the Popes creatures could no longer breath and live. Mede.

Blood and water ] Joh. 19.34. There were Hereticks of the first ages which affirmed Christ to have suffered death only in appearance; but the coming out of this blood and water, upon the piercing of his fide, confuterh them; for there being a capfula on the left fide of the heart, called the pericardium, which hath water in it of continual use, for the cooling of the heart, the coming out of the water with the blood here, was a testimony of the wounding his very heart, the entring of that iron, the Spear, into his foul, and very neart, the entring of that hot, the open, and in only and of the mater also was the emblem of all spotless purity, and the blood was the evidence of his fortitude and constant patience, laying down his life for the truth of God; both ferving against those two baits or temptations, whereof the Gnoflicks made use to seduce the orthodox Christians, namely the allurements of carnal pleasures, and terrors from apprehension of persecutions; Christs purity represented by the water, serving against the former; as his patience, represented by the blood, against the other. "Hook The Prophetie or Book of Revelation (as appeareth by opening the feals of the Book here shewed John in a Vision) containing the decrees, counsels, and will of God the Father, touching the government of the world, namely, of his Church, crill Christ come. Whereas these counsels are written in a Book, it signifies the certainty of them, that they are surely determiened. And whereas the Book was written within and without, (after the fathion of writing in Parchments, usual in those times) it fignifieth the largeness of this Prophesie, that there be many things to be revealed. And whereas it is fealed with feven feals, it fignifies these decrees only to be known to God, until he was pleased to manifest them: and whereas no creature was able to open the Book, or to look on it, this fignifies both the difficulty and dignity of these secrets, that they must be with great honour reverenced, Revel. 5. 1. I fam a Book written.

Another Book was opened Rev. 20.12. The Book of life chap. 3.5. To exempt the godly from condemnation, chap. 21.27. Phil. 4.3. Men write in a book the names of those they intend to deliver or prefer. Annot.

"To eat this Book ] To hide the knowledge of it in the cheart, and to diget it by godly meditation, Rev. 10. 9. The it, and eat it up. The effect of this Book should be sweetness (like the sweetness of honey) in the mouth, but bitterness in the belly. To know and believe it, brings exceeding delight to the christian mind; but the earnest desire to vent and publish it to others, the heaviness and forrow for the contemning of it, shall be as gall to Gods Servants. In this phrase there is allusion to that in Ezek. *3.3. Jer. 15.16. Job 32.

*200k OF Life | The decree of Godselection, chufing some men freely to life eternal in Christ. This is called a Book, because the elect are as certainly known to God, as if he had their names written in a Book Rev.21.27. In the Lambs Book of life, Phil. 4. 3. E30k of Predestination, Exod. 32. 32. Isa.

4.3. The Scriptures, because first the way and means of eter-" nal life are shewed and taught therein, and the precepts of that: "fecondly, the rewards of good life are therein promifed, and " described to be in eternal life.

· Book of Life: Gods immutable and eternal Decree, wherein (as in a Book) the names of the Elect are written (as Souldiers names use to be written in a Muster-book.) Upon this most firm and merciful decree of falvation to eternal life by Chrift, doth depend the election of the godly, who otherwise are not without many blots, and very foul ones too, in their Consciences, which yet are wiped out by the blood of Christ, according to Gods everlafting love and purpose. Rev. 21.27. Written in the Lambs book of life. Also Rev. 22.19.

*Little Book ] The Scripture, containing the doctrines of 'grace, by the powerful preaching whereof, in the latter end of the world, Antichrist is to be overthrown, as hath been begun to be fulfilled through the publishing of the divine truth written in that Book, by Luther, Wieliff, and others. Revel. 10.8. Go and take the little Book. So verf. 9,10. Some expound the taking of this little Book to be the reftoring of Prophefie, or Preaching the truth unto the Church, which is all one with the former.

This Christ opens to the world, and holds it open, though Antichrift would shut up the truth, and did a long time. Lighs An-

But the Text doth never flew that the Book within is opened and offered up patent not one till now in this sour feventh age, wherein Christ here, verf.2. not only opens all the Prophetical mysteries thereof, but also, ver.9. offereth the same to the Church under the person of the Prophet; As thirdly, ordaineth them to preach the same over again openly and patently to the whole world, where through without all queftion this is the time of knowledge, even presently; of which Daniel fpeaketh, chap. 12.4. * Bozorrs of Cold The heavenly graces of the holy Spirit, wherewith (as with gold and precious ornaments) Christ doth more and more deck his Church and every faithful foul, which have well used their former gifts, Cant. 1. 11. We will make thee borders of gold.

The word for borders is rendered rows, or lines; figures and pictures, pendants. All express great wealth and glory; the preciouíneis and variety of spiritual administrations, which were but as iron under the Law, but now are gold, 2 Cor. 7, 11.

He spake before (ver.10.) of rows simply, now he addeth of gold; either to significe more excellent Ordinances and graces under the Gospel than under the Law, (as he promiseth, for brass, I will iring gold, &c. Isa.60.17.) that should proceed from faith and love, and not from sear as she was under the bridle of the Law (for we should not be like borse and mule, whose jaw must be bound with bit and bridle. Pfal 22.9. and vield obedience by constraint) or it meeneth a new supply of graces, so that we are chinged into the linage of God, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord, 2 Cor.3.18. The promises may respect both the rules, Ordinances, gifts and graces bestowed on his people, Prov.20-15. and the persons themselves that are furnished with those graces: as the precious sons of Zion, are said to be comparable to fine gold, Lam 4.1. Aynsw. Mr. Cotton understandeth the borders of Ala's Kingdom pure as gold, by cleanfing and putting away all the Idols, out of all quarters of Judah, yea and of Benjamin also, and mount Ephraim, the very skirts and frontiers, and borders of the Kingdom. Nor marel at fuch enlargement of one and the fame divine grace, more hammered by the same spirit: for gold the shadow of such substantial grace, by the mallet will be wonderfully enlarged. "Testament, to be a part of Hell, called Limbus Patrum, wherein such as died before Christ his time did rest, feeling no pain, nor yet any joy and pleasure (contrary to the 25. vers. of the 16. chap. of Lukes Gospel, Now Lazarus is comforted) from whence Christ delivered them after his death, when he went down into hell to harrow it, and to pull fouls out of it into Heaven, which 'they feign to be shut against men during the time of the old Teflament, contrary unto that Scripture, Eccl. 12.9. The fbirit returns to God who gave it: and to plain reason; for such as were be-· lievers in Christ to come, they had salvation of their souls as the end of their faith. But it is the most blessed comfortable life, which they (that die in that faith that Abraham did) shall enjoy 'after this life in heaven, Luk. 16.21. 4. For Boughs, which Trees put forth, as the Earth put out Corn in Harvest, Isa. 27. 11. Psal. 80. 11. Annot. on Job

Joseph is a fruitful bough, Gen. 49. 22. In the Hebrew [7] [2], filius fruitsens, a fruitsiying Son; that is, a bough or branch which springeth out of the Tree, as a Son from the Father. The Greek faith, a growing Son, so the Chaldee. Avnfmorth.

The Lord [hall top the bough, Ifa. 10. 33. Hereby is meant, that God would cut down the chief and principal, those of greatest state and might in Senacherib's Army, such as are likened to high Boughs and tall Trees, chap.2.13,18. ch.18.5. Annot.

By Boughs in Pfal. 80. 10, 11. may figuratively, be understood the beauty, increase and extent of the Church, as in Ezek. 31. 6.

and Dan.4.12. Dominion and protection.

"Mo take hold of the Boughs of the Palms \ To dress, etrin, and purge, by the Spirit, Word, and affictions, the Militant Church, which is like a Palm-tree, into which the husbandman must climb and lay hold on every Bough, that he may dress the same to make it fruitful, Cant. 7.8. I will take hold of her boughs.

The Palm-tree hath no branches nor boughs on the fides, or on the Body, but all grow together on the very top: Wherein the Church of God should be like that tree, having all the branches exalted from the World, and collected into one united company, who without any ftraglings or dividings should aspire towards Heaven, and begin their conversation there even upon earth, for then will Christ take hold on her boughs, or tops, (for so the Hebrew word which is pecu iar to this place, and found no where else in Scripture, fignifies) that is, will both dress them as the careful Gardner purgeth his trees, and likewife pre-ferve and keep them, that all their fruits may be gathered, and none destroyed. Annot. So in effect Aynsw.

Bought from the Garth | The elect of God the Father, redeemed by Christ, sealed up to the day of Redemption by the holy Spirit, by whose effectual sanctification they have escaped the fellowship of the false Church, fignified by earth, as it were brands pulled out of the fire, and are made members of the true Church, even God his fincere 'Worshippers. These alone can praise the Lamb with joyful hearts, Rev. 14. 3. Forty four thousand were bought (redeemed) from the earth.

My bowels were moved for him, Cant.5.4. These good Princes Martianus, both the Theodofii, Leo Hauricus, Constantines son, and Leo Copronymus) and other Christians at that time were strongly and inwardly affected to the purity of Gods worship, in which alone Christ is found. Cotton.

My heart and bowels yearned within me for Christ, and for the remorfe of my fo long fore-flowing his admittance unto me.

God suffereth not his to lie still in security, as he doth the wicked: but one time or other awakeneth them out of the fleep of fin, how long soever they continue in it. As the second degree of repentance is a conceiving of comfort, a raifing up our felves by the fweet promifes of the Gofpel (implied in the following words, I rose up to open to my beloved) so the first is a yearning of the heart, compunction of foul and fpirit; coming from a fight of our fins, and preaching of the law, 1 Sam. 24. 6. Jer. 31. 19. contrarily the wicked, Jer. 8.6. for both see Act. 21.37,38, 39.

Or, my belly was troubled, or inflamed, or founded in me at his outh was rounded, or requirement of pointed with a control touch. So here is the great effect of fpiritual vifications; close and full workings of Christ in the heart, shake her within and move powerfully, so that our bowels and dearest affections are ftirred and kindled by them, and we cannot but be mightily troubled, for displeasing him before. Thus their hearts burned, Luk. 24.32. and thus the more presentially any soul feels the divine power in such operations, the more doth it both see its own weakness, and is confounded for it: And the more Christ is known and loved, the more we lament our own unworthiness, left any thing in us should cause him to depart; or may offend and grieve his Spirit. Annat.

16.20ak | Until the day break, Cant.2.17. & 4.6. until the day of thy glorious appearance (O my Saviour) shall shine forth to the world. Hall.

The two principal things that a Christian is to wish for, and defire after, are perfection in heaven, by the coming of Jefus Christ, and constancy, or perseverance unto that day. Finch.

Or, breath, or dawn; for at the break of day, there useth to be a kind of foft air or breath which the Sun causesh by resolving the cold vapors of the night; and so doth the Sun of righteousness when he ariseth, till when the Church sitteth in a kind of darkness and night, 2 Pet. 1.19. So that she beggeth or professeth a constant protection and provision from Christ, until the time of refreshment shall come, when she shall enjoy an accomplisht and eterrepreparent place come, which includes you accompute and ever-nal morning of happiness, but the wicked shall rot in their gloomy dungeon, Plal-49-144 Annot.

The Spouse here in the night and darkness of her tribulation and temptation, defireth Christ to be ready at hand for her help by the comfort of his Word and Spirit. The dawning or break of this day, is the sense and feeling of inward joy and comfort by the Word and Spirit, 2 Pet. 1.19. Ayriw.

The Church upon earth as it were in the night, as some take it, under the shadows of the law, which should and did sty way after that clear day of Christs Resurrection, but it may be more fitly extended to the second coming of the Bridegroom. for then indeed shall be the perfect clear day. Giffard. See Day-

She brike the box, Mark 14.3. The Greek corrections, in the active doth not naturally fignific to break, but to knock, to beat, or shake together, or to rub or scrape. If it fignific contunders, or conquaffare, to knock or shake: then the meaning will be, that she shook the veffel or knockt it against the ground, that it might run the more fluently, and that the more corpulent might rife from the bottom, and then the poured it on his head. But if it fignific conterere, then it refers to the infrument ordinary among Apothecaries, to rub or ferape the infide of the veffel, that the owntment flick not to it. Dr. Ham. Annot b.

Thy breafts to clusters, Cant. 7. 7. & vers. 8. Thy breafts shall be as clusters of the Vine, fignifying hereby that her breasts were not only fashioned, as in Ezek. 16. 7. but full of milk to nourish her children, and of the wine of heavenly consolations, which they that love her, may suck and be satisfied, as Isa. 66. 11. So that now the flate of the Church is not, as when complaint was made, there is no cluster to eat, Mic.7.1. but as when new mine was found in the Cluster: and he faid, Destroy it not, for a bleffing is in it, Isa. 65.8. Aynfw.

The phrase in vers. 8. is an assurance or promise of a blefling to her from the Lord, filling her with the juyce of grace; but it may be taken also as a wish, Let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine, Have not thou a micarrying womb, and dry breafts, as Hos. 9. 4. but grow in grace and in knowledge.

But both import the same thing, and the benediction of Christ always goeth along with his promise. Annot.

By my presence I will cause thee to be more plentiful in all good works and doctrine, so as thou shalt afford abundance of heavenly liquor unto all the thirfty fouls of thy children.

'Mo breafts] No true doctrine or fincere milk of the Word, either to convert and beget children to God, or to nourish them up, being born anew, Cans 8.8. We have a little fifter, and she hath no breasts. This was the case of the Gentiles in the time of their ignorance, before their vocation to Christ.

Or, without breafts, as having yet no flablished Ministry, (for such is the state of the Churches in their beginning, Act. 14. 23. Tit. 1.5.) fo that her children could not suck out the fincere milk of the Word, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, Pet.2.2. Isa.66.11. Aynfw.

She wanted breafts, that is, Pastors and Teachers to feed and nourish her, who like so many Paranymphs, to a Virgin-Bride, might adorn her, and lead her to Christ; having her breast fashioned, as themselves had, Ezek. 16.7. Annot. So in effect cotton, Breafts as Towers | Plentiful doctrine, and spiritual milk enough, both to beget and nourish multitudes of children to God, the Breafts of the Church being waxed as big as Towers, Cant. 8. 10. My breafts are as Towers.

The fimilitude of Towers noteth also the ftrength, power, and glory of the administration of the Gospel, and the open Preaching of it out of Pulpits, or high places, that all may hear, for Migdal a Tower is used for a Pulpit, in Neh. 8. 4.

"Mino breafts The two Testaments of the Lord, the Old and New, by the alone Doctrine whereof (and by none other) the Church doth bring forth and nourish children to God, Cant.4.5. Thy two breasts are like two young Roes, Cant. 7.7, 8. also 8.1. The Geneva notes expound them of knowledge and zeal: but the former interpretation is better.

The two breatts These are both for ornaments and for use. as experience in nature and these Scriptures shew, Ezek. 16. 7. Isa. 66. 11. So here the breasts of Christs Spouse are likened to Roes for pleasantness, to Fawns or young Roes for smallness, to twins for equalizing; and to Roes feeding among Lillies, as in fat and fweet pafture. Hereby is fignified how the Church is fruitful in good works, and comfortable words, and communication of all Gods bleffings, so that by her loving affection, wholesom doctrines, fweer consolations, and gracious beneficence, her children are delighted, and fucking the fincere milk of the Word, do grow there-

Some understand hereby the Ministers and Pastors of the Churches, which should be (as Paul was) both the fathers and mothers thereof, 1 Cor.3.1. Gal 4-19. not only to beget, but to feed and nourish them; yet with no other but those two breaks of holv Scripture, and the fincere milk thereof, which are as the twins of Kids or Rocs, both for the purity of their nourishment and for the agreement; the one being confonant to the other, not only in the matter of them, but the very form and method alfo, as the Learned observe. Annot.

That fucked the breaks of my Mother: Cant. 8. 1. All brethren do not love alike, nor any according to the ordinary observation so much as those that are Collactanei, fed by the same breasts and milk; and that have one mother both to bear and nurse them. I am bound to love and honour all the Churches and Saints of God, but chiefly her that brought me forth, and them that fucked the the same breasts with me. Annot.

That is, every way most nearly conjoyned, as having both one Father, and one Mother. Between brethren of the fame Mother. the affections and love are most vehement. Gen. 43. 29, 30, 34 The Mother is Jerusalem which is above, which is the Mother of w all, and fignifieth the New-Testament, or Covenant of grace and freedom, Gal.4.24, 26. and to fuck the breafts of this Mather, is to participate of her grace and confolations, Ifa.66.10,11. & 60.16. And Christ is then fail to such these breads, when the Covenant or Testament is by him confirmed, and stablished to and with his people, openly professed, and the communion of graces mutually doth grow. Aynfm.

Dr. Hall, Serjeant Finch, and Mr. Tomfon, understand this of the manifesting of God in the flesh, as spoken by the Jewish Church desirous to see him cloathed in the flesh, and partaking the same humane nature with her.

Their breaft-plates of iron fignific their outward defence, by which they have made themselves very strong, to maintain themfelves against all whom they account enemies. Of this fort they have many, whereof this is the leaft? that they (Popish Priests) are exempt from fecular centure, which uturped immunity imboldneth them to live at the greater liberty, and is indeed an iron defence against such as both would and should punish their gross enormities. Whence also proceeds hardness of heart, and obstinacy in their error, which many of the Interpreters think to be fignified ty their breast-plates of iron. Comper.

Beign words. Lection of Engineening, and the proof, meaning, most bright, polified (fining) fair and glorious. The chaldte Paraphrast applyeth this, and the rest mentioned in this verse to the body of the Church of Israel, the tweive Tribes, who shined (as he saith) like Lamps, were polished in their works like Elephants tooth, or Ivory, and shone like Saphirs.

Both these rich pearls of Nature, we find usual emblems of chaftity and temperance, for the Elephant is observed to be a most continent creature, and the Saphire (as the Secretaries of Nature tell us) is of a cooling and refrigerating quality; and was not Christ the miraculous example of all true holy abstinence and moderation; who gave us a copy in his own fasting and mortification which we ought carefully to take out and follow?

Brotherly fellowship is the communion of Brethren, when 'all Gods bleffings, both inward and outward, as occasion and 'need requireth, are communicated by charity, all to the mutual help one of another. It confifts not only in rejoycing and being merry together (though in a religious manner,) much eless in such worldly mirth, as they delight in, which are commonly called Good fellows: but in the right use of all good egifts being applyed to the good of the Brethren absent from as, as well as prefent with us, according to our opportunities and 6 means.

'Bzotherly kindnels' That inward affection of love, 'whereby we embrace the Christian Brethren more nearly than "we doall others. 2 Pet. 1.7. And unto love joyn brotherly kindness." Note: Love reacheth to all men to whom it may do good, but Brotherly kindness only to Christian Brethren. Love is as the Hall, whereinto all comers are received; but Brotherly kindeness is as the Parlor, whereinto more near friends and special ac-' quaintance are received and admitted.

Buff) In Hebrew, 730 rendred by the Sepruagint, & at 9. retained by our Saviour in his answer unto the Sadduces, Mar. 12. 26. and there translated Bush, but in Luk. 6.44. a bramble bush. And hence Mount Sinai, had its name from the plenty of bushes there growing; or for that the stones found there, yea, the fragments of stone, had thereon the resemblance hereof; or for that in this mountain was that bush wherein God appeared unto Moles. It's but low, never groweth up unto any just height, is of no efteem, barren, and so full of sharp prickles, that birds without losing their feathers cannot enter thereinto. This did figure out the base and contemptible estate of the Israelites in Egypt: figure out the bale and contemptible citate of the infatures in Egypt. And though this may foon be burnt, yet would God make choice to appear out of this, in a flame of fire, which yet should not burn it, Exod. 3. 2. Camei Hereof frequent mention is made in Scripture. There re three kinds of them.

The first called Hugiun, of huge stature and strength, able to carry a thousand pound weight.

The second called Becheti, with two bunches on the back fit for carriage, and to ride upon, of which they have only in Afia.

The third called Raguabill, meagre and fmall, able to travel (for they are not used to burthens) above an hundred miles in a day, Purcas Pilg. lib.6. cap.1. Sett.2.7.705.

They will not drink of clear water, but of flimy and muddy, and therefore flamp in it with their feet. They will indure their thirst for divers days together, but when they come to drink, they fuck in above measure. They couple together in fecret, and abhor incestuous copulation. They are docible, and being high are taught to kneel down that their burthens may be put upon them; nor will they carry more than usual, nor go further than their accustomed baiting place. Though mists and rain may obscure the way from the Rider, yet do they go on without all flaggering. Its hair is profusble for garments, Mat. 3. 4. They live long in the foil where they are bred; not fo, being removed from thence. How great it is, is implyed, Matth. 23.24. & 19. 24. Being weary in their journey, not threats, or blows, but pleafant fongs incite them to go on. They are of an hot constitution, and their milk wholesome. A little meat ferves their turn. They have many ventricles for the better digestion of their food. If any of their number be fick, the rest sympathize therewith. Horses slee from them. Of them Abraham had store, Gen. 24. 35. Camelion | Hereof mention is made, Lev. 11. 30. It's of a changeable colour, able at one time to look two feveral wayes, upon two several objects. It will fast a whole year together. In flead of noftrils and ears it hath certain passages in those places, whereby it smelleth and heareth. It hath a certain moisture in its back parts, wherewith flies are delighted to their own destruction. It always gapes, as if it lived only of the air. Its enemies are the Crow, Hawk, and Scrpent. The Crow being poyloned thereby, is recovered by eating a bay-leaf. The Hawk that is a deftroyer of others, is not able to reful it. Against the Serpent it defendeth it self by holding a broad strong stalk in its mouth; and observing the Serpent sleeping, out of his mouth he casteth a thred like a Spiders, at the end whereof hangeth a drop of poyson as bright as any pearl, which toucheth the Serpent, he immediately dyeth. Its a most fearful creature, and changeth it self into any colour, fave white and red. It hath a fnout like a fow, and goeth most slowly. Hereunto Sycophants, Flatterers, Tyrants may be fit-

This may be understood, either of our forfaking the Legal ceremonies which were administred within the Camp, (or, Tent) cleaving stedfast to Christ and his Doctrine; and of our forfaking the world in our affections, viz. of our denying our felves, and taking up Christs Cross and following him.

"Camphire] My Beloved is unto me as a cluster of Camphire, Cant. 1.14. or cypress. camphire is a sweet gumm; but cypress is a tree whose fruit groweth in clusters and is also sweet. The Hibrew name copher, (from which both Camphire and Cypress feem to be derived) usually fignifieth Atonement, Propitiation, or Redemption, according to which interpretation the holy Ghost may here have reference to the work and fruit of Christs death, whereby he became a cluster of redemption unto his Church, being a Propitiation for the fins of the whole world, I Joh. 2. 2. the sweemess whereof is refembled by a cluster (which is of many berries compacted together) of the sweet cypress: for that his bloud cleanseth from all sin, 1 Joh. 1. 7. and is accompanyed with all other graces. Heb.3-17. Nhofe carkaffis full in the wilderness, rai rana, joynts, limbs, members, badies, the parts put for the whole, (which by little and little languished) yet the word members is very emphatical. Come into a field where a fore battel hath been fought, and you shall find here a leg, and there an arm, one member in this place, another in that; for their members were feattered in the Wildernes, some lay in this place, some lay in that. They fell, some one way, some another; some stung to death by Serpents;

Oh what destruction can fin bring upon thousands in a short time! However men and women pamper their bodies, are proud of their beauty, ftrength, &c. will they not be carkasses ere long? The foul dieth not with the body; Their carkalies fell; their fouls did not.

"(Tarkaffes, or Co2ps) The dead bodies of the Saints, but effectally of the Prophets of God, exposed and laid forth to opprobry and the scorn of the world by the followers of Anti-chrift. Rev. 11. 8. And the carkassis (dead bodies) shall be in the streets of the great city. Ver. 9. And they shall not suffer their carkasses (dead bodies) to be burged. Hereby is expressed the the great cruelty of the Papists, not content to kill the servants of God, and that with torment, but dishonour their dead bodies, by casting them in the streets, and denving burial to them. Alfo by a proportion, these carkasses may be expounded of the holy Scriptures: whereof the Papifts have but (as it were) the bare and naked corps, having by their gloffes and interpretations, of the (so falsily called) Apostolick Sea, corrupted the sense and true meaning of them, which is the life and foul of the Scrilables.

Whether this be to be taken for a part of cruelty, or benefit, it is doubtful; nor is it to be determined but by the fulfilling of the prophefie; for it may be taken either as proceeding from enemies, adding this diffrace to the great flaughter which they had made, to wit, the denyal of burial to the dead bodies of the flain; or as from friends and favourers of the witnesses, to wit, by this means providing for them, as it were, by and by to rise again: For howfoever it was otherwise a part of great cru-elty, not to bury the dead, and to be cast out unburied was effeemed especially among the Jews, for an exceeding ignominy; yet those which were so slain, that they were not plainly in dispair, but that they might be restored to life again, it is to be accounted a benefit to hinder them a little while from close burial. If we hold the latter, some rescue from the reformed people feemeth to be intimated, for fear of whom, as being in multitude, the greatest part by far, and therefore the wound being yet fresh, and things not as yet setled, not to be provoked to desperation without danger; or at least by secret means and savour, it should come to pass, that the witnesses should not be so dealt with, that there were no hope of reviving.

Carmel | Knowledge of Circumcifion. A City, Josh. 15.

Carmel Thine head upon thee, is like Carmel, Cant. 7.5. A mountain where Elijah killed the Baalists, and prayed for rain, 1 King. 18. 19, 20, 42. It was also a place inhabited by Nabal, 1 Sam. 25. 2, 5. It seemeth to have been very fertile, Nah. 1. 4. for a fruitful place is called Carmel, opposed to a barren wilderness, Isa. 29. 17. & 32. 15. & 33. 9. Jer. 4. 26. Thus, her head likened to Carmel, may fignifie her mind filled with the knowledge of God, and fruitful in graces; so God promising the restauration of his Church, saith, Israel shall feed on Carmel. &c. Jer. 50-19. and fore-telling the glory of Christs Kingdom, faith, The glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the exercisency of Carmel and Sharon, &c. Isa. 35, 2. The word is used also for crimson, (as it's set down in the margin) or Scarlet colour, 2 Chron. 3. 14. which may be also meant here; her hair after being likened to purple, and these were colours worn of Princes and great personages, and so meet for this Princes daughter, (ver. 1.) and for the attire of her head, on which she weareth the hope of Salvation (through the bloud of Chrift, which these colours also prefigured) for an helmet, I These 5. 8. Caught Rev. 12.5. And her children was caught up unto God, dangle and to his throne. Napier, Fox, Junius, comper, with some others understand this of Christs ascension. But this cannot be here meant, for this John knew before, as being written in the Gospel; and many things passed between Christs death, and his ascension. Neither was Christ caught up by another power, as we, 1 Thesi. & 68. 18. Ephef. 4. 8, 9, 10. to wit, by his own power. An-

And Christ is no where called the Churches Son, and the words caught up are unfit to fer out Christs ascension, who is said to go up, Act. 1.9. and to ascend. Lastly here is no naming of heaven (usually mentioned where Christs ascension is spoken of) but of God and his throne, which as they are in heaven whereunto Christ ascended; so are they in the Revelation to be understood to be here in Gods Church, where, as in heaven, he fetteth his throne, chap.4.2. Bernard.

Brightman, and our Annotator, understand Constantine the Brigotman, and our Annotator, understand companions the Great (and his fucceffors advanced to the Roman Empire, and made Gods Deputy, fitting as it were on Gods throne (1 Chr. 2). 23.) advanced into chief government for the defence and refreshing of the Church, and curbing the rage of those imperial Dragons.

Dr. Taylor understands by it not one singular person, but some porent Princes or special deliverers, whom God stirred up to succour and relieve the Church against those Tyrannical Romish Emperors, and Persecutors. Leighs Annot.

This was then fulfilled (faith Mr. Mede) when as Christians bare the sway under Constantine the Great, and his Successors, the Dragon being thrown down.

Mr. Bernard thus, Now one of the Sons of the Church, a Chrifrian professing Christ, was marvellously preserved of God from the rage of Heathen Tyrants, and exalted unto Gods throne, that is, to be next the Lord in the highest place in his Church.

The like phrase is Isa. 66.7. It cannot be understood of Christ, for it is a Prophesie of things to come after John's time. But if this birth was either of Christ personally, or of Christ mystically, that is, of the begetting of him in mens hearts by the preaching of the Gospel, then it was of that which was already, and not that which was to come to passafterwards. Moreover, we do not fay, the Church travelleth with Christ to bring him forth, as a Son to her, which is her head and Soveraign. It is not faid, Gal. 4. 19. that Paul travelled of Christ, but of them, to form Christ in them by his Ministery. This Man-child than, is some potent Prince, as the next words following declare, who was to rule over all Nations, with great power for the Churches good, whose Son indeed he was. Bernard Annot.

As overshadowing bryars, thorns, or weeds, keeping the Sunbeams from the Corn, and with more ftrong and rank roots drawing away the fatness of the earth (which otherwise should nourish the corn) and thereby hinder it from all maturity of fruit; so do cares and pleasures in the souls. Indeed such a severe justice of God followeth the contempt and neglect of his Word, as that where it mendeth not, it leaveth the hearer much more condemnable. Hence cometh it so often to pass, that when men for the present having their consciences convinced by the Word they have heard, and being moved by the evident power thereof to repent, and refolve to become new men; yet they presently fall back again into their old wicked courses; so that a man might probably think that they had rather repented of their repentance than of their fins; and that they had not before so much repented for that they had lived wickedly, as afterward, for that they had promifed that they would live well. Confider this you foolish Libertines, who think it enough if you frequent good Sermons, though you prefently after return to your filthy fins. Indeed Gods Word is the fouls antidote, and fin its poylon. But what can the antidote profit, which hath more poylon poured down upon it? Annot.

2. To mortifie and subdue the flesh, with the lusts thereof. 'Jer.4.4. Be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskin of your hearts. This is to circumcife spiritually; and thus much is meant in all places where circumcifion of the heart is called for: even a correcting of finful nature, and the corrupt defires " thereof.

'3. To have the fore-skin of the flesh cut or pared away, with this opinion of obtaining righteousness and eternal life, by circumcifion, being yet in force as some Jews thought, Gal. 5. 2. If ye be circumcifed Christ shall profit you nothing. There be two reasons given in Scripture, why circumcision could not justifie 'finners: One, because Christ is the end of the Law for righteouineis to the believers, Rom. 10.5. The fecond, because Abraham was in order of time justified long before he was circumcifed, Rom. 4. 10. 11. And these reasons are strong against 'Justification by all works of the law universally; for a man must first be justified ere he can do a good work: also the perfect righteousness commanded in the Law, is no where inherent or subjective, but in the manhood of Christ, who ime puteth it to all fuch as believe in him, without any works required thereunto, but only that faith which worketh by love, 'Gal. 5.6.

Cloathed in Sackcloath Men full of grief and lamentation, as if they did always faft and mourn. Also, firirring up others to repent, and be forrowful for their Idolatry, and other works of darkness, whereof wearing Sackcloath is a fign and token. Finally, this cloathing his Winteles with Sack-cloth, admonisheth that Christ would call men to repentance, even by very mean and contemptible Servants, covered not even by very mean and contemptible Servants, covered not with Purple, but with a Sack. Rev. 11. 3. They shall Prophese 1260 days, statude in Sackstoath: This alludeth to the fashion of the old Prophets, who were thus apparelled.

'Sitting on a cloud A glory peculiar to Christ, who as he ascended sitting on a Cloud; so at his second coming, he fhall return gloriously (a Cloud being to him in stead of a Chariot or Throne rather ) as in Act. 1. and Rev. 1. 7. & 14. 15. Crying to bim that (at on the Cloud. Some Divines (not without great flew of reason ) interpret this cloud here spoken of, of Civil powers, lifted up as Clouds in the air; and him who fat on it, to be fuch Rulers and Princes as Chrift did use for the furthering of his Church, and hindering the Kingdom of Antichrift. The reason is, because the Son of Man who fat upon this Cloud, doing all at the Commandment of the Angel, as appeareth in the words of this Text, cannot, be Christ Jesus, who is subject only to his Father, and that he is a Mediator. This latter exposition seemeth for this reason to be the better.

" [ louds ] Powers, Dignities, Honours, Principalities, in high place, yet not Supream; as clouds which be placed high, yet are under the heavens, Rev. 14. 15. The Angel cryed to him that fat on the cloud.

Cluffers of the Mine | The juyce of heavenly doctrine. abundantly issuing forth of the Old and New Testament (as out of breasts like clusters) to make all believers fruitful, Cant. 7.8. Thy breaks shall now be like the clusters of the Vine.

"Alpe clusters of the Clinepard | The wicked men of the world, which be compared to Clufters, because they grow fo thick, even on heaps. Do but confider how many renounce the name of Chrift, how many are Idolaters amongst such as acknowledg his Name: How many hypocrites and wicked men, even where the Gospel is maintained: And this will appear a meet comparison. Rev. 14.18. Thrust in thy sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard.

Some very learned restrain these Clusters unto Popish religious buildings, and perfons which did abound and flourish, even as a Vine spread full of clusters, and that in this our Kingdom, till the days of Henry the Eighth, when through the zeal and courage of Cranmer and Cromwell (two great men) this Popilh Vine was lopped and cut, yea and rooted out.

The Vine is the Popish Church: Gathering, is taken away: The clusters of grapes, are the multitude of the members of that Church. So destruction of the wicked is set out by a vintage as well as by a harveft, Chap. 19.15. Ifa. 63.1,2,3. Annot.

Coat ] is either Civil, or Sacred. civill, being either Gecial, as that mentioned, Ifa. 22.21. A notable fign or mark of dignity: Or common, of which our Saviour meant, when he willed his Disciples not to have two coats a piece, Luk. 9. 3. intimating, that they were to avoid what might hinder them in the execution of their office. And having two, to impart unto him that had mone, Luke 3. 11. intimating, that of their goods they were to be liberal to the poor. And if any would fue them at the Law, and take away their coat, to let them have their cloak alio, Matt. 5.40. Luk. 6. 29. intimating, that they were patiently to bear with injuries, be free from revenge. Sacred, as the Priests broidered coat, Exod. 28.4. Lev. 16.4. The Spouses mystical coat, Cant. 5.3. Of coats, some were of one kind, fashion, some of another; our Saviours was without seam, Joh. 19.23.

Coat: Dan. 3.21. or mantle, marg. I have put off my Coat, &c. Cant. 5. 3. Here is an ingenuous confession made by the Church of her own unworthings, norwithstanding all Christs heavenly Rhetorick and perswasion that he did use, yet she draws back, and seems to have reason so to do. I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on again to let thee in? It is as if the had faid, I have some ease by this sleepy profession, some freedom from evil tongues, and some exception and immunity from some troubles I was in before, I was then perhaps too indifcreet, now wilt thou call me again to those troubles that I have wifely avoided? No, I have put off my coat, &c. I affect this state very well, I am content to be as I am without troubling my felf. Whence observe that. It is not an easie matter to bring Christ and the Soul together into near fellowship. Sibs.

marg. (Lnck | Hereof all the Evangelists make mention, where they mention Peters denyal, Matth. 26.74. Mark 14.30. Luk. 22.60. Joh. 18.27. It's a proud fowl, and carryeth himself stately. It's much dejected when vanquished by another; when victorious, triumpheth: When it goeth in at any place, it ftoopeth, be the entrance never so high. It's of an hor nature, libidinous, jealous, careful and watchful of its young ones, for whom it will fight against Kites, Snakes, &c. Upon the fight whereof it giveth them warning by his voice to look to themselves. It naturally knoweth the approach of the day, and thereof giveth warning once and again; which time is termed the Cock-crowing, Mark 13. 35. Hereby it inciteth men to rife to work, as Gods Ministers must call men to repent, in respect of the approaching day of Judgement. And as the Cock put Peter in mind of his fall, so must Ministers their people of their sins. And as the Cock before it croweth rougth it felf, and clappeth with his wings, so must Gods Ministers, being to preach unto others, first stir up, reform themselves; manifest by their works, what their doctrine calleth for. They feem to be called anexlogae, as if it were amonexlogges, as calling men and women from their beds. The Cockcrowing awaketh the fleeper, warnoth the careful, terrifieth the thief, comforteth and gladdeth the fick, them that are in pain, travellers, mariners,  $\infty$ : It's also said to foresee tempests and change of weather. Travellers carrying a Cock along with them, are preserved from Lyons and Basilisks. It's also laborious, and industrious, and valorous in fight, doing what it can to obtain the victory. Its brain taken in drink is faid to be good against the biting of Serpents. Its crowing is more vehement and shrill at first (most being then assep) then near day, or when it's day light, when good husbands are awake: even when it feedeth. with the one eye it looks upward, to prevent the Hawk, Kite, &: As the Cock preferreth a barley corn before a pearl, fo do worldlings their mammon before heaven.

Teckatrict A Serpent, of all others the most dangerous, both to man and beast. It's bred (according to some) of the egg of an old Cock hatched by a Toad or Snake. On its head it hath rifings adorned with whitish spots, in the manner of a diadem; and in going lifterly up on high the former part of its body, as if it went upright. It's fo venemous, that neither beafts nor fowls dare touch its dead body, whereof if any should eat, they die juddenly, as also of any creature by it poyioned. It infecteth the air, trees, plants, herbs, what not? It killeth by its breath, by its fight. Such is the force of its poylon, that the hand marg. of him who toucheth it with a staff is incurably infected; and if an horse do but touch it, the rider dieth. It poysonethall other Serpents, who feeing it, or hearing its hitting, flee speedily away. It loveth not the light, but darkness. Some ay, that by seeing it felf, it dieth; the Weafel killeth it, especially having eaten Rue or Hearb-a-grace, and then dieth, as Christ by death vanquished death. The Cock is also its enemy.

Return, Act. 1.11. Ready prest, Plal.

40.7. Arife, Numb.24.17. To be manifest, Rom.7.9.

Come The Church seeing Christ come to her with much willingness and celerity, Cant.2.8. hears him calling upon her to come forth into the comfortable light of his presence, and shew her telf chearful in him, Cant.2.10. To fhake off that dull fecurity wherewith fhe had been held, and come forth and enjoy him, vers.13. Seeing according to her defire he was come into his garden. Cant. 5. 1. she again turning obeyed his call, calleth him to come that they might joyn together in their natural care, Cant. 7. 11. of whom Chrift, who is this that cometh up from the wildernes? Who is this that from the comfortless desarts of ignorance, of infidelity, of tribulation, ascendeth thus up into the glorious light and liberty of my chosen? Cant. 8.5. Hall.

'To come: To invade and take upon him the Tyrannical go-'vernment and power over Gods people, as Antichrift shall do. Rev. 17. 10. Another is not yet come, but when he cometh, &c. Some 'understand this of the Emperor Nerva, and his short and cruel reign, but the former is better and fitter.

Some understand this of the Gothish Kingdom of Italy, for it lasted but a while in comparison of the Emperors, but a short space, but if it be meant of the Pope, it intimateth, that the Popes power shall not abide for ever. It may seem long to those that suffer under it, but it is short in Gods fight, 2 Pet.3.8. and in respect of the eternal happiness of Gods Saints. Rom. 8. 18. 2 Cor. 4. 16, 17,18. a longer time is faid to be fhort, chap. 22. 6, 7, 10,12,20.

'Secondly, To approach, draw near, or be present; so do the 'whole Church present, and that which is to succeed, and every ' member in whom Christ his Spirit dwelleth all and every one 'earneftly defire the full accomplishment of good things, promi-'fed and prophesied of in this Revelation, to be present and to draw near, especially, the Marriage of the Lamb. Rev. 22.17. The Spirit and the Bride fay, Come; and let him that heareth, fay,

"To come down from heaven To have God for the Author and founder (not men) of any thing, or to have a heavenly original and beginning. Rev. 21.2. And I faw new Ferufalem com.

'2. To be deputed and affigned to some great service and work, about the ruinating of Babylon by the appointment of God. Rev. 18.1. Isaw an Angel come down from heaven.

'Thus also is the Devil said to come down into the earth, Rev '12. 2. to fignifie, that he was fent among the reprobate, the children of this world, by the just judgment of God, to execute his vengeance on their fouls and bodies.

To come anon, or quickly To follow or fall out shortly within a small time. Thus the Scripture useth to speak of the last 'day, when eternal wo (here called the third wo) shall be executed upon reprobates; as the end is at hand, the Judge is at the door, there be the last days, or. because in Gods account, 'a thousand years are but as a day. Rev. 11. 14. The third wo shall come anon, or quickly.

'Other learned men think the meaning to be that the calamities 'which shall happen to Gods enemies before the coming of Christ, 'shall be but short in comparison of some miseries which shall happen under the fecond trumper. Both expositions may stand well together.

Come to fulfil these things. Or, to judgment, that we may be with thee for ever. Annot.

The Greek here translateth it goodly or fair, and in vers. 10. beautiful, as the Apostle, Rom. 10. 15. from Isa. 52. 7. This comelines of the Spouse, is after shewed to be both in her fight, or countenance, Cant. 2. 14. and in her speech, Cant. 4. 3. and as blackness is in the colour and skin; so comelines is in the parts, features and proportion of the body, which the Church hath by her creation, or new birth, Eph.2.10. Thus was fhe black in her felf, but comely in Christ; for Gods strength is made perfett in weakness, see 2 Cor. 12. 9,10. & 2 Cor.4.8,9,10. Aynfw.

I am black by nature, but fair by grace; black without, but within all glorious and comely: I am black in my felf and my fufferings, as my Beloved was, (whose visage was marred and disfigured more then any mans, Ila.52.14.) but yet beautiful in him, who was fairer than the sons of men, and hath put his comelines and beauty upon me. I am black in some blasted and dead parts, Apostates and Hypocrites; but in my true and living members I am true and beautiful; for as there may be a decency where there is no perfection; a defirableness and loveliness, even where some spots, (why else would our gallants use so many?) So there may be a true Church full of order and decency, though not perfect and wholely beautiful. Annot.

The word Paraclete in the Greek comes from a word of a large, and so ambiguous fignification, and confequently may be rendred Advacate, Exhorter, or comforter, and every one of these do fitly accord to the offices of the holy Ghoft among the Apoftles (on whom he was to descend) and ever since in the Church, and therefore ought not to be so rendred by any of these, as to exclude the others, but to be left in the latitude of the fignification, which belongs to the Greek word; yet one notion there is of the word. which feems to be especially referred unto, both here, and chap. 16. 8. namely, that of an Advocate or Interlocutor, an Advocate of the Christians cause with God, Rom. 8.26. and so also with Men. teaching the Apostles what they shall say, when they are brought before Kings, Mat. 10. 20. and an Advocate or Actor of Christs cause against the world of Unbelievers and Crucifiers, Joh. 15.26. and efficaciously convincing the Adversaries, Joh. 16.8. An old Commandment which ye had from the beginning, 1 Joh.2.7.
That which you were taught at the first preching of the faith unto you. Those whom this Apostle here writes unto, were they which had formerly by his preaching received the Christian faith, and the end of this Epistle being to confirm their constancy against the Seducers that were now amongst them; it might be unto them a sufficient argument to receive, that what now he said to them, was no more than he had taught them, and they had absolutely believed and entertained at the first preaching of the Gospel unto them. These Seducers bring you new doctrine. That which I bring you, is not fo, but the very doctrine that you received at the very first preaching of the Goipel to you; and that which you did receive to, deserves to be look'd on, not with suspicion, as novel, but with fecurity, as an old commandment; which you can no more mistake in adhering to, then you can think you did in your first receiving of the Faith. Concupifcence The pravity and naughtiness of our nature, lusting after things forbidden of God. Jam. 1. 14. But every man is tempted when he is drawn away by his own concupifcence. This is our original Concupiscence, which is the fountain and root of all wicked lufts and defires, and of all fins whatfoever, being it felf also a fin properly even after Baptism, in the regenerate; contrary to the Papifts, who deny this. See Rom. 7. 7. Alfo. Rom. 7. 14, 15, 16, 17, &c.

<sup>6</sup> 2. Evil defires and motions, springing from the root of this natural concupiscence, whether they be consented to or not. Rom. 7. 8. Wrought in all manner of concupiscence. This is Actual concupifcence, which is either unvoluntary, as the first motions before confent of will; or voluntary, when confent of will cometh to the motion. Both the one and the other, be properly fin, because they be the transgression of the Law, hindering that perfect love of God and our Neighbor, commanded in the Law, and drawing us to things contrary to the Law, Rom.7.15,16,17,

'Ho condemn the world By his deed and example in building the Ark at Gods commandment, to convict other wicked men which twarm in the world, of infidelity, Heb. 11. By which he condemned the world.

"Condemnation, 02 condemning The pronouncing of the fentence of punishment upon any malefactor by some Judge. Joh. 8. 10. Hath no man condemned thee? This may be done either

'Mote: Chrift being no civil judge would not condemn the woman (taken in adultery) to civil punishment. But if she had been for her adultery condemned, he would not have acquitted her, because therein he should have been contrary to his Father. and others by impunity of the offendor might have been drawn fo like lewdness.

42. A pronouncing of finners guilty, and adjudging them to punishment upon the conviction of a fault. Rom. 8. 34. God jufifieth, who shall condemn? Rom. 8. 1. There is no condemnation to them which are in Christ; that is, they are freed from the damatory fentence of the Law, pronouncing a curse to every fin: Also the cause and matter of damnation, Joh. 2.19.

'2. The punishment it felf, whereunto one is adjudged and condemned. 1 Cor. 11.32. Because we should not be condemned with 4. The abolishing a thing, and utterly taking it away, as if it were not. Rom. 8.2. Condemned fin in the flesh. 1 Pet. 4.6.

<sup>6</sup>5. Pronouncing of a fentence or censure, uncharitably, or <sup>6</sup>rashly, of other mens persons and doings. Luk. 6, 27. Condemn onot, and ye shall not be condemned, Rom. 14.4.

6. The convicting or reproof of ones wickedness and fault, by the good example of another, or by words. Thus the Ninevites 's fhall condemn the offinate Jews, Matth. 12. 41, 42. Rom. 2. 27. Shall condemn thee, &c. Thus Paul condemned not Peters, person eternally, but his finful fact in dissembling, Galat. 2.

Referred to God, it fignifieth his abhorring, disliking and punishing the wicked, 1 King. 8.32. Prov. 12.2.

To our own hearts, 1 Joh.3.21.
Note: That in all civil Courts, there were always prefent,

1. The supreme Judge, whose leave was craved for the tryal of actions.

2. The witnesses who were at least two, Deut. 19. 15. 19.

2. The Notaries, whereof the one stood on the right hand, to write the fenence of absolution, and what was fooken in de-fence of the party; the other on the less hand, to the contrary end.

4. The officers, who carried up and down their flaves and whips, to execute what the Judges determined.
5. The Pleader flood on the right hand, whether he pleaded for or against the party, Psal. 119.31. Zech. 3.1. Hereunto allusion is made. 1 Joh. 2.1.

The manner of fentencing persons varied in most Coun-

The Jews by a simple pronunciation of Sentence, (as, Thon N. art just, Thou N. art guilty) both absolved and condemned

The Romans gave fentence by casting in tables into a certain box or urn prepared for the purpose: If they absolved any, they wrote the letter A. in the table, it being the first letter of Ab-folios; if they condemned any, the letter c. the first of Condemno.

Among the Greeians, Condemnation was fignified by giving a black flone; Absolution, by giving a whitestone. To this last, there seemeth to be an allusion, Rev. 2.17. To him that overcometh I will give a white stone; that is, I will absolve and acquit him in the day of Judgment. See Godwin's Moses and Aaren, lib. 5. p.

"Do confirm the promites of God To make it evidently appear unto men, that God who promised to send his Son unro the Tews, was faithful and true, because in fulness of time he did fend him, Rom. 15. 8. The promifes of God are in them-felves most firm and stable, as heaven and earth, so they be unmoveable and conftant: they are faid to be confirmed in respect of men; whose faith being weak and full of doubts, had need to be holpen and firengthned; not Gods promifes, but mens unbelief is feeble. Also note further, that the utmost and remote end of Christ his coming into the world, in respect of God, is to have the giory of his truth; but the nearest end in regard of men, is their falvation.

Confirmation is a work of the Spirit, strengthning faint and weak minds in faith and obedience unto the end. I Pet. 5. 10. The God of all grace confirm and sirengthen you. Ebil confeience | A Confeience accusing of fin, and terrifying with remembrance of punishment due to sin: For against an evil conscience, is set a true faithful heart, which truly believeth forgiveness of fin, Heb 10. 22. Purge from an evil conc 2. Conscience purged and made free from the guilt and hor-for of death, by faith in the bloud of Christ. Heb. 9. 14. Purge your conficience from dead works. Act. 15. 9. Tour hearts purifyed by faith. Out of faith and serious purpose of living godily, and pleasing God, doth spring a pure conscience.

Dure conscience A Conscience not troubled and polluted with notorious and goos crimes, 2 Tim. 1. 3.

' for conscience sake | For fear of God, lest by disobedience to authority in good things, or relifting them in evil things commanding by them, we offend God, and so hurt our conscience. which being wounded, prove as an Hang-man or Tormentor. Rom. 13. 5. Not only for wrath but for conscience fale.

Some expound this (as chryfestom and others) of the Confcience which we ought to make not only of Gods Commandment, charging us to be subject to the higher powers, but of the good benefits which we reap by our Governors, towards whom we are bound in conscience to be thankful, seeing it is a matter of confcience, not to grieve or despise our benefactors. Both these interpretations may well (as fudordinate) fland together. They are deceived, which conclude from hence, that men or their civil constitutions do simply and of themselves bind the Conscience, (which is Gods own prerogative, being the only Lawgi-ver, who obligeth Conference ablolutely upon pain of eternal wrath:) Much more erroneous is that opinion of Popish Divines, that Decrees and Traditions humane in Ecclefiaftical things, tie Conscience as Gods Word doth. To obey lawful Magistrates, we are bound by a double necessity: (for it is no indifferent matter as if we might choose) one is, to avoid the punishments both of Rulers and God, for stubbornness and contempt; the other is to preferve our. Confcience unsported and unwounded: for we cannot rebell against authority, and be refractory and feditious, but there will a double care, or torture rather, affirst the Conscience: the first is, because we cast away Gods Ordinance, even the government appointed by him, which is as much as gyant-like to fight against heaven. The second is, for that we have with great ingratitude and injustice striven against that power which deserveth well at the hands of all mankind.

' Seared oz burned conscience | A Conscience quite extinct and cut off, or utterly hardned. I Tim. 4. 2. And bave their their conscience burned with an hot iron; that is, having lost all fense and feeling of conscience, as a tooth or other part of the body, that is burned with an hot iron to dead it.

". To confecrate | To fanctifie, to dedicate unto God, or to feparate and fet one apart to execute some holy sunction. (Priest, Levite, Nazarite, Exod. 29. 1. When thou conjectateft them to my Priess, thus thou shalt do. Numb. 6. 18. & 8. 13. The conse-cration is by doing some ceremonies appointed of God for such a purpose, as to fit him for a sacred function. (It fignifieth primarily to fill the hand, Exod. 28. 41. or to profit.)

'Confecration of Bread and Wine is a facred action of the Church, wherein by rehearing and expounding the inflication of Christ, also by solemn prayers and thanks-giving, the creatures are changed from a common use into a Sacrament of Christ his body and bloud; a mutation in quality and use without any change of substances.

'The meaning of Isaiah first, and afterwards of Paul, is all one, though the words fomewhat differ; Paul following the version of the Septuagint; namely to declare that the diminishing and rejection of the Jews, which God would bring to pass both temporally in Chaldea, and spirtually under Christ, (whom few Jews received) did depend upon the purpose and predesti-nation of God; not that the Jews had not through their fins de-served to be extenuated and rejected, but because all these things were appointed by the decree or fentence of election and reprobation. For it is a fure rule, That God doth nothing in time which was not decreed to be so done before all time therefore they grievously erre, which rent the decree of God and his execution afunder, and make his Antecedent and Consequent will, which are subordinate, to be repugnant.

As i Sam. 18. 23. opposed to honourable, chap. 3. 5. The great weight that Moab now beareth, shall become light. He that weighs down so much now, shall then bear no weight, but fly up in the ballance. The word glory in Heb. hath an intimation of weight in it, alluded to by the Apofile, 2 Cor. 4. 18. and the word contemned hath affinity with that that fignifies lightness, 1 Sam. 18. 26. & 49. 6. and they are both used promiscuously, Numb. 21.6. Contrary Lev. 26. 21. Heb. in contrariety, (which word in is added in vers. 27.) or, at all adventure, by chance. The Heb. Keri fignifieth both contrariety, and chance, or accident. The Gr. translateth it contrary or thwart, as opposing themselves to God and his commandements. The Chald. expoundeth it, If gewalk before me with hardness, that is, stubbornness.

If we understand it for chance, or adventure, the meaning is to walk carelefly, come upon it what will; and to efteem the punishments, not as from the hand of God for their fins, but to come by chance, as the Philistines said in 1 Sam. 6. 9. Aynsw. See marg. Eft. 9. 1.

'Conversation' Not one work, or two, or a few actions, but the whole course of our life, with every degree and step of it from the time of our effectual calling, and so forwards unto the end of our race. This course is termed an honest conversation, 1 Pet. 2. 12. Have your conversation honest. But our course from the time of our birth, until the time of such calling, it is termed a vain conversation, 1 Pet. 1. 18. Redeemed from vour vai : conversation.

2. Manners, outward behaviour towards men, Heb. 12. 5. Phil. 3. 20.

Connersation Our conversation is in heaven, Phil. 2, 20. We are Citizens of heaven, or heaven is the City of which we are free. The word πολίτευμα, from πολί?), citizens, is literally citizenfly, and denotes a manicipium, which is the flare and condition of those who dwelling out of the City, have yet the justicitiest Romane, the priviledges of the City of Rome, belonging unto them. But this so, that these shall differ from those that had their habitation in the City, who alone might be chosen to offices in it. See Act. 22. 28. Thus is the Christian here on earth, a fellow Citizen of the Saints, Eph. 2. 19. Though while he dwels here, he be in an inferiour condition to them who have domicilium in urbe, the Saints that are in heaven, who alone are capable of reigning with God. Dr. Hammond, marg. &

"Convertion The turning, or total change of an elect finner from fin to God: and in this fignification is comprehended, both faith and repentance, even the whole work of grace. Pfal. 51. 12. And sinners shall be converted to thee. This is a passive converifion, wherein we fuffer God to work upon us, but our felves by our Natural power, work nothing, unless it be to hinder the work of Grace, what we may.

'2. A turning from fome particular fin or fins, whereby we have offended God or man. Luk. 22.32. When thou art converted. Jer. 31. 18. Convert thou me, and I fall be converted. This is an active conversion, performed by men already regenerate, who being already renewed by grace, do work together with his Grace; converting grace being accompanied with affifting and supporting grace.

God converteth a Sinner by putting grace of repentance into his foul. A Sinner converteth himself, when he endeavoureth his own conversion, diligently and constantly using all good means, publick and private.

der of its young ones, loveth both to feed & fly in company of its own kind. In their flying they use this order: The most experienced amongst them flyeth foremost, as their Captain: In the middle follow the young and less skilful; in the rear, such as are strong and skilful: If their Leader wax weary or hoarfe, another takes his place. They fly high, that they may see the place whither they fly; when they fly fivifity, it's to avoid a tempeft, and in their flying they make a noise, that they may not flray one from another. In the night fome of them watch by turns, holding when feeking warmer places, they fly over-the fea, they hay in a triangular form. In furmer they return to the places when feeking warmer places, they fly over-the fea, they hy in a triangular form. In furmer they return to the places which they left in winter. To prevent the danger of Eagles, they take littlestones in their mouths, that they may make no noise. When they fly not in order, they foresee a tempest. If any of their company be wanting, by making a continual noife, they recal them. The juice of the vine is deadly unto them. They sometimes fight together, and will rather become a prey to the Hunters, than agree one with another. The rewa. d of life given to Saints in heaven, when they have striven as they ought to do, and gotten the victory, is called a Crown, 2 Tim. 2.5. or a Garland, by allufion to a cuftom that was among the Grecians, for such as got the mastery in their games of wreftling, or running, or the like, were crowned with a Garland in token of victory. See I Cor. 9. 25. I Pet. 5. 4.

It is called the Crown of life,

1. To shew that the Saints who laid down their life for Christ, did not lose it, but change it for a better.

2. Eecause their glory and joy shall always live, 1 Pet. 1. 4. I Cor. 9. 25.

3. Because life includes delight, glory, wildom, and all good, that comes from this life.

Or, 1. because it is given only to such as strive and overcome.

2. It comprehendeth the perfection of all joys, as a Crown without beginning and ending.

3. Because it is most pretious, as a crown set with pretious stones. Leighs Annot.

' App crown That I Paul for your fake shall be crowned of God, with the commendation of faithfulness, and rewards of bleffedness, when he shall say to me, Thou good and faithful ser-'cant, &c. 1 Theff. 2. 19.

It's put also for dead, or subdued, to make to die, Rom. 6. 6. Offer as a facrifice for fin, 1 Cor. 1. 13, 23. Feel the virtue Christ crucified, Gal. 2. 20.

To be crucified among pou] Christ crucified, by the most plain and evident preaching of Paul, to be in such fort set forth to the Galathians, as if they had feen him die among them, they could not have had a more lively portraiture or image of his death. After this plain and clear fort is Christ his passion represented in the Sacrament of the Supper, Gal. 3. 1. Before whose eves lesus hath been crucified among you. Therefore no fuch obscurity and hardness is to be found in the writings of holy Scriptures, as Romanists pretend: neither ought Papists to trouble themselves with Crucifixes to remember Christ, or profane persons to scorn plain and simple preaching, without wisdom of words.

"To be crucified with Christ To obtain this by faith in Christ, that, that death of his Cross which hath merited reconciliation, should be effectual to mortifie and subdue the concupiscences of the flesh. Gal. 2. 20. I am crucified with *Boarkness over all the Land A miraculous work of God, Eclipfing the Sun at the death of his Son throughout the Countrey of Judea. As sometimes the First had light in · Golhen, when the Agyptians were all covered with darkneis: So now light was denied to the Jews for three hours, 'when all the world had it; which was such a wonder, as · Ethnicks registred it in their publick Records; being the more wondreus, because it happened in the full Moon at the Passover. Mat. 27. 45. There was darkness over all the Land. It is familiar with Scriptures, when Land is named without addition; to understand thereby Judea or canaan: and Land to be put for a Region or Country, we find Mat 9.2, 6. Luk. 4.64. They which think this darkness to be universal over the whole world follow Textullian for their Author.

Daughters Strange Nations and people, which do admire the giory of the Church, Cant. 6. 9. The daughters have feen her and counted ber bleffed.

The congregations of peoples; as the Scriptures mention, the Daughter of Jerusalem, the Daughter of Tyrus, and many the like So is my love among the daughters, Cant. 2. 2. Aynfworth.

The word Daughters when absolute and solitary hath seldom a good ience, like women that lose their good name, not only by keeping ill company, but by keeping none. As these are exceeded by the Church in beauty fo shall they be at last in power; they ourgrow and diffress her for the present, but that flourishing is but like the crackling of thems under the por, which the fire of the Lords jealouse shall consume like dry stubble, Isa. 27. 4.

'It is usual in Scripture, by Daughters to fignifie Churches or Congregations. The reason is, because every chief City was counted a Mother. 2 Sam. 20. 19. Thou seekest to destroy a City and a Mother in Ifrael, (whereupon the Apostle calleth Jirufa-· lem, the Mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.) The Villages that were near and pertained to fuch Cities, are called Daughters, Josh. 15. 45. 2 Chr. 13. Pfal. 68. 11. And the Inhabitants there feated, or allemblies of people reforting thither, are like wife called Daughters, as being bred, born, and nourifhed there. See Lam. 2. 19. Mat. 21. 5. Zach. 9. 9. Jer. 4.

Baughters of Jerusalem Either falle fifters of the · Church, the degenerate afiemblies of Idolaters, or the particucular Congregations, begotten of the Word, which came out of Jerusalem. The latter interpretation is the better, Cant. 2. . 7. I charge ye O daughters of Ferufalem.

The Daughters of Jerusalem were nothing else but her self in her diffinct parts and branches. Annot.

The friends of Christ and his Church, the Elect of God, though not yet perfectly instructed in the way of the Lord, Cant. 5. 8, 9. & 6. 1. As the Villages belonging to a City, are usually called the daughters of that City, Numb. 21. 21, 25. 1 Chr. 7. 28. So ferufalem which is above is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. whole daughters are the particular Churches and Christians called Virgins, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Rev. 14. 4. and Sodom and Samaria are prophefied of, that they should be given to Jerusalem for daughters, Ezek. 16. 61. and thus in Pfal. 45. 13, 14. The Kings daughter (the Church) is brought unto the King in rayment of Needle-work, and Virgins her friends after her.

'Bespair | Want of hope; it is either in opinion, as when godly men think themselves to be without hope, in a pang of temptation, as David did: Or, in truth, as in wicked men, who always want hope, and fometimes profess the want of it, as Cain. 2 Cor. 4. 8. We despair not. Act. 27. We despaired, or all hope was taken away. De-spair is contrary to hope, as unbelief and diffidence is unto fairh.

" 2. There is a double Desperation.

" 1. Of the means or grace.

"2. Of the end, which is glory or falvation.

" 2. Want of care, or the contempt of all good means, either to do or to receive good. This is of all others the worft.

"4. A godly diffidence, of our own sufficiency to do good or refift evil; and of our defert to receive it of other. This is a way to godly confidence.

Defpair To have no hope, I Sam. 27. 1. To be past hope, Cor. r. 8.

Not in despair, 2 Cor. 4. 8. or not altogether without help or means, marg. There is a rational despair, when a man having erroneously sought for some good from that which is wholly unable to afford it, doth thereupon give over so fruitless an enquiry, and betake himself to that which is more effectual, Isa. 55. 2. And there is a passionate despair proceeding from that frowardness of heart, which such a disappointment is apt to produce in carnal minds, when because a man cannot enjoy that good from a thing which he expected, he will therefore wholly fall out with it, though it be otherwise good in its degree, and doth bring such comfortable fruit as God appointed it for. This is a finful despair. Annot. on Eccl. 2.20.

So to be partakers of the Altar, is to be incorporate into that Religion which was used at the Altar; likewise, to be partakers of the body of Christ, is not to eat it, and take his flesh into our fromachs, but to be one spirit with him, by which we live to God, 1 Cor. 10. 21.

Deviliff) Jam. 3. 15. or full of Devils. The Greek word ends in wolns, denoting a fulness, because fleshly wisdom aims at Satans end, viz. to keep a man in an unregenerate estate, It's the wisdom which is proper to Devils, or which is inspired by Devils or evil spirits. This worldly wisdom is called devillib, both because it imitateth the Devil, and is suggested and inspired by him The Devils are called Daimones, as if it were fai words, that is, knowing; and the Ancients did attribute unto them the invention of sciences and humane arts; but properly they were the first authors and inventers of worldly wisdom, which teacheth men to vilifie others, to exalt themselves, and what's theirs.

This Beaft is well known, and thereof there are divers kinds, and for divers uses: as, for hunting, fowling, keeping the house, merriment, &c. It hath many excellent properties. It is watchful both by day and night, and by its barking discovereth thieves, ftrangers, beafts. It loveth its Master, and them in the family. It's docible, and may be taught to turn the fpit, draw water, fetch and carry, &c. It can find the way home, though many miles diffant, and is not forgetful, either of any wrong done, or kindness shewed unto it. It's very loving to its young ones, which see not till they be nine or ten days old. Some bark much, bite feldom, the most fearful; others bark feldom, but bite fore, the most valorous. By night they are afraid of the moon, whereat they often bark, though to no purpofe. The older they grow, they wax the more lasie: Having eat too much theyeat grass, and so by vomiting purge themselves. They are subject to madness and usually when they then bite man or beast, they die. They do most eagerly behold and all admire holy actions. Being weary by running, they relieve themselves by tumbling. They will not eat the flesh of one another, though never so hungry, never to well prepared. Being beaten of their Mafters, they lie down, humble themselves, are more obedient, and love them the more. They know their voice, and are thereby directed They by their fent will follow and find out their Mafter (as also their game) fight for him, not forfake them if flain, detect the Murtherer, and revenge his death. Dzink abundantiy | Cant. 1. 5. or, be drunken, &c. marg. that is, plentifully filled. Ayniw.

This is without any riot or excess; without any fin or trespass. This is not like that of the Epicures, wicked and beftial, but pure, heavenly, innocent. Sibs.

To Daink wine To partake with Christ in his exceeding comfort and joy which he taketh in his Spoule, as Angels and Gaithful Ministers do, Cant. 5. 1. Idrank my Wine : Eat O friends, drink and make merry . &c.

The word fignifieth to drink freely, or plentifully, still denoting his gracious acceptation of their duty (I have allowed of the cheerfulness of thy service, and the wholesomeness of thy doctrine. Hall.) which like wine for the cheerfulnes, and milk for the foundness, and fincerity of it, is grateful to him. This is referred to the inflitution and celebration of the holy Sacrament of his Supper; when he himself was both Conviva, and Convivien, the entertainer, and the Feast, for then did he eat and drink personally; not for any augmentation of grace to his Person, that he could receive, that had a fulness ever, but first out of new actual delectation which his Spirit took in that Ordination, and then to give an example and law to his Church, with whom he doth ftill receive mystically, as well as he is received by them. Annot.

God not only accepts, but delights in the graces of his children, which may incourage us to be much in all holy duties.

Drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, Rev. 14. 8. or, of the poyloned wine of her fornication, chap. 17. 2. for the Hebrew word to which the Greek here answereth , fignifieth poylon as well as wrath. As Whores give spiced or enchanted cups to their Lovers, to make them commit Fornication with them; fo did Rome by fubtle inticements draw a great part of the world to her Idolatry, which often in Soripture is compared to Fir i a'ion, as in Jer. 3. and Ezek. 16. Or, She made God angry with them, as well as with her felf by drawing them to the same Idolatry. Or, because when God is angry, and goeth to punish wicked men, he is faid to have a cup in his his merit, that men might know these judgments came from him, and not by chance, Job 21. 20. Pial. 75. 8. Ifa. 51. 17 Jer. 25. 15. & 4. . 12, 14. & 51. 7, 8. So Babylon and her followers shall also drink their share, according to their desires. See v. 10. ' Dwelling A true, mighty, and fixed presence, either for good or evil, according to the nature of the thing that dwelleth. Joh. 1. 14. The Word was made fleh, and dwelt amongli us. Thus the Spirit and the Word are faid to dwell in us. 2 Cor. 5.16. Col. 3. 16. Ephel. 3. Christ dwelleth in our hearts; that is, they be conversant with us, and do keep mansions in our hearts, ruling and over-ruling us, as a Master ruleth and guideth his house. Also fin dwelleth in the regenerate. Rom. 7. 17. Not 1, but six that dwelleth in me, forcibly hindering, and by his presence mightily croffing and ftriving against the good motions of Grace in the heart of a sanctified person.

'2. Constant trust in Gods providence and promises. Pfal. 91. 1. Who awelleth in the secrets of the Almigh-

'3. To remain, abide, and continue. Joh. 6. 56. He that feateto my fle,h dwelleth in me, and I in him. Also, to set ones feli for a short time as a stranger. Exod. 2. 15. Act. 1. 29. Exod. 2. 22. Exod. 12.40.

4. To have place or entertainment. Pfal. 5.4. No evil shall dwell with thee.

65. Familiarity or communion, both perfect and immediate, between God and the Elect. Rev. 21. 12. And he will dwell

6. Solace, comfort, and protection by Gods comfortable prefence, Revel. 7. 15. He that fitteth on the Throne will dwell with you. Also it fignifieth the perpetual union of two natures in Chrift, in whom the God-head dwelleth bodily, Col. 2. 9. viz. substantially, and not by communication of virtue, as God dwelleth in the Saints.

'I That his presence is effectual and mighty, to possess and govern the faithful, which are his Temples, having dominion over them, inwardly enlightening to know, and powerfully guiding to do the known will of God.

'2. That his presence is continually, not as of a guest, who lodgeth for a night in an Inn, and is gone next day; nor as a ' sojourner that sitteth, but as an Owner and Possessor to abide

'for ever, as in Joh. 14.

'3. The manner of his prefence; not by infiniteness of power, as he is prefent to all creatures to suffain them, but by his grace and healthful effects, uniting to Christ, regenerating to his lively members, witneffing our adoption, &c. Rom. 8. 9.

Eph. 3.17.
Dwelling, habitation, or manfion, is a name given to the 'Tabernacle which Moses made and God dwelt in, I Sam. 2. 32, 29. and afterwards to Solomons Temple, 2 Chr. 36. 15. and Heaven it self is also thus called, Deut. 26. 15. where there be many mansions, Joh. 14. 2. Also the Tent which Moss made, and Solomons house was thus called, 2 Chr. 29. 6. The Temple is called the habitation of his glory, because Gods glory filled the Tabernacle, when God first rook polletion of it, Exod. 40, 34, 35. Pfal. 26. 8. and elsewhere, the habitation of Jehovah, Lev. 17. 4. and of his Name, Pfal. 74. 7.

"Ho eye to the Lozo | fignifieth these four things;

1. To acknowledg, that as we have life by his giving, for death cometh by his sending.

. 2. With chearful patience to submit our selves to all disea-' fes, and to death it felf.

3. As in our life, so in our death, to defire that God may be glorified of us, being very careful that nothing be spoken or done to dishonour him.

4. To give up our ghost in good considence that Christ will fave our fouls presently at their diffolution, and raise up our bodies to life at the laft day.

Note: That living to the Lord and dying to the Lord, are joyned together; fuch life, fuch death.

"Ho ove to our felbes In our death to be forfaken, without any to care for us, or to respect us. Rom. 14.7. None of us die to our selves. Thus ungodly men die, who as they acknowledged not, nor trufted in any God whiles they lived, fo they have no God to look to them to fave them in their death, when they perish as forsaken bond-men. But thus the godly do not die: for the Lord whose they are, and whom they faithfully ferved in their life, doth preferve them fafe both in their life and death, also will raise them from death to life.

2. Believers, which upon the wings of a lively faith foar aloft, and mount up to Chrift Jesus, whose crucified fielh hath a fweet favour, that attracteth and draweth them to him, as the favour of the dead carkais can cause the Eagles to resort unto it. Luk. 17. 37. Where the carkafs is, there will the Eagles refort.

" Or thus: If there be such wit in Birds (as Eagles) that they will come so far to one carkass; a great shame it is to believers, not to be gathered to the Author of life, by whom they are truly fed unto an everlafting life.

"These senses and collections be not contrary, but divers; and may well ftand together.

'Or thus: as Eagles affemble to the Carion, fo the Believer shall be perfectly joyned to Christ in despight of Satan, according to that, I Theil. 4. 17. And so they shall be ever with the Lord: When the Son of man shall come to judg the world, all the

It's of great courage, as which dare set upon Harts, and such great beaffs. It's of no less subtility in taking them; for having filled its wings with sand and dust, it fitteth on their horns, and by its wings flaketh the same into their eyes, where-by they become an easie prey. It flyeth very high (whence that phrase, The way of an Eagle in the Air.) Prov. 30. 19. yet in the twinkling of an eye seiseth on the prey, whether in the Sea or on the ground. It buildeth its neft very high, ob 39. 27. (where several other properties are set down) Jea. 49. 16. Obad. 4. It goeth forth to prey about noon-tide, when men are gone home out of the fields. It's of a tharp and quick fight (though it hath a little eye) and can both a great way off discern its prey, and behold the sun with open eyes. Such of her young ones as do not thus look upon the Sun, but either wink or have watery eyes they reject as unnatural. It liveth very long, nor dieth of age or fickness, but of hunger, as most hold, for the longer it liveth its bill groweth more hooked, and waxeth more hard, whereby at the length it cannot feed. When it walketh it pulleth in its claws, that when it preyeth they may be the more useful; nor doth it prey on Gnats or small Birds, but on Geefe, Hares, Harts, Serpents, dead carkaffes. It's faid of it, that it preserveth its nest from poyson, by having therein a precious flone named Actites (without which it is thought the Eagle cannot lay her eggs) and keepeth it clean by the frequent use of the herb Maiden-bair. Unless to be very hungry it devoureth not the whole prey, but having taken its fhare, gives the refl unto the birds which follow it; but if either it want a prey, or the prey is not fufficient for it felf, it preyeth on them. As the Eagles feathers or quils are faid to confume other quils or feathers laid near them; fo Church-goods bring ruine upon mens eftates, as Usury also doth. It's said to be free from lightening, which may be thus conceived, for that it flyeth high, and can speedily go unto other places where there is no lightening. Between the Eagle and the Dragon there is a natural antipathy and ftrife, each feeking the others destruction. The Eagle feeketh to kill it, and the Dragon breaketh all the Eagles eggs that it can find, and hearing the noise of the Eagle in the air speedeth to his den and there hideth-himfelf. Having three young ones, it casteth off, flingeth away one, which another bird named Fulica, taketh care of, and bringeth up. To provoke its young ones to flie, it flyeth often over them, and being come to maturity, and northus provoked, it beats them with its bill, and gives them no food, fo inforcing them hereunto. Being exceeding hot and dry, it foon waxeth angry, nor keepeth it fociety with others, but shunneth it. Some Eagles prey in the air, some in the sea (wherein from on high they can perceive the smallest fish) some on the land. They prey in places remote or far from their neft.

The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth, Rom. 8. 19. The word Storacoconia (which cometh of Sto, nage, the head, and Jones v to be feen) is very fignificant. It fignifieth the looking for of some person or some thing, with lifting up the head, or stretching out of the neck, or putting forth the head, or fetting out the eyes, with earnest intention and observation, to see when the person or thing shall appear; as a poor Prisoner that is condemned doth, who often putteth forth his head out of the window, in a continual expectation of the gracious pardon of his Prince; or, as a man who looketh for the coming of a special friend, whose company he much defires, having a promife of his coming he getteth him up to some Turret or high place, and putteth forth his head, and looketh this and that way, and he fetteth his eyes on the way his friend is to come, to fee if he can efpy him coming, withing and defiring his appearance: So the creature doth earnestly and continually (as it were) with the stretching out of the neck, or thrusting forth of the head, expect and wait when the Sons of God shall be revealed. The Text runneth thus, The expectation, or earnest desire of the creature, expecteth or waiteth. An Heb. Pleonasme to express the continual desire of expectation of the creature. Mark, first, the emphasis of the word doth expect, as one that puts his head out of a Caftle to look for some body. Secondly, of the phrase, the expectation expects; as if the creature were nothing elfe but expectation. The Apostle in Phil. 1.20. According to my earnest expectation, to fignife the strongness and sureness of his hope, useth this very word, expressing as much as they that earnestly looking for a thing, firetch out the head to look for it. 'Earnest expensation A looking after something with great greediness, and unwearied continuance. Rom. 8. 19. The earnest expectation of the creature, &c. Here is a Prosopopeia, or fiction of persons: there is a person put upon the unresonable Creature, of one who expecteth and looketh after fome man or matter, as it were with heads and necks firetched out, to behold and fpy that which they eagerly defire to fee and enjoy: fo the Creature (as a woman in travel) Rom. 8. 22. ' fervently coveteth its own restauration, by a natural instinct which is put of God into the Creature, whereby it is moved fecretly to cover and attend the end for which it was made; which is that perfect estate wherein it was made of God, and from which by mans fin it fell, and unto which still it tenderh by a 'natural inclination, even as heavy things naturally tend downward, and light things upward.

"The divil is evil, not in fubflance or perfon, but in nature or "quality; Not by creation from God, by voluntary depar-"ture from God and goodness: Evil he is originally and " perfectly, but not infinitely; to all eternity, but not from all « êternity.

"The like we may fay of evil men, except in their originali-"ty of evil. The regenerate are evil, but not perfectly, nor from "eternity, nor to eternity.

"Ho fee evil To know it, and feel it, to perceive it experi mentally, 2 King. 22. 20. Thou shalt not see the evil. If the Saints departed do not know the estate of the Church in earth; much ' less do they know the thoughts and prayers of man. The self-' same conclusion doth Augustine make from Isa. 63. 26. Abraham ' is ignorant of us, Israel doth not know us. Hence is farther gather-'ed, that the dead do not know what is done here in earth. Likewise, the Angelical Doctor (as Papists do call Thomas Aqui-'nas) upon Job 14. 21. collecteth, that dead persons know not · fenfible things, much less spiritual and infenfible secrets of the heart. Indeed the godly departed do generally thank God for their own and our redemption, Rev. 5.8, 9, 13. Alfo, in general; out of crir perfect love, they defire a final deliverance of the Church wom her warfare, with the destruction of the ene-' mies thereof; but to fay, that in particular they know our wants, and do make intercession for particular men, this is Po-' pish heresie, flat against Scriptures. Very evil, signifies, very much displeasing; as to be good in ones eyes is much to please or content, Gen. 21. 11. & 20. 15.

Evil= Derodach | Fools passing over bitterness; or the grinding bitterness of a fool; or, a fool bitterly beaten, or ground to powder. King of Babylon, 2 King. 25. 27. Jer. 52. 31.

Eunice Good, or joyful victory. The Mother of Timothy,

"Eunuch A gelded man, whereof our Saviour Christ maketh three forts, Mat. 19.12. Ifa. 56. 3, 4.

'1. Eunuch by nature, fo born.

'2. By necessity, being so made of men.

'3. By the gift of Continency from God. These may live unmarried, without hurt to their falvation; all other befides these are called to marriage: See Matt. 19. 16. 1 Cor.

7. 9.
'2. A noble or mighty man, of great authority with Princes; fuch a one was Potiphar, Gen. 27. 26. Potiphar an Eunuch of Pharaoh, and his chief Steward. Act. 17. 27. Gelded men were used for Chamberlains in Kings Courts to keep the we-men, Eft. 2.3. & 4.4. Chodias A good smill. A worthy woman among the Philipans, Phil. 4. 2.

Euchzates | Fruitful. It's taken literally for the River Peath, Gen. 2. 14. Mystically, for Spiritual Babylon, Rev. 9. 14.

Euphzates A River called by that name, being both broad and deep, which did run along by the great City Babel, seated in Assyria, and was thereunto such a great defence, as when cyrus and Darius, Kings of the Medes and Persians, would take Babylon, they had this device, to cut out great Ditches and Trenches, and so let out the river above, before it came to the City, by which means the waters being made shallow, and almost dryed up, the Souldiers waded over, entred the City, and supprised it.

2. All impediments, lets, and hinderances, whereby the paffage unto Rome, the myftical Babylon, and feat of Antichrift, was ftopped up against the Kings of the East, that they could not come at it, to befiege and subdue it, the removing of these impediments, to wit (the great honour, glory, riches, and ftrength of Rome) is here fignified by the drying up of Euphrates. Rev. 16. 12. The fixth Angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates, and the waters thereof dryed up.

By Euphrates are understood the Nations which border thereupon, that is, the Turks, and by drying up of the water, is meant the ruine and overthrow of those Nations; as it is evident out of the Prophets, Ifa. 19. 5. & 44. 27. Jer. 48. 34. & 50. 38. & 51. 36. Ezek. 30. 12. & 31. 4. Clavis Apocal. p. 106. So in effect Mede.

In the first vial, there is an allusion to the botches of Egypt; in the second and third, to the turning of their maters into bloud; in the fourth, to the hot scorching, and devouring fire that consumed Sodom; in the fift, to the darkness wherewith he plagued Egypt; in this fixt to the destruction of old Babel.

Gurocipdon'] The North-East wind, Act. 27. 14. Guipthus] Happy or fortunate. A young man whom Paul raised from death to life, Act. 20. 9.

'2. To lift up and prefer himself above his betters, as they that did ftrive for the uppermost seats at Feasts, Luk. 14. 11. 43. To honour and advance one unto renown and credit Luk.

· 14. 11.

Signifieth also to glorifie or advance into the highest dignity Act. 5. 31. And to set forth ones praise, Psal. 99. 5. Also to advance, promote, bring to honour, &c.

"Mo exalt himself To lift and advance himself above all greanes and honour which is in earth, whether it be subordinate Magistrates, who in Psal. 82. are called Gods, or supream Rulers, whom the Grecians call Sebasmata; yea, to call in and runcis, whom the greecens can reenjmata; yea, to can in and translate to himself the glory peculiar unto the true God of heaven. 2 Thesi. 2.4. who exalteth himself above all that is called
God. This prophesic is verified in the Pope of Rome, beside whom never any affirmed, that at his pleasure he could open and lock heaven, and had full right to fend whole chariots and cart-loads of fouls unto hell, and to translate Empires and Kingdoms at his pleasure; C. Si. Papa distinct. 42. avouching of himself, that he hath authority in heaven, earth, hell, and purgatory; fuffering his Parafites to call him the Lord God, and Gods Vicegerent and supreme Dignity upon earth, Stapleton Prafat. ad Gregor. 13. his footfool, exacting unto himfelf a triple Crown, and also adoration, as his own creatures have confessed.

e Paul writeth not that he extolleth himself above all that is God, or that he shews himself the only true God: but above all which is called God, shewing himself as if he were 'God; therefore it is a mere imagination of them who think that the Antichrist shall make himself to be a true God in-' deed, and shall worship no God; whereas only by his tyrannical lawlefs, and godlefs behaviour, in usurping, in commanding, doing and undoing and dispensing, binding against all Laws divine and humane, he shall bar himself eas God.

'Jean' Beautiful, comely with spiritual beauty and decking, Cant. 1.15. My Love behold thou art fair. The Church is fair both by imputation of Christ his righteousness to Faith, and by sanctification of the Spirit. Thus Christ termeth her in divers places of this Song, as it this 15. verse twice, in vers. 16. once, in Cant. 4.1. twice. And in Cant. 1.8. the fairest among women, so by others, Cant. 5.9. & 6.1. (in whose eyes her beauty was conspicuous.) And in Cant.2.10,13. that her love was fair. Moon: and in Cant. 7. 10. that the was fair for delights, the was made black, but now is made fairer then all other women, and none is like her in beauty who dispraised her self. So doth Christ recompense humility, and when we most abase our selves he will exalt us. The Church was loved when black, but the end was that she might be fair. To call her fair, is to make her so.

The city and Church of God being builded by the Doctrine of the Gospel, furnished with men of gifts and graces, and endued with wildom from on high, is truely fair and beautiful, in the eyes of Christ; and when she obeyeth the voice of God, and forgetteth and forfaketh her own natural corruptions, he taketh delight in her beauty, Pfal.45.10,11. Ifa.62.5. Aynfw.

The Church is lovely fair again, as from Christs impurative ighteousness; so from his righteousness inherent in her, the graces she hath from him. The Church is fair and fairest, she is not gilt, but pure gold; not painted, but hath a true natural complexion, all other excellencies are but gilt, painted excellencies.

11. That Faith which is common to all, not proper to the Elect, being either Extraordinary or Ordinary. Extraordinary (commonly called a miraculous faith) which is a belief, that some extraordinary and miraculous thing shall fall out; given but at some special times, to some special persons, on fome special occasions, Matt. 7.20.

Ordinary, being either that which resteth only in the mind of man, or else draweth and moveth the will also.

The former historical or dogmatical faith, because thereby credence is yielded to the Hiftory of Gods Word; that is, all things which are written therein are believed to be true, Jam. 2.14,19.

The latter temporary faith, whereby such an allent of the mind is given to the Gospel, and to the gracious promises thereof, as the heart is affected with them, and rejoyceth in them for a seafon, 2 Tim. 2.18. Such was that of Simon Magus, Act. 8-13. This is hypocritical and deceitful. Though it may appear both to him that hath it, and others to be found and good, yet it is naught, as by the unprofitableness thereof will in the end most manifestly appear, to the great discomfort of him that hath relyed thereon.

faith I bave not found fo great faith, no not in Ifrael, Mac. 8.10. There are five acceptions of the word miss faith, in the New Teftament.

1. The faith, or believing that Christ was able to cure diseases &c. as here, & ch.9.22. Act. 14.9. And under this head the Faith of the Disciples, by which they believed christ, so far, as that by his delegated power, they were able to do the like miracles, Mat. 17. 20. & 21. 22. Mar. 11. 24. 1 Cor. 13. 2. and perhaps ch. 12. 9. where faith as a zácioua, or gift of the Spirit, is joyned with the gift of healing.

2. The belief of all that is revealed by God, and that is in effect the true Religion, either before Christs birth (and then 'tis the faith of God) Heb. 11.3.30,31. and referred to v. 6. or after, and then it's the faith of Chrift, Rev. 14.12. or belief of the truth, i. e. that truth now revealed by christ, 2 Thess. 2. 13. And when this is not to complete, as it should be, for want of light, then it's weak faith, or weakness in faith, Rom. 14.1.

2. The distate of conscience, rightly perswaded or assured of the lawfulness of what a man doth, and that either to one particular action, Rom. 14.22,23. or univerfally, to the general current of the life. Heb. 10.22

4. In a more limited sense, it's a confidence in Prayer, that what we ask as we ought to do, we shall receive, Jam. 5. 15. and as an affociate of that, depending on Gods provision for the things of this life, the want of which is called on pomsia, littleness of faith, Mar. 6.20.

5. Fidelity, and that either in God, making good his promife to us, Rom. 3. 3. 1 Cor. 1. 9. & 10. 13. 1 Thesi. 5. 24. or in man, towards other men, Mat. 23. 23. Gal. 5. 22. Servants towards their Masters, Tit. 2. 10. So mgos, the faithful Steward, Matth. 25. 21. Luk. 14. 17. 1 Cor. 4. 7. Or of men toward God, 2 Tim. 4. 8. where keeping the faith, after fighting and finishing the course, must needs be constancy and fidelity, from whence the word most most commonly draws its fignification, being frequently taken not for believing but faithful, 1 Tim. 1. 12. Heb. 2. 17. & 2. 2. Rev. 2. 10. and fo ams @ is ordinarily unfaithful, Luk. 12. 46. all one with hypocrites, Marth.

Befide these five, the word is also sometime used in a looser fense, for believing the doctrine of God and christ, howsoever acquir'd, whether from fensible experience, Jam. 2.19, or from acular demonstration, Joh 20.25. or from relation, as when its said to

faith of the Cleat | That faith which is proper to the elect. Tim.1.1. Act. 13. 34,48. which none can have but the elect and chosen children of God.

"From faith to faith From one degree of faith to another; as, from a little and weak faith, ro a great and ftrong one; or, by faith alone, and not by works. Rom. 1. 17. Revealed from juito to faith. For true lively faith increaseth daily, also righteousness before God beginneth and continueth by faith.

Note: A Christian man is justified by faith, not only at that time when he first believeth, but his whole and continual justification is by faith; and therefore that distinction of the Papists of Justification, first, which is by faith, and the second, which is by faith and works, is contrary to the Scripture.

A aith fail not That his faith should not perish and utterly be extinguished, but remain firm in his heart, although it should fail in the mouth: as one of the Fathers faith, the gift and habit of faith failed not in Peters heart, when the confession of faith failed in his tongue. 'Lively faith Is that gift of God whereby an elect regenerate foul receiveth Chrift and all his benefits to be her own. Joh. 1. 12. Or thus more plainly: That gift whereby Believers are firmly perswaded not only that the Word of God and all the promifes are true, but do belong to themselves.

' Deafure of faith] A certain degree or portion (not a fulnels and perfection) of the knowledge of the Doctrine of Christ, and of justifying faith, which followeth that knowledge; also of fuch gifts (ordinary and extraordinary) which at that time Christians received together with faith: of all these, God hath given to each a certain portion, to some more, to some less, and fewer gifts; to some greater, to some weaker knoweledge and faith. Rom. 12. 3. As God bath divided to every one the measure of faith. This condemneth the arrogancy (as of others, so chiefly) of the Pope, challenging all to himself

Decious faith An excellent faith, being a most worthy gift, whereby we may attain very worthy and precious things.

*2 Pet. 1.1 To you which have obtained like pricious patib.

* To teach according to the proportion of faith] fignifieth, to teach according to the proportion of the gifts received by faith; not ambiguoully, Rom. 12.6. Where two things,

First, the Revelation and knowledge of the truth with the gift of interpreting Scriptures, according to which every Minister is to proceed in his teaching and exhortations, affirming nothing but what he certainly understandesh by the gift and inspiration of God, forbearing to speak things doubtful, or too high for him.
This would have cut off all abuses in Doctrine and Religion by · mens own principles.

Secondly, the axioms, invention, and heads of Faith and Religion, contained in plain testimonies of Scripture in the Apoof folical Creed, the Decalogue or ten Commandments, the Lords
Prayer, which we ought to make the rule and fquare of all Interpretation, Doctrine and Exhortation; yea, of all Quefions, and Disputations in matters of salvation, holding every thing for true which agreeth to this; and all that for salse which differeth from it. Rom. 12.6. Let us prophelie according to the pro-* portion of faith. Both senses and expositions aforegoing, as they are godly and true; so yet most of our new Writers, Calvin, Beza, Paraus, Faius, Gualter, &c. and Tertullian, do like the lat-' ter as fitteft, both because the former, of not exceeding the mea-' fure of our knowledge and gifts, was faid in the third Ver, and beginning of the fixth, it had been an idle repetition to fay the fame again: also for that a measure is one thing, and a prooportion is another thing, between two things compared together; whereas a measure is of one and the same thing measured. Then they are deceived which interpret this proportion of faith, either of the merit of faith, as Haymo; or, after the capacity of faith, as if every man should receive so much grace ' as the receiver hath faith, as Theophylact; or of reasoning against faith, as Bellarmine; or of a rule with our writing, according to which all Scriptures should be tryed, as the Rhemists note; whereas, the Scriptures themselves are the Canon and rule of

'Mo frand by faith] To be engraffed into or to have place in the true Olive (the body and Church of Christ) by means of faith knitting us to Chrift, the root of the Olive, the head of his body. Rom. 1 1.20. Thou ftandest by faith. That this is the mean-'ing, appeareth by the opposition between faith and unbelief; which as it is laid down for the proper cause of the destru-'ction of the Jews which are broken off : so is faith men-' tioned as the true cause of the free incision and graffing in of the Gentiles. Also standing is expounded by graffing, Rom. 11. 17. Laftly, being compared with other Scriptures, ' which teach us to be made the Sons of God by faith, Joh. 1. 12. 6 & Gal. 3. 24, 26. Eph. 1. 5, 8. and all those places which affirm our Justification to be by faith, or that we live by faith, or have Christ dwelling in our hearts by faith, &c. These and fuch like, do teach, that we have no place in Gods Church (which is the true Olive) no part in Christ or his merits, but through faith. Every one is made a Christian by such faith as he hath: The hypocrite by profession of faith in the mouth, true Christians by the gift of a lively faith in the heart. Therefore Papifts err which affirm of Baptilin, that it (before and without faith) by the very Word, faid or uttered, and washing done, regenerateth, engraffeth into Christ, justifieth, &c. Of which graces, Baptism is but an external pledge, and an effectual feal to refemble and ratific them to us; and to testifie our engraffing into Christ Jesus, that all his gifts may be faft] Sailing was now dangerous, because the Fast was now arready pass, Act. 29. 9. There is no question but that the Fast which is here said to be newly pass, was the great Anniversary Fast, the dayof Expiation. The description of which we have Isa. 38. under the name of a sabbath, vers. 13. Now the precise time of this Sabbatick Fast is (Levit. 16. 29.) on the tenth day of the seventh month, called Tigri, which falls on the same time almost with our September, the first day of Tizri on the seventh of that, and so the tenth of Tigri on the sixteenth of September, i. e. thirteen days before our Michaelmas; or, as Scaliger fets it, on the twentieth of that month. This being thus observed, the reason of the Apostles observation, that sailing was now become dange roous, because the Fast was past, will be easily cleared, it being al one as if he had faid, because it was past the twentieth of September, it being observed by all Sailers, that for some weeks before and after Michaelmas, there are on the Sea sudden and frequen florms, which we now call Michaelmas flaws, which must needs make failing dangerous, as the experiment proved, v. 14. '3. Abstinence from all manner of meat or sustenance for maony days together, without being any whit hungry. Mat 4.1. In He fasted forty days and forty nights: Thus Moses sasted, and Elisa. This is miraculous fasting, which served the more to commend the Doctrine of the Law and Gospel, to shew it to be no vulgar thing, but given of God. The apish imitation of this fast by the Papifts, is ridiculous and joyned with gross superfition, in as much as they forbear flesh in Lent, as a work of Religion and falvation; contrary to the Scriptures, which teach, that means defile not a man.

Or thus : Fasting is taken either Properly, or Figuraivelv.

Properly, either Common or Religious.

Common, being either Ordinary, or Extraordinary.

Ordinary, through the want of food, 2 Cor. 11. 27.

Extraordinary, which cometh of worldly grief, occasioned through some one or other great trouble or judgment, either past, prefent or to come.

Past, 1 Sam. 13. 13. Prefent, 2 Sam. 12. 16.

To come, or threatned, 1 King. 21. 7.

Religious, being either Sincere or Hypocritical.

Sincere, which is the affliction of the body, or abstinence from food, proceeding from a broken and contrite heart, grieving at fins committed against God, and earnestly calling upon him for the forgiveness thereof, and removal of his judgments due thereunto; which is either miraculous and impossible, or natural and possible. Miraculous, as Exod. 34. 28. which unto humane nature, without the especial help of God, is wholly impossible.

Natural, which for a time may be endured; which is either more tolerable, namely, when not fo much as appetite, defireth but so much only of meat and drink is taken as may preserve nature, Luk. 2. 37. or less tolerable, which by the course of nature could not be long endured, as that of I Sam. 14. 28.

Hypocritical, when either without respect to any occasion of Fasting, set times, weekly, monthly, or quarterly, are appointed to fast, Luke 18. 12. or, when men place Religion and holiness therein, making the very outward act of Fasting a part of Gods worship, whereby to merit at his hands, Isa. 58. 3. or when men fast to be seen of men, Mat. 6. 16. or when men (making difference between meats for conscience sake) abstain rom one kind, and glut themselves with another, and yet count this a fast, I Tim. 4. 2. or when men fast, but in the mean time do not abstain from fin, Isa. 58. 4. or, when they fast not unto God. Zech. 7. 5.

Figuratively, 1. For abstinence from fin, as coverousness, oppression, &c.

2. Repentance, or contrition, as is implied, Lev. 23.29 where to afflict the foul, fignifieth as well their outward act of Faiting, as their inward contrition.

2. All fuch croffes and troubles as the godly do here undergo, Mat. 9. 19.

Or thus: There is a Physical, Politick, Inforced, Moral, Spiritual, Extraordinary, Hypocritical, Superfittious, Heretical, and Religious faft. Of which fee Dr. Gouge his whole Armour of God, on Eph. 6. 18. Sect. 100. pag. 218. When the mighty are overthrown in battle, 1 Sam. 21. 13. 2 Sam. 1. 12, 17. Babing his fathers name written in their foresheads? Rev. 14. 1. The mark on their foreheads, the name of God, not mentioned chap. 7. is here expressed; implying, that they did now in a more open and publick manner profess themselves his true servants, and were as manifestly known so to be, as if it had been written on their foreheads, alluding withal to fuch marks as fervants used to have. See ch. 13.16,17. It is called The name of his God. See ch.3.12. Annat.

As the Servants of Antichrift are not ashamed openly to bear his mark, and to profess his Religion, so these are not ashamed of the holy Religion and worship of God, but do openly profess it before men. There are many time-fervers that will fay, they keep their conscience to God, when as outwardly they do joyn with false worship. But is it tolerable that the servants of God should be more ashamed of his name, then the servants of Antichrist are ashamed of his? Shall God have less honour then the Devil?

See Prov. 27. 21. & Pfal. 66. 10. fiftieth] Tar, Lev. 25. 10, 11. 2 King. 15. 23, 27. jrig.] The fruit which groweth on the Fig-tree, Ifa. 34. 4. Cant. 2. 13. Nah. 3. 12. Jam. 3. 12. Being good, both for food, 1 Sam. 25. 18. & 30. 12. and medicine, 2 King. 20. 7. Ifa. 38.21. Under the type of good and bad figs, the reftauration of them that were in captivity, and the defolation of Zedekjah and the reft, was foreshewed, Jer. 24-5, 8.

Figetree Hereof there is often mention made in Scripture. It hath a milky or fat oily humour, is very fruitful, bearing three or four times a year. Is excellent for nourishment as begetting strength and vigour, for which cause before Pyth agoras's time the Wrestlers fed thereon. The wood of the Egyptian Fig-tree being put in water straight-way finketh, but once wet, swimmeth on the top. It becometh barren both through the defect of the forementioned humour, which the Husband-man helpeth by dung and fweet-water; and through the abundance thereof which is holpen by letting out fo much as is superfluous. The Indian Fig. tree hath large leaves, quickly groweth up, from whence a glutinous firing iffuing and touching the ground, taketh root and groweth up, so that in a short time it becometh a grove or wood, under the shadow whereof, Shepheards and Travellers may repose themselves. There are some wild fig-trees which never bear, which being planted near the bearing fig-trees, that the wind may pass through those to these, they become the more fruitful. of a tender nature, and cannot well endure the cold. It's faid hereof, that if a fierce Bull be tyed hereunto, straightway he becometh gentle. It's many ways medicinable. See 2 King. 20. 7. Cakes were wont to be made of figs, 1 Sam. 30. 12. 1 Chr. 12.40. Some are good, some naught, Jer. 24.2. It casteth its untimely fruit, Rev. 6. 13. filth ] Ifa. 4. 4. Heb. ordure, or excrement. The word imports all such filth or excrement as comes forth from the body, either upward, as ch. 28. 5. 2 Pet. 2. 22. or downward, as Deut. 23. 14. Ezek. 4. 12. But is used more generally, for any exceeding foul or filthy thing, as of such garments, Zech. 3. 3, 4. And for fin and wickedness, spiritual filth, shewing how loathsome and abominable fin is in Gods fight, Ezek. 24. 6. Mat. 15. 18. 20. 2 Cor. 7. 1. So it is here taken, & Prov. 30. 12. Annot.

Cor. 4. 13. We are made as the filth of the world, the vileft. Dr. Hammond. The word were figure in figure in the properly the filth or dirt craped off mens spoes, or from the pavement of the ground. The word fignifies the Dung-cart that goes through the City, into which every one brings his filth, and casts it in. Every one had some filth to cast upon Paul, and the rest of the Apostles. But in Budeus his opinion, the Apostle had allusion unto the expiations in use among the Heathers in time of any Pesti-lence, or contagious infection; for the removal of such Difeases, they then facrificed certain men unto their Gods, which men they termed na 3n' grann. As if the Apolite had said, we are as depictable and as odious in the fight of the people, as much loaded with the revilings and curfings of the multitude, as those condemned persons who were offered by the way of publick expiation. Leigh. Cr. Sac. For this lustration, the vilest persons were wont to be used, fordid, refuse people, the nastiest persons in the City. Dr. Ham. Annot. a. See Off-cowing.

Coals of fire Divine plague or Judgment hanging over the malicious: Thus the Scripture phrase figuifies in Psal. 18.
13. & 120. 4. the wrath of God. And that it ought thus to be expounded, appeareth further comparing Rom. 12.20. with Prov. 25. 22. Thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head, and God will reward thee; that is, God shall mounth thine enemy, and reward thee. Some understand this heaping of coals, of kind-'ling upon our enemies, fervent and burning charity by our beneficence, which fo pricketh his conscience, that he shall be forced to love us. Others thus, that we by our kindness and benefits shall either so mollifie him, as that he will repent and embrace us friendly, shaking out of his heart cankered malice, as one would fhake hot coals from his head: Or else if he continue 'fill in his malice, he shall be set on fire with the testimony of his conscience, and so to be consumed with the flame of Gods wrath; and this indeed is both a fit and a more full fense.

'firmament' The whole cope of Heaven, (or the orbs of the heavens) with the air; which because it is spread over the earth, as Silver and Gold being beaten with hammers, is spread ' into sheets, or plates and leaves : Hence it is called of the Hebrews by a word which figuifies firm expansion or out-spreading; and being fast and firm (though it be soft and liquid.) Thence it is of Latines, and of us in English called a Firmament, Pfal. 19.1. Also in Gen. 1.6. under [Firmament] Mose comprehenderh the three heavens, whereof Scripture makes mention. First, the Air, with the three Regions which be next us. Secondly, the Sky or Firmament, where the Stars be fixed. And thirdly, the Heaven of the blessed: And togther therewith, were made the Angels, the inhabitants of those higheft heavens, by the name whereof, the holy Angels be fometimes named, Job 15. 15. and being creatures, and made within the fix days, and yet created neither the day before, nor any of the other days following, they must be created the fecond, when the highest heaven their habitation was framed

For by Job 38 4. they appear to be made before the third day, when earth was made dry land.

Note further, that highes speech of the Firmament is threefold, or of three falhions: sometimes the whole compass and fpace above us, with all the bodies in it, be so called, as Gen. 1. 8. Secondly, it fignifies the fuperiour part, that wherein the flars be fixed, Gen. 1. 14. Thirdly, the inferior part alone, namely the middle Region of the air, where the clouds be, as Gen. 1. 6. The reason is, because every part of the Firmament is no less the Firmament than the whole out-stretched body of the heavens. Firmament] A thing foread abroad, according to the Hebrew, or fail thing, according to the Greek, for the heavens are firetched out as a curtain, and spread out as a tent to dwell in, Pfal. 104. 2. Ifa. 40. 22. The Skies are also firm and faft, and as a molten looking glass, 100 37. 18. Prov. 8. 28. These tell Gods glory, and shew his handy - work, Pfal. 19. 2. for in the heavens he buildeth his stories ( or fpheres) Amos 9. 6. and plankereth his lofts in the waters, Pfal. 104-3. and ftretcheth out the North over the empty place, Job 26. 7. And in Visions of Gods glory the firmament is mentioned. Ezek. 1.& 10. And as his power is shewed in making the earth, fo is his prudency in stretching out the heavens, Jer. 10. 12. Pfal. 136.5. There's an upper firmament, where the Sun, Moon, and Stars are fet, Gen. 1. 16, 17. and a lower, which is the air, wherein Winds, Clouds, and Fowls do fly. Aynsworth on firmament Gen. 1.6. Heb. expansion, marg. dritte Our rasters of sirre, Cant. 1.17. The word for rasters may express galieries, or males, or cloylters, or roofs. It fignifies also gutters or watring troughs used by the Eastern Shepherds.

Gen.30.38.41. (Exod.2.16.) Annot. This last may also have use here, to fignifie the Pipes and Conduits of Gods graces, through which the waters of his Spirit are conveyed into their hearts; but because she spake of houses, this may rather be understood of galleries, fignifying the means of conversing with Christ, in the communion of his graces. They are named of running, because they run along by the house-

They may be applyed both to the persons of men, and to the Doctrines wherewith the Church is builded on the foundation Christ, 1 Cor. 3.9, 10, 11, 12. all which set forth by these similitudes are firong and firm, and of sweet odour unto the comfort of the Saints and glory of Christ. So the holy persons and graces wherewith the Church should be adorned are by the Prophets likened to goodly Trees, Ifa. 41. 19. & 55.13. & 60.13. Anfw.

ffir=tree Taken properly, figuratively.

Properly, for a tree so ramed, which is great, high and long, very straight, and plain beneath; without joynts, and green both in Summer and Winter; Hol. 14-8. from out of the bark whereof is gathered a fair liquid Rozen, and dry white Gum, taken by the common fort for Frankincense. It commonly groweth upon Mountains, as on Mount Lebanus, 2 King. 19.23. (Ra. 37.34. and Cenir, Ezek. 27.5. The fruit is like to the Pine-apple, goodly in shew, but worth nothing. The Boards thereof used for Ships, as the trees for Masts, Ezek. 27. 5. Thereon the Stork buildeth her neft, Pfal. 104.17.

Figuratively, 1. For the common people, Zech. 11.2.

2. Great ones, Isa.60.13.

4First | That which is afore other, in respect of time: And then it is a word of order, and hath reference to second, third, fourth, &c. Mat. 10.1. The first is Simon called Peter; that is, he was first called to be an Apostle, 1 Cor. 15. 47. The first man is of the earth, the second man, &c. 1 Cor. 12.28.

Note: How substantially doth this prove the power of Peter in power and dignity over his fellow Apostle: By this reafon, James must be Primate, because he is named first, Gal.

2. That which is chief or more excellent, Rom. 2. 2. The word which is here translated chiefly, in the Original it fignifies First. And so it is also in Luk. 19.47. Act. 28.2. where the First of the Texs and of the people, is put for the chief of the Jews and of the people. So Luk. 15.22. Here it is a word of dignity and honor, Rom. 1.2. Dan. 5.2,3.

43. The greatest, and then it is a word of power and authority. Rev. 1.5. The first-begotten of the dead, and that Prince of the Kings of the earth.

A thing may be faid to be first,

1. In number, Gen. 8.5,13. 2. In order, Mat. 28. I.

3. In dignity, Dan.6.2.

4. By creation, 1 Cor. 15.47.

. By generation, Gen.4.9.3.

6. Birth, Luk.2.7.

7. In time, Heb.9.1.

"first Abam That man named Adam, first of that name, and first in respect of the second Adam (having brought in fin and death) as the fecond Adam fignifies Christ, who destroyed these works of the first Adam, and became Author of righteousness and life to his members. r Cor. 15.45. Amongst the Jews the first-born had three Prerogatives: First, a double portion of goods, Deut.21.17. Secondly, the government or chiefty over Brethren, 2 Chr. 21.3. Thirdly, the Priefthood; for the first-born usually ministred to God, and after those, the tribe of Levi ministred in their stead, Num. 8. 14, 15, 16,17. Mal. 2. 5, 6, 7. & 3. 2. Numb. 3. 40, 41, 45. & 8. 13. This honour is peculiar unto Christ, who is said to be first-born of every Creature, and the first-born among the dead, that in all things he might have the preheminence. Col. 1. 15. 18. 'Hirti-bozn, or firit begotten The first Male-child that was born to a man, though there were none other born after it. Gen. 49. 3. Reuben my first-born. Deut. 21. 17. 2 Chr. 21. 2, 3, 4. Mat. 1. 25. Amongst the Jews, the first-born had a twofold Prerogative above his brethren: One was a double portion in his Fathers substance; the other was preheminence and rule his Fathers substance; the other was preheminence and rule over his brethren. The Apostle alluding to this custom of the Jews, called Christ the first-begotten of all creatures, Col. 1. 15. and first-begotten of the diad, ver. 28. because he was begotten (as he was the Son of God) before things were created; and being the chief Heir of the World, he had chief rule amongst all his brethren; which being once dead, shall after rise to eternal - First boan | The first-born of every creature, (or, the whole creation) Col. 1.15. The word @exlorox@, befide the ordinary notion of first-born (which cannot so well here refer to Christs eternal generation, because of that which is added to it, the first born of every creature, which only gives him a precedence before all other creatures, and doth not attribute eternity to him) is used sometimes for a Lord, or person in power, who hath the priviledge of the first-born, dominion over all his Brethren; and according to this notion it is used commonly in Scripture for a Prince, or principal person. See Psal. 68. 27. Job 18. 12. And thus may it fitly be a title of christ incarnate, in respect of his power over his Church, the Key of the house of David laid upon him. But it is possible it may peculiarly refer to his resurrection, in which he was the first-born from the dead, vers. 18. the first which from the grave was raifed and exalted to heaven; and being so risen, all power was given unto him in heaven and in earth. Dr. Ham. An-Ēot. ₫.

The first-born had not only the priviledge of the Priefthood before the Law, but always fince the D'U E, the double portion, Siπλη τιμή, the portion not only of possessions, but of dignity and honour above the rest of the Brethren. And proportionably the Apostles which were either fimply the first converted to the Faith of Christ, or else preferred before others, as Judah to the primogeniture of dignity, and Levi in respect of the Priesthood are called here the first-born, and the Church first founded in them, and planted by them, is here called the Church of the first-born, the Apostolical Church. I Cor. 15.20. The first fruits of them that sleep. Also as in order of time, the first fruits under the Law were reaped and cut down before the Crop; so the Resurrection of Christ shall go before, and by the force thereof, the rifing of Believers again shall follow at the last Judgment: Unbelievers rise again, not by vertue of Christ the Mediator, with whom they have no communion; but by the force of Gods curse denounced against Adam, Gen. 2. Thou shalt die the death. The death here threatened, being principally that which is eternal, the wicked by a general power of God must rise again to suffer as their sin de-(erverh.

Stay me with flaggons; that is the plentiful comforts of the Word, and the rich Graces of the Spirit, poured into my heart for my strengthening.

fiangons | Stay me with flaggons, Cant. 2. 5. The Church in her foul-fickness, speaketh to her friends (the Ministers of Christ and other Christians) that they with the comfortable Doctrines and promifes of the Gospel applied unto her conscience, would furtain, firengthen, flay, and uphold her ready to fall as into a fwoon through trouble of minde, because of her own infirmities, and want of feeling of Christ's grace and bleffing: See 2 Chron. 32.6, 7, 8. Act. 14.21, 22. & 18. 23. Rom. I. 11. Flag-gons are named for the wine, in them (the wine of grace and consolation, which God's people have distributed among them, in the spiritual Banquet of the Gospel) as the cup for the Wine therein, Luk. 22. 20. Aynfw.

Or syntments, or flowers, it is a general word for all delights, which the Church here calleth either upon Christ, or his Ministers to bring her speedily in the cordial promises and resocillations of the Gospel, which may support and comfort her in his absence.

Luk. 3.6. 1 Pet. 2. 24. & Mat. 24.22. And elsewhere often is Flesh put to tignifie the whole humane nature, Rom. 1.3. & 8.5. as it is simply considered, without finful corruption: but together with all other properties and infirmities of a

'7. The quality of corruption, which is not finful, but the effect of fin, accompanying our bodies in this life, 1 Cor. 15.50. Flesh and blood shall not inherit eternal life, neither corruption inherit incorruption; that is to fay, our corruptible bodies cannot come to heaven. That which shall inherit heaven must be as 'incorrupt flesh, a body without corruption.

68. What thing foever belongs to this present life. 1 Cor. 7 18. Such shall have trouble in the flish: Thus Beza expoundeth it. Alfo, it fignifies the estate of this present life, Phil. 1. 24. To abide in the flesh is more needful for you, Gal. 4. 14.

9. Whatsoever is in man reputed most excellent and glorious without the Grace of Christ; as nobility, birth, wisdom, wit, understanding and reason. Matth. 16. 17. Flesh and blood hath onot revealed this unto thee. Joh. 1. 13. 14. Born not of flesh, and blood, Joh. 3. Phil. 3.

10. All that in Religion which is outward, and to be feen with the eye, as moral works or ceremonies. Rom. 4. I. What hath · Abraham gotten according to the fleh? This word [Flesh] in the fecond verse, is expounded to be the works of Abraham, which edid not justifie him before God. Thus Eiza and Piscator inter-pret the place. See Gal. 6. 12. & 3. 3. where Flesh fignifies the Ceremonies of Mases Law; and whatsoever it is which is without is noted by this word. Phil. 3. 3. Unbelief, and all motions of the foul which be evil, all wicked defires, all our words and works done without grace, how good, holy, or spiritual soever they feem to be, and thew for; also our learning, Doctrine, Preaching, Prayers, and what else soever cometh not of the Spirit of Christ, is called flesh in the phrase of Scripture. '11. The whole nature of man, as it cometh into the world, corrupt and vile, infected by fin; or that part of man which is unregenerate. Joh. 3. 6. That which is born of the flesh, is flesh. *Rom. 7. 5. When me were in the flesh. Rom. 8. 8. They that are in the flesh. Gal. 5. 13. that is, in the corruption of finful nature and in all other places, where the word Flesh is applied to men unregenerate, it fignifies the whole corruption and naughtiness of our nature, raging and reigning both in the reason and will; but in those places of Scripture, where Flesh is attributed to new born persons, and is set against the Spirit, as in Gal. 5. 17, 19, 24. Rom. 7. 18, 25. In all these (I say) and such like Texts, the word Flesh fignifies the remainder of natural corruption, even so much of that vicious quality of sin, as still sticketh behind in regenerate persons, and is unmortified. The reason and cause why fin is noted out by the name of Flesh, it is because through the Flesh (to wit, our seed) or through carnal generation, fin is conveyed into the whole man, foul and body. Also, for that, the flesh or body is the instrument to execute the lusts of our natural concupiscence, Rom. 6.13. Thus Piscator and Peof our natural concupricates, normally a line reason, to wir, be-ter Martyr do judge. Illyricus adds another reason, to wir, be-cause man, as he is sinful, tends wholly unto carnal things. By this we see how such are deceived, who will have only the inferiour part of the foul (as will and affections) meant by Flesh.

12. Common or ordinary course of nature. Gal.4.29. He that " was born after the flesh. Thus was ismael born of Agar, after the manner of other men. 13. The inferiour or unreasonable part of the soul, as it is corrupt by fin, to wit, the finful will and affections, Eph. 2. 3. In fulfilling the will of the flesh; that is, the defires of our corrupt

Thus Mr. Tindal and the Bible-note expound this place. Augultine and Chrisoftome expound it of understanding the words carnally, and not spiritually. The former is the better. Which sense also Augustine alloweth: But Mr. Beza understandeth Flesh generally of all slesh, or corporeal meat, and not specially of Christ his stesh, because he saith not my flesh, but flesh indefinitely.

fleth | For that it was weak through the flesh, Rom. 8.3. The in this place cannot so fitly be said to fignific the state and condition of men under the Law, (mentioned ch.7.5.) but that which is the the means, by which occasionally (as the And notes) the Law became so weak and unable to restrain men, viz. the carnal or flefhly appetite, which is contrary to the propojals and preferiptions of the Law. The carnality of mens hearts was too strong for the Mosaical Law to do any good upon them. And so the Law was weak, not absolutely, but through the flesh (i.e.) The Mosaical dispensation by the promise, and terrors which it proposed, was not able to subdue carnal affections, to mortific lusts, to bring men to inward purity, which to the flesh was more ingrateful, then that temporal promises should perswade any man to undertake it, when there were not temporal punishments to drive them to it, as in case of concupiscence opposed to that inward purity, there were not. And so it was not possible for the Law to bring them to any good: Christs resonation was necessary thus to call carnal sinners to repentance. Dr. Hammond. Annot. a.

Gnorlah fignifieth a superfluity and stoppage, that hindereth the due effect and operating of a thing; and the Greek augo Busia ( which the Apostle useth in Rom. 2. 25.) is in special that superfluity, which is on the top of mans flesh, to wit, on the member of generation : the forefkin that covereth the fecret part, which God here commandeth to be cut quite off, as a fign of mortification, and regeneration of nature. The same word is applied figuratively to other parts; and spiritually all finis fignified by this superfluous foreskin, Jam. 1. 21. Aynfw. Deut. 10. inguined by this inpermised for the fort-skin of your heart. This the Gr. translateth hardness of heart. The Chald. foolishness (or grosness) of the heart. forget] To we forgets of lies, Job 13. 4. So it is translated, but the word 750, never figurities so, but WIT, is used for to invent lies, as a Work-man frames a building. The word is used but twice more in Scripture, and it fignifies fewing, whereby one piece of cloth is sewed to another, as Ch. 14. 17. Some take it as an accusation of his friends, that they had as it were simed one lie to another to difgrace him, that is, had multiplyed many lies against him. But it rather intimates fastening lies upon God, or him, as one piece of cloth is fastened upon another; as it should be translated, Pial. 119. 69. The proud have sixed or fastened a 19e upon me. He accuseth his friends that they did go about to wrong God and him, by speaking falsly of both.

" To forget | To let things flip out of minde. This is the general fignification.

2. To let God, his Word, and Benefits flip out of mind, where of followeth disobedience, neglect of God's Worship, and wicked contempt of God, as a fruit and consequent of such forgetfulness. Judg. 3.7. They did mickedly, and forgot the Lord, Pial. 78.42. Thus men forget God; the wicked wholly, the godly in part.

3. To cast off one, to cease to love, care, and provide for him. Pfal. 77.9. Hath God forgotten to be merciful? Ifa. 49. 15, 16. Thus God forgets the wicked; and the godly do fometime think that they are thus forgotten, yet are not fo. Pfal. 137. 5. If I forget thee, (O Jerusalem) that is, if I cease to love

4. To defer or put off the punishment of the wicked; and to remove punishment from the godly. Pfal. 74. 23. Forget not the voice of the enemy. Amos 8. 7. I will not for ever forget any of their work; that is, I will not alway defer to punish them, though it may seem I have forgotten, Jer. 32.

foundation] Ezr.3.6. The foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not yet laid, Heb. the Temple of the Lord was not yet founded, marg. Job 38. 6. Heb. fockets, marg.

Laying up in flore for themselves a good foundation, I Tim. 6. 19. Treasure, or pledge, bill, or bond, The word Septent Coming from Tingu, to lay up, as Inouveds doth, it may possibly fignifie no more than a treasure, somewhat laid up. But it may signifie in the same latitude, that the Heb. 17-y (which is answerable to it) doth, (i. e.) not only a foundation, but as the Rabins use the word, a bill of contract, a bond or obligation that he receives that lends out any thing, upon which he may found a confidence of having it returned to him again. To this perhaps it may be appliable that the Heb. 70%, which is rendred θεμέλι© fometimes, is also rendred cur Snun, Isa. 30. 1. A compact. And then it will have this weight here, that the Almes-giver by his liberality, war Lord Jesus Chrift, Rom. 5. 1. for the work of righteousness receives and lays up an obligation from God that this mercy of his E e 2 shall be remarded. Hereunto that of Prov. 19.7. is very agreeable, | ly, as that which is sealed is not communicated with others, nor and in this sense the word is again found, 2 Tim. 2. 19. where Gods θεμέλι is said to have a seal affixed to it, which seems to refer to a Bill or Bond, and because those seals had their inscriptions on both fides, agreeing to the conditions of the two persons contracting, accordingly it is here added, first on Goa's patt, The Lord knoweth them that are his; (i. e.) God will be faithful and constant in owning thosethat are his Servants. Then secondly on mans part. Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity. So that Gods θεμέλι there, may very well fignifie his xespo yeapov bill or bond (and so here the word may fignifie alfo) which being left with any man, as a means to secure him, a depositum, a maga Shun, a pledge or pawn, may well be fliled Beuerio, from Tinu, pono, somewhat delivered him for his fecurity.
